RAMONA BORDEN HAPPY THAT SHE IS WITH HER MOTHER

NEW YORK, May 2.—Gail Borden, the famous condensed milk millionaire, whose daughter, Ramona, aged seventeen, ran away from a sanitarium at Pompton, N. J., and gave her father a wild chase before she was found in Boston, said that the girl's return would not bring about a reconciliation between him and his wife, from whom he has been estranged for several years. "Ramona is a capricious girl, young and vivacious," he said. "She is headstrong and hard to bring up. I have tried many ways to give her an education. Perhaps she has had too much money. The fact that she has become united with her mother is no reason why I should again live with my wife." Ramona had another side to tell. "I wanted a home," she said. "A girl at my age does not want to be sent from schools to sanitariums and then back to schools. I had been bullied around quite enough by my father, and I made up my mind to settle down somewhere like other girls. I ran away so that I could join my mother. I wrote to her and sent her messages. She came east from Los Angeles, Cal., at once, and I'm happy that I am with her."

TEWKSBURY

A grass fire was discovered yesterday morning on land owned by Mrs. A. L. King. It took the combined efforts of three men quite a few minutes to extinguish the blaze.

Mr. Edward Bailey, carrier on the rural free delivery route, who has been ill, expects to resume his duties in a few days.

Mrs. Alice King and daughter of Athol are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Buzzell King of North East.

Miss Mary Johnson of Salem, who has been visiting her aunt, Rev. Sarah Lyon, returned to her home Tuesday.

Miss Susie Whittemore, who has been in Manchester, N. H., where she was called upon the death of her brother, returned home Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard of Franconia, N. H., have been spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Alden Holmes.

Mr. and Mrs. Barnard of Chelsea spent the week end with Mrs. Mary Ruhl.

Mr. Ray Dinsmore has returned to his studies at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, after having spent a week at home with his mother, Mrs. William P. Dinsmore.

BOYS' CIRCUIS A SUCCESS

Large Audience Gathered in Vestry of Pawtucket Congregational Church Last Night

The members of the Pawtucketville Boys' club held their second annual circus last night, and again met with splendid success. The affair was held in the vestry of the Pawtucket Congregational church and was very largely attended, the spectators showing their deep appreciation of the many acts by their frequent applause.

The vestry was transformed into a veritable circus tent with a spacious stand surrounding the ring. The first number on the program consisted of a parade, which included wild animals of all descriptions, clowns and other freaks as are seen in a regular circus. This was followed by a number of pleasing acts by acrobats, bicycle riders, clowns and other circus performers.

Other interesting feats were the acrobatic work of the Bungalow Brothers, A. J. Wicks, physical director at the Y. M. C. A., and Charles Barton; the Pawtucketville Boys' club drill under the direction of Mr. Thomas W. McBurnett; and a demonstration of first aid to the injured by the following Scouts: First Class Scouts Harold Dodge, Clarence Bacon, B. De la Haye, John Buchanan, Chester Durant and Scoutmaster James Kibberd. The members of the Pawtucketville Boys' club drum corps are: Director, Mr. McCann; fifes, A. Grant and R. Chadwick; drums, W. Bartlett, F. Mulgrave, E. Nichols, D. Taylor, B. Kinghorn, and cymbals, George Taylor. The members of the clown band were: G. Taylor, A. Grant, T. Hoyle, P. McAdams, C. Curran, J. McKinley, C. Mathison, T. Taber, D. Taylor, R. Chadwick, H. Trevers, W. Bartlett and E. Nichols. The charioters were: J. Caburn, A. Grant, T. Hoyle and W. Bartlett. Charioteers, W. Sturtevant, J. Buckley, D. McKinley and E. McAdams. Wild animals, monkey, I. Chadwick; tiger, J. Buckley, and lion, A. Douglas. The elephant's insiders were: A. Farley and G. Frazier. The tumbler and acrobats were: G. Taylor, D. Taylor, W. Bartlett, A. Putnam, A. Farley, J. Mansfield, E. Nichols, D. Kinghorn, M. Padden, C. Mathison, B. Bridgford, J. Barry, C. Fling, A. Grant, W. Sturtevant, A. Spencer, E. Nichols, J. Howker, T. Taber, B. McAusland, E. Clark, E. McAdams and W. Book. The committee in charge was: G. B. Tanner, Ray McAusland, Alonzo Putnam and John J. Mowker.

The present officers of the Pawtucketville Boys' club are: President, Alonzo Putnam, Jr.; vice president, Charles Mathison; secretary, John Howker; treasurer, Jefferson Mansfield, and Ray McAusland, chairman of the social committee.

The managers of the show were Thomas B. Williams of the Y. M. C. A., and Scoutmaster James Kibberd of North Chelmsford.

NEW ENGLAND TEXTILE INDUSTRY

Bay State Maintains Lead—The Lowell Bleachery Company to Build $250,000 Factory

The Lowell Bleachery of this city has alone the figure reaches a total of definitely determined to build a $250,000 factory in St. Louis, Mo. The concern will build on the land purchased some time ago, and it is expected that work will be started on the factory in the very near future.

The Textile Industry

There is no doubt, says the Boston Herald, that the prosperity of the textile industry is a matter of tremendous moment to the country at large and to New England and Massachusetts in particular. The United States today is making more than one-fourth of the cotton cloth of the world, nearly one-fifth of the woolen cloth and more than one-fourth of the linen. The other branches of this great business are of hardly less importance.

Perhaps the most striking way to bring home the enormous scope of this one phase of manufacturing is to quote the truly stupendous amount of money invested—$1,841,242,131. That figure represents the capitalization in the United States, while in Massachusetts $17,000,000, hosiery and knit goods by

Scattered throughout the country are 3382 establishments devoted to textile manufacturing, and these give employment to an army of operatives numbering nearly a million. In wages more than $335,000,000 is paid annually, and the value of the product is fixed in excess of $1,600,000,000. Of raw materials the country consumes in cotton $241,600 bales annually and in the same period 519,000,000 pounds of wool.

Growth of Massachusetts

The remarkable growth of Massachusetts as a textile center is evidenced by the fact that the cotton mills employ more than 165,000 hands and the woolen mills more than 60,000. In all its branches the industry requires 150,000 operatives of all classes. Invested in the production of cotton goods in this state is a sum roughly estimated at $14,600,000, and in the production of woolen goods $14,000,000 more. Linen is represented by capital of more than $17,000,000, hosiery and knit goods by

MISS MADERO A BRIDE

Sister of Mexico's Slain President Weds

NEW YORK, May 2.—Sengrita Mercedes Madero, sister of the slain president of Mexico, brought to a happy climax a romance dating back to peaceful days in her native land when she was married to Senor Antonio G. Canizales. None but members of the Madero family, who are in New York, attended the ceremony. Senor Canizales, who is wealthy, was a member of the Mexican congress from Lower California when Madero was president. He is a member of an old Mexican family, his grandfather having been president of Mexico three times before the rise of Porfirio Diaz. At present he is living in exile. The romance had its beginning in the days before Madero took up his sword against President Porfirio Diaz. Senor Canizales and his family joined the Madero revolt, and not long after Madero was inaugurated president the betrothal of his sister to Canizales was announced.

Massachusetts Mills

In the manufacture of cotton goods alone New England's leading position has long been recognized. The name of New Bedford is sufficient guarantee for excellence in the fine goods field, while Fall River is no less important in the production of coarse goods. New England spindles number close to 16,000,000.

New Bedford alone has the capacity of producing each year 750,000,000 yards of the cotton cloth. In addition it also produces the finest yarns in the world. It is no exaggeration to say that this one city produces more than one-third of the cotton cloth of the world.

Of course, the greater part of the output of the New England mills does not go direct to the consumer, but is taken up by brokers and is turned over by them to converters and to jobbers. For handkerchiefs alone, millions of yards are used and another grade little known to the general public is the cloth used for architects' drawing. For the manufacture of this particular grade the city has the largest factory in the world.

Fall River's output is equally stupendous. There the mills turn out annually 1,200,000,000 yards of cloth, using for the purpose an amount of cotton in excess of 500,000 bales. For the running of the plants 350,000 tons of coal and 400,000 gallons of oil are demanded and the item of starch reaches something close to 4,000,000 pounds.

Nearly all the cloth is of coarse construction and 66 per cent of it is for printing purposes. Fall River's working army numbers 34,000 operatives, who are employed in 39 mills, with 4,000,000 spindles and 57,000 looms. The capital invested is more than $30,000,000.

Lowell and Lawrence are the great cotton manufacturing centers of Massachusetts. In the former city there are mills which maintain a working force of 14,000, and operate 1,000,000 spindles and 26,000 looms and are capitalized at $12,000,000.

Lawrence, which boasts of the largest single cotton mill in the world at the Everett mills, has an equal importance with her sister city. Lawrence mills represent an investment of $15,000,000, with 200,000 spindles, 11,000 looms and 16,000 operatives.

In New Hampshire, Manchester has gathered together the most notable group with 500,000 spindles, 25,000 looms, 18,000 operatives and a capitalization of $10,000,000. In Maine, Lewiston has mills with capital of $8,000,000, with 400,000 spindles, 20,000 looms and a working force of 3000 operatives.

TARIFF EFFECT

Domestic Mills Will Adapt Themselves to Styles More Rapidly Than Some Anticipate

A New York correspondent to the Boston Transcript, says that several experienced importers of cotton goods are not sanguine of making the large profits on foreign lines that others contemplate. They say that domestic mills will adapt themselves to styles much more readily than manufacturers now anticipate when they are pressed to meet even such foreign competition as the present underwear will furnish. Fully a dozen men employed by converting houses are now abroad looking into the possibilities of developing foreign sources of supply for fancy cotton goods. They anticipate that the tariff bill will make it possible for them to import much larger quantities at a profit.

So far as can be foreseen the men who make fancy clothes will feel the hardest competition. It will be possible for foreign manufacturers to confine styles if they receive 50-per-cent orders, and many already are willing to do so on the limited amount of business they still do here. The fancy-goods cloth, decorated with silk and generally of a madras character, are made abroad more cheaply than here. If any substantial part of the present production is withdrawn the trade will go to the Manchester firms that specialize in shirtwaists and in dress cottons of a similar character.

from 50 per cent. foreign to 50 per cent. domestic, has little expectation of doing more than a 35 per cent. import business, even under the drastic reductions now suggested. In connection with cloths which are fair to be popular, the head of this house recently said: "We can do better on everything under $1 at home." The style in this house is of the opinion that American-made cloths have a distinct character and will sell, because of it, against most of the foreign cloths obtainable.

We're Some Shoppers

American cotton cloths, colored or printed, went last year to about 70 countries and colonies to the extent of 11½ million dollars' value, the countries of destination including the Canary Islands, Liberia, Asiatic Russia, Paraguay, the French West Indies, Dutch Guiana, Hongkong, Turkey in Asia, New Zealand, Portuguese Africa, the Philippine Islands, the United Kingdom, France, Germany, and Belgium. American cotton machines, of which the exports last year were practically 10 million dollars' value, went to 50 different countries and colonies; over 1 million dollars' worth of them to Europe, the remainder being widely distributed, the points of destination including Madagascar, the Canary Islands, German territory in Africa, Senegal, Persia, Korea, Liberia, Egypt, Santo Domingo, Trinidad, and Malta, while typewriters went to 20 countries and each registers to sixty.

American manufacturers are now

finding markets in every country and colony of the world. More than one hundred countries, colonies, and dependencies are included in the list of world communities to which the products of the United States are distributed, and manufacturers go to practically all of them.

BLIND MAN SEEKS WIFE

Lynn Man Asks Police to Help Him

BOSTON, May 2.—"Please help me find my wife. I am almost blind and cannot live without her," said George Bell of Nelson street, Lynn, when he felt his way carefully into the Lynn police station yesterday.

Then Bell went on to explain that he had had trouble with his wife Sunday, and that she had left home, vowing that she would find some desirable quarters in which to live.

WIFE WON BY AD SUES

Says Husband Had Too Much Temperament

BOSTON, May 2.—Montgomery C. Gannon, manager of the Quibby Jewelry company, has been sued for divorce and also for separate support and his bank account attached by the wife whom he had married within a month after he advertised in a local paper for a home in a private family.

Mrs. Gannon was the divorced wife of George T. Lee, an East Boston blacksmith, by whom she had three sons. She was divorced in 1909.

In answer to his advertisement, Mr. Gannon states, he received the following answer: "I am sorry I have no stable or shed where you can keep your auto. I am a widow, 39 years old, living alone. If you care to call, telephone No. —. I will give you my name later."

It was love at first sight for him, he said, and after a trip to Portland where they were married in February, 1912, about a month after he took up his abode with her, they returned to this city to live.

Mrs. Lee represented herself to him, he said, as about 35 years of age. Later he claims he learned that she was 45 years of age.

Mrs. Gannon ascribes their difficulties as too much temperament on his part. She admits that he has some good qualities.

Line Up For the Bargain of My Career

I suppose nothing I ever offered to the people of Lowell did more to increase my business than my serge specials. As an extraordinary offering, which you must not expect me to be able at all times to duplicate, I place on sale for FRIDAY and SATURDAY, my famous summer suit of BLUE SERGE or BROWN serge, made to order, $10.00. Coats cut as long as you like; full concaved shoulders, or narrow, or medium shoulder as you dictate. Trousers full peg, half peg, or narrow, with plain bottom or permanent turnup, 2, 2 1-2 or 3 inch cuff; anything you want for the asking.

SKEPTICS TAKE NOTICE—You didn't used to think I could produce a good suit to order for $12.50. By the slow proof of four years of seeing with your eyes, hearing with your ears, now you know, now you believe, now you buy $12.50 suits and you are satisfied.

I WANT NEW CUSTOMERS

MY OLD CUSTOMERS know they can have the advantage of every special offer that I make. In extending myself by this special reduction to make new customers, I expect the old customers to avail themselves of this opportunity. But bring in the new customer. At these prices he knows my only profit is in making him a regular customer.

I ought to add thousands of new names to my list of customers during this special sale. With the increased cost of custom clothing under the union regulations now prevailing everywhere, you must know that I am exerting myself to make friends when I take orders at this price.

Buy one on my recommendation. The suit you order from me carries with it an iron-clad willingness to make you new garments if my help fall down on the fitting. I don't want my customers to wear a garment that doesn't send in their friends.

HALF CENTURY AT CAPITOL PLEAD FOR EXECUTION

Senate Employee Has Survived All Changes

WASHINGTON, May 2.—One employee of the senate at least has not been a victim of the change in administration and the chances are he will not be. He is Charles N. Richards, 72 years old, superintendent of the senate stationery room, who today starts on his 50th year of service. Mr. Richards began his service in the senate in the days when Charles Sumner and Henry Wilson were the senators from Massachusetts, his native state.

"This is the third time that the demagogue have had a chance to lop off my official head," said Mr. Richards today. "and they have not done it yet. What's the reason. Here are three: First, I am a stationery clerk; secondly, they want a sample of the old records to show just what a bad lot we were; and, thirdly, they seem to want me to stay, and I want to stay more than they want to have me. There is not a senator, member of the house or member of the supreme court who was in office when I began my work here."

Women Score the Law's Delay in Assault Case

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Women of Washington went to the District of Columbia court of appeals yesterday with a protest against the law's delay in the execution of Nathaniel Greene, a negro convicted and sentenced to be hanged for assaulting Mrs. Adelaide Grant.

The crime was committed last Christmas night, almost in the shadow of the dome of the National capitol. Greene was sentenced to die March 25, but has been reprieved twice, his counsel fighting for a new trial on the ground that the court erred in refusing to accept a plea of guilty which would have made the negro immune from the death penalty.

The women urged amendment of the statute which provides that unless the jury recommends capital punishment in assault cases the maximum penalty shall be 30 years in prison.

"Pending an amendment to the law," said the petitioners, "two women of Washington are dependent for protection upon the interpretation of the law by your honorable court and, while in no way attempting to influence your decision, we most ardently desire to protest against an extended hearing on technical grounds alone."

LONDON COURT CROWDED

Six Militants Arraigned Today

LONDON, May 2.—Bow street police court was crowded today when a band of six militant suffragettes who were arrested in the police raid on the headquarters of the Women's social and political union on Wednesday were brought up before the magistrate on a charge of conspiracy under the malicious damage to property act. Beside "General" Mrs. Flora Drummond, Miss Harriet R. Kerr, Miss Agnes Lakin, Miss Rachel Barrett, Miss Laura Lennox and Mrs. Beatrice Saunders were Miss Annie Kenney, arrested yesterday on her arrival from the continent, Clayton, the analytical chemist taken into custody last night at Richmond, and Sydney Drew, the printer of yesterday's issue of the Suffragette, who was arrested today.

Scarlet Fever Alarms Hericho

DUDLEY, May 2.—The Stevens school in Hericho has been fumigated by the local board of health because of the spread of scarlet fever in that section of the township and Merino village.

Four cases have been reported to Dr. H. Merrill of Dudley Hill, and their respective homes have been quarantined.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Frank W. Carleson and Miss Janet Peterson were married yesterday afternoon by Rev. August Manual at the Olney Street Baptist church. The wedding march and other selections were played by Miss Hannah Bengtson. The bride wore a gown of white silk with a long train and carried bride's roses, while the bridegroom, Miss Mary Peterson of Fitchburg, was gowned in blue charmeuse with a blue silk cap to match, and she carried white carnations. Stephen Foss of Leominster acted as best man. The couple left on an extended wedding trip and will reside at 19 Lundberg street.

LOCOMOTIVE ENGINEER HAS REMARKABLE EXPERIENCE

I have been thinking that word from me would benefit those who may be suffering as I was before I began taking your Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. I am a locomotive engineer, employed on the Tyrone & Clearfield Branch of the Pennsylvania railroad. Three years ago I was afflicted with kidney and bladder trouble so bad that I was compelled to lay off duty from my engine and was in the care of two doctors. However their medicine did not benefit me. One day I noticed your advertisement, to send name and address for a sample bottle of Swamp-Root. At this time my trouble had reached a serious stage. I sent for the sample bottle and in three days received a small bottle of Swamp-Root, which I took according to directions, and by the time I had taken the contents, I could pass water more freely. I was so pleased with my experiment that I sent my wife to the drug store of W. H. Millick, Phillipsburg, Pa., and secured a $1.00 bottle. I continued taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root until I was entirely cured. Now whenever I feel any pain or soreness after being exposed to bad weather or hard work, I take a dose or two of Swamp-Root. I cannot recommend this remedy too highly, especially to brother engineers who are more or less troubled with their kidneys (more than any other class of men).

Yours truly,

TO LEAD BIG STRIKE Head of Trainmen May be Called

NEW YORK, May 2.—W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, may be called upon to lead a strike that will tie up fifty-four eastern railroads, aided by A. B.

Garretson, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Conductors. These two men head the organizations, representing 100,000 men, which have demanded an increase of 15 per cent. in wages. The railroad managers have declined to grant the demands. In their answer the managers point out that to avert a strike in 1910 they granted the conductors and trainmen an increase in wages aggregating $30,000,000. The present increase of $17,000,000 demanded would be equivalent to placing on their properties a lien of $425,000,000 of 4 per cent. securities, the burden of which would fall upon the public. "We hold the public interest paramount," the statement declares. It is hoped the demands will be arbitrated, as was done in the case of the engineers and firemen.

DIES FROM WOUNDS Revere Girl Was Shot by Rejected Lover

BOSTON, May 2.—Without having regained consciousness since she had been shot down by David Piscopo, her former fiance, in a frenzy induced by disappointed love, Miss Tina De Francesco, 19 years old, died at 6.30 last evening at the Massachusetts General hospital.

Letters found beside Piscopo's body indicated that, while his engagement to Miss De Francesco had been broken, she still loved him and longed for the day when her father's objections to him might be overcome. An undated letter made it appear that they might have met on Thursday, although it was the belief of the girl's parents that they had not met since Miss De Francesco gave Piscopo back his engagement ring last July.

Piscopo had carefully planned the death of Miss De Francesco and himself. On Thursday he bargained for the purchase of the house next to that in which the De Francescos live, and thus got possession of its keys. After completing his work at the drug store on Thursday night he went to that house, it is supposed, and, resting on a mattress in the attic, waited for morning and the time, when Miss De Francesco would leave home for her work in a Boston department store. A few minutes previous to her start for work he descended to the rear window of the second story and when she stepped out of the door at the back of her home he fired both barrels of a shotgun at her head. He then killed himself.

POPE TO RESUME WORK Will Receive Cardinals Tomorrow

ROME, May 2.—Pope Pius, impatient to resume his work, has decided to begin his receptions of the cardinals tomorrow, commencing with Cardinal Delai, secretary of the consistorial congregation and Cardinal Pompili, vicar-general of Rome. The pope wishes to discuss with Cardinal Delai several questions concerning America. He has not seen Cardinal Pompili since he was appointed vicar general.

LOCAL POLES TO CELEBRATE

122nd Anniversary of the Drawing
Up of Poland's Constitution
Tomorrow

Tomorrow is the 122nd anniversary of the drawing up of Poland's constitution which is held in the same esteem by the Polish people as the Fourth of July is venerated by Americans. The Polish people of Lowell will hold the first celebration of this day that has ever been inaugurated here. All of Poland's children who are in business in Lowell will close up shop and the day will be devoted to a native celebration.

The greatest feature will be the "parade," which will be attended by the Polish young ladies of the city. There will be a large number of girls and young women at all of the downtown street corners and along the main thoroughfares of the city who will be armed with huge baskets of flowers. These flowers, it is planned, will be presented to those who pass the respective stations of the ladies, as a token that although the Polish people of Lowell are in America they have not forgotten their native land. The entire day and evening will be devoted to the celebration and a grand gala day is looked forward to by all.

Special efforts will be made tomorrow to raise money for the erection of a new hall for the Polish Falcon association. The present quarters have been outgrown in the past year and the members are very desirous of moving into more spacious apartments. The Falcon association is similar, in some respects, to the Y. M. C. and A. Reading and recreation rooms are provided for the members and a large gymnasium furnishes ample opportunity for the physical training of the members. It is expected that several hundreds of dollars will be raised tomorrow for the erection and maintenance of the proposed new hall.

WILL NOT ARBITRATE

Railroad Men Notify Trainmen

NEW YORK, May 2.—According to railroad representatives there will be no arbitration for the demand for more money made by 100,000 conductors and trainmen on railroads of the eastern district. Managers of the railroads so notified representatives of the conductors and trainmen at a joint meeting today. In declining to arbitrate the managers repeated their reasons for refusing to accede to the demand in the first place, namely, that the proposed increase would add $17,000,000 to their pay rolls, that liberal wages were already paid and that present freight rates would not permit the roads to advance wages further. The employees had asked the managers to arbitrate under the Erdmann act. Further conferences are expected. Representatives of the trainmen and conductors said they would frame a reply to the roads this afternoon, then return to their respective headquarters and call meetings preparatory to taking a strike vote.

HEN COOP RAIDERS

In Police Court—Held for High Court

Archibald Gagnon found out this morning that honesty is the best policy and that the way of the transgressor is indeed hard. This is the young man who was caught with a 17-year-old companion about a week ago with a meal bag full of hens, seven live ones and one with its neck run. At that time the owner of the hens was unknown but the fact that the two boys were found on the street at 5 o'clock in the morning with a bag full of squawking hens seemed sufficient evidence to the arresting officers that everything was not just as it should be.

The boys confessed to Supt. Welsh a short time after their arrest that they had made repeated raids on hen coops in the city and many of the mysterious losses of poultry were accounted for.

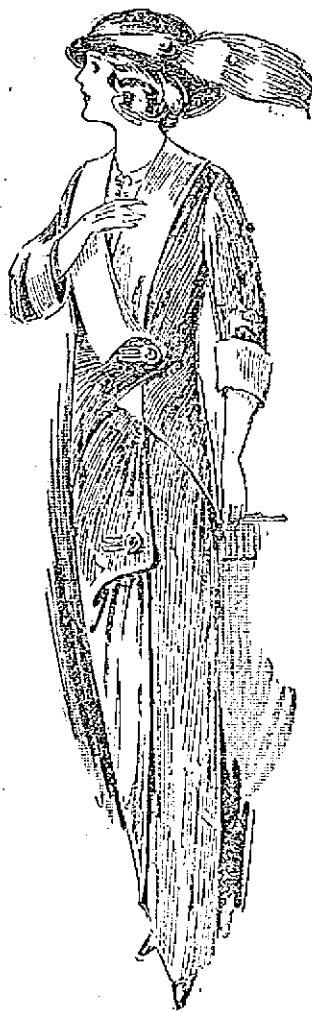

The story told the superintendent of police made him suspicious of the father of young Gagnon and a visit was made to his home and the premises searched. He was immediately arrested on the charge of having received stolen property. His trial came up before the court this morning and the several persons whose hens had been lifted by the defendant's son appeared to testify to the fact that their hens had been stolen. Mrs. Frank E.

Jewett, Harold Hornel and Augustus B. Swanson all told the court that they had lost hens from their respective coops. Supt. Welsh repeated the conversation that the boys had had with him relative to their activities in the thieving line and the case was conclusively proven against the defendant when Hyman Snyder took the witness stand. Snyder informed the court that the older Gagnon had offered to sell him five hens and that he had bought four of them from Gagnon's son. The court found Gagnon guilty but on account of his large family which depends upon him for support, he was given a suspended sentence of one year in jail. His son was held over for the next sitting of the superior court. Officers Sheridan and Keefe made a raid on the boarding and lodging house situated at 4 Spring street last Sunday morning about one o'clock and William Bielan and Josie Stempian were in court this morning to answer to a serious charge as the result of the court found them guilty and ordered them to be committed to the house of correction for six months. They appealed. It cost Tim O'Hara $10 to take a pint bottle of milk from a doorstep on Elliot street this morning. Joseph J. McDermott, the man who Inspector Walsh arrested yesterday for stealing three paint brushes from a building in Gorham street, was found guilty and fined $10. Berra A. Hutchinson was fined $6 for drunkenness and there was one first offender who received the customary $2 tax. There was only one release this morning by the probation officer.

PROGRESSIVE COMMITTEE MET

Chas. H. Hobson Chosen
Chairman—Committees
Were Appointed

The members of the Progressive committee held a meeting last night in Odd Fellows temple, Middlesex street, and elected a chairman, the choice of which fell upon Charles H. Hobson, who was the unanimous selection of the committee. Funds were collected to defray the expenses incidental to a brick campaign in this city, and the various ward chairmen made reports which were very interesting. It was announced that Progressive headquarters would be open shortly, and a number of committees were appointed.

When Mr. Hobson stood and announced that he would accept the chairmanship of the Progressive city committee, he was given an ovation, and asked for a few remarks, whereupon he spoke in part as follows:

Gentlemen: I cannot but appreciate the honor of having been chosen as your chairman, particularly as you know that I did not seek the office, and that I was unaware of your intention until after the meeting at which it occurred.

Even now, I feel that in the interest of the progressive party it would be the part of wisdom for me to decline to serve, as in the battle that is to come, it needs a man at the head who can give more time to the work than I shall be able to; but I assure you that my interest in the movement is such that I shall do all in my power to make it a success. We are broad enough to recognize progressive principles wherever they exist, and therefore we can commend the inaugural address of the democratic president, and hope for the consummation of our progressive measures that he may bring before congress.

A true republic or a true democracy must not only be ruled by the will of the people, but the people must be given every opportunity to bring into politics the human side of life, and we must all learn to have as our guiding motto: "The greatest good to the greatest number." Play the game for all it is worth, but play it fair.

Brooklyn, Nov. 1, 1912.—"At first little red spots were seen on my arms and body, which I noticed were getting larger every day. They itched me so much that I scratched myself until I bled. There were times when I stood up all night and scratched. I was troubled about three weeks, during which time I used — which seemed to do me no good whatever. Then, finally, I thought of trying Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment. As soon as I applied Resinol Ointment I felt much relief. After using it a few times I noticed the sore spots slowly fading away, and in about a month I was cured completely." (Signed) Adolph Scheen, 712 Shiphead avenue.

The soothing, healing balsams in Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap, penetrate every tiny pore of the skin, clearing it of all impurities, driving away eczema, rashes, ringworm, psoriasis, and other eruptions, and making pimples and blackheads impossible. Prescribed by physicians for children's rashes. For free samples write to Dept. 16-S, Resinol, Baltimore, Md. Practically every druggist sells Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap.

MR. CHARLES H. HOBSON

Annual Meeting of Southern Society

WASHINGTON, May 2.—President Wilson is expected to be one of the principal celebrants at the annual meeting of the Southern society here the latter part of this month. The tentative program announced today includes a large number of men of national prominence. Secretary Bryan, it was declared, will speak on "A tribute from the west to the south," while Senators Russell of Louisiana and Williams of Mississippi, together with Rep. Hobson of Alabama also will be among the speakers. President Wilson's native state, Virginia, is to be represented by Thomas Nelson Page, the author, who will deliver an address.

Insurance on Morgan Art
NEW YORK, May 2.—Contracts were drawn yesterday insuring the art collection of the late J. P. Morgan for $23,000,000. The premium will be $102,500. All the fire insurance companies authorized to do business in this state have taken their full quota of the insurance and about $1,000,000 has been placed abroad. The portion of the collection in the Metropolitan Museum carries $13,000,000 at a rate of 60 cents per $100, and the books and art objects in the Morgan library are insured for $3,000,000 at a rate of 15 cents per $100.

WATCHING MONTENEGRO

German Circles Reticent on Situation

BERLIN, May 2.—Political circles here are reticent today concerning the Montenegrin situation apparently awaiting developments as to the result of the council of ministers at Vienna. On the stock exchange, however, the activity of business indicated that the opinion prevailed there that the critical point of the situation had been passed. A stormy general rise took place in most securities and none of the uncertainty and depression of the preceding days was shown. Some specialties advanced from five to seven points. Can. Pac. 315, Russian banks 3, German banks 1, and the general list of securities from two to three.

STREET IMPROVEMENTS HOISTED TURKISH FLAG MISS RUTH B. LAW 500,000 PERMITS TO WED

Petitioners Were Given Hearings Last Night

On the petition of John W. Cole, et al., that Wedge street be extended from Highland avenue to Parker street, there appeared in favor, Mr. Cole, Frank E. Field, C. B. Chetwin, Martin Flaherty, Charles G. Martin, J. R. Hardy, W. S. Woodworth and Charles A. Morton. A Mr. Harrison was opposed.

Charles O'Neill petitioned that Anderson street be accepted and graded from Gorham street to the Boston & Maine line. In favor were Mr. O'Neill, Arthur McPherson, and Daniel O'Neill. Thomas Mahan, Patrick H. Lawley, Thomas Coleman appeared in favor of the petition to extend Porter street from High street to Pleasant street.

Commissioner Cummings spoke at length in favor, as did Frank McCarthy.

John Martel favored the petition that Middlesex park be accepted and that sidewalks of edgestones and cinders be laid on both sides.

On the petition of Esrel Greenberg and Samuel Cohen that Leverett street be accepted from Lincoln street to Washington street, and that a sidewalk of edgestones and cinders be laid on the north side, F. J. Van Greenberg appeared. W. S. Watson stated that he did not oppose, but he wished to know if he, owning property on the other side of the street, would have to contribute to the expense. He was told that he would not.

Fred Latendresse spoke in favor of the petition of Francis Latendresse that edgestones be laid in front of his premises at 20 Parkstreet street.

Thomas Caron appeared in favor of the petition that Phebe avenue be laid out and accepted, and that a sidewalk of edgestones and cinders be laid on both sides from Sarah avenue beyond number 20. Other petitioners who spoke were Arthur Gonest, Pierre N. Bernard and John Bolover.

Hector Dupuis favored the petition that Carolyn street be accepted from Ennell street to Ferry lane, and also that Bolover street be accepted from Carolyn street to West Sixth street.

A Pleasant Birthday Party
The home of Miss Anna Haggart on Stackpole street was the scene of a pleasant party last night when about fifty of her young friends gathered in honor of her 20th birthday. Games were played and a musical program was furnished.

During the evening Miss Haggart was presented a handsome locket and chain and a Chinese purse, the presentation speech being made by Rev. S. A. Jackson, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian church. Miss Haggart was the recipient of many other beautiful and costly gifts. The party broke up at a late hour, all wishing the hostess many happy returns of the day.

Essad Pasha Forms Government at Tyrana

LONDON, May 2.—A letter received here from Corfu states that Essad Pasha, the defender of Scutari, has formed a government at Tyrana, where he has proclaimed the autonomy of Albania under the suzerainty of Turkey and hoisted the Turkish flag instead of the Albanian flag. Tyrana is about 54 miles south of Scutari and within 12 miles of Croia, where the famous Albanian prince, Scanderbeg, resisted for so many years in the early part of the 15th century the flowing tide of the Moslem invasion of Europe.

Essad Pasha has also written a letter to the metropolitan of Durazzo, stating that the Albanian government recognizes the authority of the orthodox church, to which it will offer its protection.

The letter states that the Albanian government is in no way hostile to Greece, and that it recognizes the northern frontier of Epirus in accordance with the demands of the Greek government.

Have You Catarrh?

Unless Properly Treated With Hyomel This Disease May Become Serious

Catarrhal troubles are far more dangerous than they seem at first thought. If you have catarrh, usually indicated by sniffling, stopped-up head, droppings in throat, and morning chocking, there is an irritated state of the mucous membrane which affords an ideal lodgment and culture medium for disease germs, especially those of consumption.

Do not allow the dangerous germs which may be breathed into the throat and lungs to begin their work of destruction.

The easiest, simplest, quickest, surest and cheapest way to check catarrh is by the direct method, breathing Hyomel. This wonderful medicated air treatment does not drug and derange the stomach, but is breathed in through the Hyomel inhaler, directly following and destroying all disease germs that may have been inhaled, and healing and vitalizing the tissues of the throat, nose and lungs so as to render catarrh and all other germ infections no longer possible.

The unusual way in which Hyomel is sold by druggists is the best evidence of confidence in the treatment, and should dispel all doubts as to its curative properties. They are authorized to refund the purchase price to anyone whom Hyomel fails to benefit so you do not risk a cent in testing its healing virtues. A complete outfit costs but $1.00. Extra bottles of liquid if later needed, 50 cents.

May Try to Fly Across Atlantic Ocean

NEW YORK, May 2.—Aviation circles were stirred by the announcement that the Laws—Miss Ruth Bancroft Law and her brother, F. Rodman Law—intended trying to fly across the Atlantic ocean. The statement issued from Boston of their intention to compete for the prize of Lord Northcliffe of England quoted Miss Law as stating that they would try the flight in an aeroplane equipped with tin floats and not pontoons. They thought they could travel 100 miles an hour and carry enough fuel for the entire trip. Aviators generally think the Laws will think the matter over again before they risk their lives above the waves.

AUSTRIAN PONTON
BRIDGE BUILDERS

LONDON, May 2.—All Europe was reported here through diplomatic circles as being much alarmed over the threatened war between Austria-Hungary and Montenegro over Scutari. Austria had taken active measures to put its troops in the field, and the powers looked with misgivings upon the situation. The accompanying map in the illustration indicates the several frontiers which the Balkan states and the great powers had down for the new state of Albania, whose future is so gravely imperiled by the Montenegrin capture of Scutari. As drawn by the European powers Albania would include a territory a little smaller in area than Belgium and a little larger than the state of New Jersey, with a population of about a million, made up, except for a Greek influx in the south on the coast and hinterland facing Corfu, almost exclusively of Albanians, or Skiptars, as they call themselves. As modified by Greek and Montenegrin claims Albania

PORTIONS CLAIMED BY MONTENEGRO AND GREECE

would have somewhat less than 8,000 square miles and would constitute an almost geometrically regular block about 150 miles long by fifty wide, bounded on the west by the Adriatic, on the east by the main ridge of the Pindus mountains, on the north by the Albanian Alps and the Drin river and on the south by the Dangli mountain ranges. It contains about 750,000 inhabitants. The southern portion of Albania has been arranged with regard for Italian wishes, precisely as Austrian claims were recognized in the north. The Italians look forward to an ultimate possession of Valona and Ven to the command of the strait of Otranto and are therefore anxious to keep the Greek boundary as far away from Valona as possible. Greek resentment of Italian aggression has already led to the declaration of a boycott upon Italian productions in Greece.

POLICE DREW REVOLVERS

Fire on Strikers—Several Wounded

NEW YORK, May 2.—Mounted police, goaded by volleys of stones thrown by 700 striking laborers on the Long Island railroad in the borough of Queens, yesterday drew their revolvers and fired, wounding two men, one of them seriously. Two of the policemen were knocked from their horses by the missiles and badly hurt. The strikers, who were employed on construction work on the railroad, went out yesterday morning for more pay. They refused to disperse and engaged in stoning a number of their fellow laborers who stuck to their jobs.

Better Service to Public With the Consolidation of Motion-Picture Business

As in all other businesses, the wholesale purchaser can give better value in the motion-picture business for the same money, than the retail buyer. In other words, a consolidation of theatres can rent its films cheaper, for production on an entire circuit, than can the individual or local company. The consolidation can even afford to purchase films and when these have been exhibited at all the theatres on the circuit may rent them or sell to others. So it is with other supplies, a greater purchasing power brings lower prices. A central and efficient management is also apt to be more skilled and conversant with the business than the local management, in the selection of films.

You, as a patron of motion pictures (and who is not one?), will naturally go where you get the best value for your money in amusement; the same as you would for the purchase of the necessities of life. You would probably also tell of the value and service you have received to Tom, Dick, and to Harry. This starts an endless chain of word-of-mouth advertising, the most effective advertising known.

You have probably noted the great business being done now by almost every motion-picture theatre and have heard of the money being made by them. Is there not a great investment opportunity awaiting the owners of a consolidation of going, substantial, and money-making motion-picture theatres under efficient management, to reap the benefit of the increased patronage, coming with better service and word-of-mouth advertising?

This opportunity to share in a going, substantial, and money-making consolidation of motion-picture theatres will shortly be offered.

WOODBURY MUST PAY

Court Denies New Trial in Wife's Suit

BOSTON, May 2.—Milton A. Woodbury, connected with a Washington street cafe, will have to pay to Mrs. Elizabeth T. Beals, his former wife, the sum of $1500 with interest and costs of her suit for a new trial.

Mrs. Beals brought suit against her former husband, claiming that while they lived together she provided him with Sunday dinners and also breakfasts at the rate of 50 cents each. Besides a home with food, Mrs. Beals testified that she provided him with money with which to engage in the moving picture business in Somerville. She was rewarded, she says, by sneers from him and intimations that he would be pleased if she left.

Woodbury denied owing the money, but declared that it was advanced to him because of the love and affection which she had for him.

He said that all the discourtesy was not on his side, but that she had, at least on one occasion, greeted his homecoming with an alarm clock which hurled by him as he entered her presence.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The regular meeting of Elgin lodge, N. E. O. P., was held last evening in Veritas hall, and Deputy Grand Warden Percy Valentine of Stoneham was among the guests. Following the routine session a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments served. A report on the Boston convention was read by Miss Hattie A. Burroughs.

Lowell Council, R. A.

The members of Lowell council, Royal Arcanum, convened in regular session last night and listened to an interesting account of the grand council session by the representative of the council, Earl Regent Jackson. Following the transaction of the routine business, what was played, and the proceeds will augment the Royal Arcanum hospital fund.

The first prize for ladies was won by

Mrs. Mullin, Mrs. Hutchins received second, while third was awarded to Mrs. Cole. John P. Breen, Henry J. Chase and G. B. Desroches won first, second and third for men, respectively.

Lowell Lodge, K. of P.

There was a meeting of the Lowell lodge of the Knights of Pythias last night, and it was attended by a large number of the members. Two applications were received and referred to the committee. A rehearsal of the rank staff was held preparatory to the conferring of the rank of page on a class of candidates for Lowell and Wamsit lodges on Thursday evening, May 8.

Women's Relief Corps

The James A. Garfield Women's Relief Corps held its meeting last evening in Post 125 hall on Merrimack street. Mrs. Letitia Parker presiding. The circle held a sewing bee in the afternoon and served supper. Mrs. Noyes was matron, ably assisted by Mrs. Worden and Mrs. Coburn. One member was proposed for reinstatement. A donation was sent to the Ohio sufferers.

Lowell Nest of Owls

The regular meeting of the Lowell Nest, No. 1255, Order of Owls, was held last night in its quarters, Elks hall. President J. Walter Bowers presiding. He reported to the nest the death of Bro. Daniel B. H. Bartlett, and requested the members to stand in silence out of respect to the deceased brother. The nest was represented at the funeral by Past President E. W. Bowers and Thomas E. Houcher of the board of auditors.

Encouraging remarks were made by several members of the nest, after which a most delightful program of musical and literary numbers was rendered by several of the younger members of the nest.

Mayer James E. O'Donnell was highly commended by the nest for his action in recommending to the Carnegie Hero Award Fund commission the name of Bro. Jesse Barber, who on May 23, 1912, rescued from the waters of Hale's brook little Walter Beauregard, aged three years. Mr. Barber, in making the rescue, had to climb a high picket fence, in doing which he fractured the bones in his right ankle. He is soon to enter the Massachusetts General hospital where another operation will be performed.

Pensions for Widows

WILMINGTON, May 2.—Pensions for indigent widows is the question being taken up by the local Associated Charities as a result of the interest taken by Mrs. Wilson, wife of the president, in the subject. Mrs. Wilson appeared unexpectedly yesterday at the conference of the association in which the question was discussed. Two cases of destitution were under special discussion.

THE FATE OF SCUTARI THE INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL

Powers Urge Haste for Several Classes Make Balkan Peace Meet Trips to Factories

LONDON, May 2.—No date has yet been fixed for the reassembling of the peace conference at London, but the powers are urging Turkey and the Balkan allies to send their delegates as quickly as possible, in the belief that the conclusion of peace will assist in the settlement of the other problems.

Although the tension arising over the fate of Scutari has been lessened, the danger is not past. It is understood that Montenegro is willing to evacuate that town on condition that territorial compensation be allowed, but Austria heretofore has insisted on unconditional evacuation, and if she still persists in this attitude, a peaceful arrangement will hardly be possible.

The Austrian emperor has summoned an extraordinary council for today, which will include the premiers and war ministers of both Austria and Hungary.

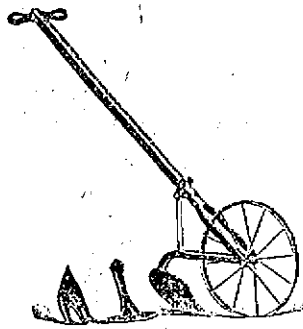

Reports through Vienna say that the Montenegrins are preparing Scutari for a siege.

The readiness with which the authorities of this city and surrounding localities have co-operated with the instructors at the Lowell Industrial school in forwarding the education of the boys of the various departments along practical and commercial lines as well as in theory has been a great factor in enlivening the interest in this work. Through the kindness of the officials of these large concerns, the boys have made several visits to plants of various descriptions and have had the process of the work demonstrated and explained to them.

Some time ago the members of the woodworkers and carpenters' class were the guests of the management of the Parker box factory in North Chelmsford. On the way out they went into the woods and studied the trees, learning the value of all of the varieties common to this section and were also instructed as to the manner in which they may determine the kind of a tree. This was all in close relation to their work in the school and arriving at the box factory they were shown the methods of treating the rough wood, the construction of the boxes, etc. This visit was made under the direction of Messrs. Wiggins

I Didn't Know You Sold Clothes Like These For $15.00

That remark set us thinking! How many men in Lowell know, or don't know the kind of clothes we sell at $15?

How can we get them to know our standard in $15 clothes—to make comparison with the $15 clothes of other stores?

We're going after the $15 man this week. We want to get him into our shop—ten minutes is all we want of his time, but will stay with him as long as he'll stay.

We'll show him that the bigger stores have no advantage over us when it comes to value in $15 clothes—we'll show him a higher standard of fabrics and tailoring—smarter models and plenty of styles to select from—Not so many as some big stores, but a choicer assortment than most of them.

Most important, we'll show him $15 clothes that we guarantee not only to wear and hold their color—but to keep their shape until worn out.

If your price limit is $15—and you want the most your money will buy—you'll not waste your time talking to us—we can serve you.

SCORES MAYOR FITZ

G.G.A. Says Cost of Government is Concealed

BOSTON, May 2.—In a statement issued last night by the executive committee of the Good Government Association the city council is urged to appropriate $300,000 within the debt limit for the construction of new streets, instead of passing a loan for this purpose outside of the debt limit.

Mayor Fitzgerald is taken sharply to task in the statement for the present condition of the city finances.

The Good Government Association says that "the real cost of the city government under the present administration has been concealed from the taxpayers and the citizens generally," and that within the next two years it will mean either a substantial increase in the tax rate or that the tax limit must either be raised or abolished.

"It would certainly be a sad commentary upon the intelligence and backbone of the present city council if they allow the mayor to cajole them into departing from the financial policy which they have sustained for the past few years, and which they have endorsed by recommending during the current year," says the G. G. A.

It is pointed out in the statement that there is remaining within the debt limit an opportunity for the city to borrow $1,035,430.67, and it is recommended that out of this amount $500,000 be set aside for the construction of new streets. The council is advised to adopt this order at the meeting to-day and to keep pressing it upon Mayor Fitzgerald from time to time, forcing him to assume the responsibility of denying the necessary expenditure for new streets.

Found Guilty of Assault
Upon His Wife

BOSTON, May 2.—Dr. James R. Taylor of Brookline, a prominent neuro specialist of the Back Bay, who was convicted by a jury in the Norfolk criminal court at Dedham of an assault upon his wife, Florence Taylor, at her home, 1912, was fined yesterday afternoon $25 by Judge King. This is the same amount he was fined in the Brookline municipal court, from which he appealed. He was allowed to go with such a fine, inasmuch as he waived all exceptions taken in the case.

The case was one of the most unusual heard in the Norfolk court for some time and consumed several days in being heard.

Dr. and Mrs. Taylor have been living apart for some time under a mutual agreement, the girl going with the mother and the boy with the father. It was claimed by the defense that Mrs. Taylor had gone to the house of her husband to secure grounds for a divorce, but she denied this, maintaining that she was merely attempting to see her boy and that while so doing was assaulted by her husband, who pushed her off the veranda steps.

Dr. Taylor said that he did not assault his wife, but merely assisted her down the steps, and whatever bruises she had were obtained when she threw herself on the steps.

Police Investigate Story of Attempted Robbery

BOSTON, May 2.—Walter Watts, the janitor at the Continental Clothing company, corner of Washington and Boylston streets, was found at 7 o'clock yesterday morning in the store with both hands handcuffed to a post and his feet also tied to the same post.

In front of the large safe a short distance away was found a pile of clothing and beside the pile was a small bottle containing medicinal glycerine. The safe was undisturbed and no indications could be found that the safe had been tampered with in any way.

Watts said he had been beaten and overpowered by two men who tied him to the post. The night watchman of the firm stated to the police that when he left the store at 6 o'clock Watts was not tied to the post and that he had seen nobody in the building during the entire night.

BOWLERS AT FESTIVE BOARD

Members of Saco-Lowell Bowling League Enjoyed Banquet—Prizes Were Awarded

The Richardson hotel was last night the scene of much merriment, the occasion being the closing of the Saco-Lowell bowling league season. The affair consisted of a banquet followed by a presentation of prizes to the winners, which were donated by Superintendent Albert W. Thompson of the Lowell plant. The affair was attended by some 25 men, and all spent a very pleasant evening. A delightful entertainment program was carried out, and a report of the doings of the league since it was organized last December was read by Secretary Kimball.

The guests gathered at the hotel shortly before 8 o'clock, and a buffet reception was held. Of course, the gathering was not one of the same kind as is generally in bowling alleys, but nevertheless there was considerable enjoyment, and the winners of the various prizes were warmly congratulated, while those less fortunate were the object of considerable teasing.

At 8 o'clock all repaired to the banquet room, where a dainty dinner was discussed. The menu was excellent and proved one of the numbers of the evening. At the close of the repast, Arthur E. Thompson, president of the league, introduced Albert N. Morton, who in the absence of Superintendent Thompson, who could not attend on account of pressing engagements, in brief remarks complimented the winners of the various prizes, especially the Foundry team. Capt. Joseph Proulx, who won the fine silver cup. This cup was given by Mr. Thompson with the understanding that the winner keep it until won by another team or until one team wins it three consecutive years. The individual winners of prizes were also congratulated for their fine work on the alleys, and the members of the league were urged to encourage this sport.

His remarks were followed by Irving D. Kimball, secretary and treasurer of the league, who gave interesting figures and statistics, reviewing the work of the various teams and individuals. He also paid a compliment to the winners. Others who spoke were Joseph Marshall, Emory Soule, Harry Blanchard, Edward O'Neil, George Clark, Ashby Williams, Frank Sterling, Matthew Bradford, and Percy A. McKittredge. The latter outlined some of the points in the new efficiency system introduced in the shop, and answered several questions relative thereto, to the satisfaction of his listeners.

Shirring was then in order, and the happy gathering broke up at a seasonable hour, wishing to meet again for the same time next year.

Before the guests parted, however, Mr. J. Edward O'Neil read a very interesting poem on the Saco-Lowell bowling league, and from which the following stanza was taken:

"Of course we all know that the Foundry was high,

In a hundred more games I think Kimball would be;

But then the poor Shippers, where would they come in?"

Some say with the rest of the road in the line.

Now the office can boast about pen-cups to gush,

But that's about all for they're hid in the bush."

Three strings: First, William S. Bicknell, 12; second, John J. Conley, 12; third, Harry L. Woodman, 11.

High single: First, Edward J. O'Neil, Jr., 12; second, Joseph A. McKittredge, 11.

Craftsmen—Steele, captain; Judd, Goodrich, Dana, Woodman, Seales and McKittredge.

Foundry—Dropsy, captain; Langavon, Conley, Boyd, Cronin, McNulty and Kelley.

The officers of the league were Irving D. Kimball, secretary and treasurer, and the captains formed the board of directors.

Appearance for 11 claimants who intend to contest the will of John William Fletcher, the painter who committed suicide on April 22 by taking poison as he was about to be placed under arrest by police inspectors at his establishment in the Hotel Pelham, was filed in the Middlesex probate court yesterday by Leveroni & Hall, attorneys. A hearing on the will has been assigned for May 6.

"We have received information from parties in Providence and New York which indicates to us that the will should not be allowed," said Atty. Leveroni, "but as yet it has not been sufficiently examined to enable us to discuss it."

The persons claiming to be heirs of Fletcher whose names appear on the document are Mrs. M. E. Sawyer, address not given; Fred Fletcher Mason, Alexander Mason, Mrs. Hattie Underland, Mrs. Nellie Klippel, Ira Mason, Jr., and Alphonse Mason, all of Bath.

Mrs. Edward W. Mason, no residence stated; Charles Mason of New York; Mrs. Lora Starr, no residence stated; and Edward Fletcher, no residence stated. Four other claimants will enter the case, Mr. Leveroni said. Those whose names appear claim to be cousins of Fletcher. Of the other four one says that he is a nephew.

U. S. RECOGNIZES CHINA

Election of Speaker by Lower House Held

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The new Chinese republic was formally recognized by the United States. Charge Williams at Peking cabled that he had delivered the formal recognition as he was authorized to do upon complete organization of the new government.

America First to Act

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Before Secretary Bryan left Washington for California, he announced that Charge Williams at Peking had been instructed to extend formal recognition to the new republic of China as soon as the constituent assembly had been properly organized in all its branches, and provision made for the election of administrative officers.

At that time it was expected that there preliminary would take only a few days, but party divisions sprang up in the lower branch of the legislature which resulted in deferring until Wednesday the completion of the work of organization.

Now, however, with the election of Tang Hui Lin as speaker of the house, organization is complete in both branches. The senate having already organized. The American charge, therefore, will now be able to carry out his instructions from Secretary Bryan and America will be the first of the great powers to extend recognition to the infant republic.

It is expected that following this recognition, a new minister to China, accredited to the republic, will be designated to succeed Mr. Calhoun, who is now on his way home. Mr. Chang, the resident minister of China, probably will soon receive credentials from Yuan Kai Shai, the provisional president of China, in place of the credentials issued to him by the late Manchuk government.

Thomas P. Katsikros, 25, 382 Suffolk, merchant, and Stanata G. Pappafagon, 19, 577 Market street, operative.

And this time Kittredge went out of the park amid the howls of the populace, while the greatly interrupted game was resumed.

But all was not over. Before long the people within the park became cognizant of a portly figure high up on a telegraph pole outside the park, holding on with one hand and brandishing the other in great eclat. It was the persistent Malachi howling defiance at the umpire and showing the never-say-die spirit which always characterized him in the big league.

WEEDING OUT THE VETS

Manager Clark Wants Younger Men

The composite Pirate of 1913 is a younger man than any representation of the city of Pittsburgh on the baseball diamond in ten years. The old fellows are gradually dropping out and young blood is replacing them, not in accordance with any fixed policy of the club, but because many of the stars of the past years have outlived their usefulness.

Old players are never dropped from the roster, they become they are old. The combination of Clarke-Wagner-Leach-Ritchey that was looked upon as one of the most formidable in organized baseball was first broken up when Claude Ritchey was let out. Clarke was next to go, through self elimination, and last summer a third member of the quartet in the person of Tommy Leach was dropped. Today only Hans Wagner remains.

It is a case of the survival of the fittest. The big Dutchman is 35 years old. Perhaps it could be put 33 years young, for it is only the lines on his face and the whitening of his hair at the temples which indicate his age. There is nothing in his ball playing to suggest the advisability of his retirement from the game.

They say he is slowing up, and perhaps he is, but he can slow up a great deal more and still be one of the world's greatest ball players. The game has not produced his equal. He is a perfect baseball machine, and the machine will not be clogged up in this year if early indications count for anything. Wagner is the Wagner of 1912 this spring, and there's no telling how many more seasons he will be playing the most difficult position on the diamond. No man who has watched him throughout his career would hazard his reputation as a prophet by predicting that this will be Wagner's last year.

Hans Wagner will be robbing opposing players of base hits and knocking down fences with his own drives this summer as of yore. He will continue to lead on the paths. The idol of every American youth and one of the most talked about and written about men in the United States. His career of usefulness has outlasted that of every contemporary baseball star, and he is still going. And although he will be surrounded by younger players he will set the pace for them.

MANHATTAN SOCIAL CLUB HELD FARMERS' BALL

parade was formed at the club rooms in upper Gorham street at 8:30 o'clock, and at 8 o'clock, John Baxter, director of the rubs band announced that everything was in readiness to start. The band of twenty-five pieces, then started off, and following came the members of the club with representatives of the Hustlers, Lincolns and South Ends, all in costumes, peculiar to the farm. In the rear was a real old fashioned hayrack, which conveyed the girls, also attired in rural costumes, over the line of march. All the participants carried red fire, that presented a picturesque spectacle as the long line moved through the streets. The march was down Gorham to Central to Prescott, to Merrimack, to Associate Hall. The music by the farmers' band was greatly enjoyed, particularly their rendition of "Put on Your Old Gray Bonnet." Upon reaching the hall, all those who were to participate in the grand march, adjourned to the K. of C. hall where they were assigned to their respective positions by "Foreman" Thomas P. Spencer. While this was in progress, the band gave a concert program, of country selections, and Babe Rogers favored with several vocal compositions.

The grand march, with some fifty couples in line was started at 8:20 o'clock, and was executed in a very clever manner. Foreman Spencer and his sister, Miss Jennie Spencer, led the procession, and following came President Charles L. Crowley and Miss Katherine Hickey, Vice President Charles Emerson and Mrs. Emerson, Assistant Foreman John P. Ward and Miss Nellie Dalsey, Head Hayman John Ready and Miss Katie Mahoney, and forty other couples. They went through a series of pretty evolutions, under the capable direction of John Crowley, and to the accompaniment of the rubs band. While the march was in progress, Thomas P. Crowley, Representative Eugene F. Toomey and Dennis Murphy, who constituted the board of judges viewed its many maneuvers and paid particular attention to the varied costumes. At the completion of the number, Jeremiah Titterton was awarded first prize, and received a gold watch. He was attired as the village blacksmith and his selection proved a popular one. There was great difficulty in selecting the best make-up among the ladies, but after the latter appeared on the floor for the second time Mrs. Charles Emerson who was dressed as a dairy maid, carrying a large milk can, was awarded the prize. She, too, received a gold watch.

A truly rural farmers' ball was conducted in Associate hall last evening under the auspices of the Manhattan Social Club. The affair proved one of the most successful character parties held in this city in many years and was attended by a crowd that taxed the capacity of the hall. It was managed in a commendable manner and its success reflects great credit on those who were in charge.

Proceeding the ball a street parade was held, and this feature proved a most enjoyable one. Long before the announced time for the procession to start the streets along the route of the parade were lined with people. The

The prizes were presented by President Crowley and the recipients were applauded and congratulated for their good fortune. The rubs band, which was composed of the members of the club orchestra and other members and friends, was then dismissed by Director Baxter and the orchestra members stayed on the stage, and during the remainder of the evening furnished excellent music for general dancing. During the numbers Babe Rogers rendered the choruses of all the popular pieces played. The merriment continued until midnight, and when the strains of the last waltz had died away the members of the popular and progressive organization were commended on all sides for the success of the affair.

BOY OF EIGHT YEARS COMPLETELY BALD

Solid Crust Covered Head, Spread to Face, Face Mass of Sores Cracked and Ruining. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment Two Months. Well as Ever.

200 Columbus Ave., Suite 7, Boston, Mass.—"When my boy was eight years old he started with an itch on his head. I applied small pieces of lint soaked with Cuticura to several places over his head, where the hair had fallen out. It rapidly spread all over the head and in less than three weeks he was completely bald. A solid crust covered the head resembling a cap. This crust had cracks that a watery substance oozed from all the time, and when he scratched it would bleed. It rapidly spread to his face and his eyes became inflamed and burned; his upper lip became sore. Then there were days that he lost his sleep completely."

"His face by this time was a mass of sores, cracked and running, and badly swollen. He would scratch it in his sleep until it was raw as a piece of beef and he all covered with blood. He looked miserable, and cried most all the time. One of his ears was split at the top and also at the bottom. It was only a matter of a short time before he would have dropped off. I became so alarmed that I did it up. A neighbor asked me to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. In two months of faithful treatment with Cuticura Soap and Ointment he was as well as ever." (Signed) Mrs. Nellie A. Smith, May 4, 1912. Cuticura Soap 25c, and Cuticura Ointment 50c, are sold everywhere. Liberal samples of each mailed free, with 22-c Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston." When your doctor recommends Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

CAPTAIN VIVIAN LOCKETT

New Head of England's Polo Team

NEW YORK, May 2.—The news that Walter S. Buckmaster had resigned the captaincy of the English challenging polo team because of his injury and that Vivian Lockett of the Eaton Hall team had been chosen as the new captain came as a surprise to the American officials. Buckmaster's absence will materially weaken the British team. H. L. Herbert, chairman of the Polo association, declares that he is the greatest polo player in the world. For several years he has received a higher rating by Hurlingham than any other player in the kingdom and above the American four—Harry Payne Whitney, Larry Waterbury, Monte Waterbury and Devereux Milburn. Lockett is regarded as a good player, but is acknowledged as not ranking with Buckmaster.

DUCHESS OF CONNAUGHT

Had a Fair Night and Her Strength is Maintained but Her Condition Still Causes Alarm

LONDON, May 2.—The physicians in attendance upon the Duchess of Connaught, who was operated on a second time last Tuesday for abdominal trouble, issued the following bulletin this morning:

"The Duchess of Connaught had a fair night and her strength is maintained but the condition of the patient still causes anxiety."

Miss Wilson's Driver Fined
NEW YORK, May 2.—William J. Greenwood, a taxicab chauffeur, was fined $5 yesterday for driving Miss Margaret Wilson, the president's daughter, and her escort up Broadway at a speed of 24 miles an hour. The policeman who appeared against Greenwood said that when he stopped the taxicab yesterday evening Greenwood told him that his passengers were the president's daughter and Boyd Fisher, manager of the Social Centre, and that they were hurrying to a hotel to pick up a Princeton professor who had to catch a train for Princeton. The policeman let the car proceed after summoning the chauffeur to court yesterday. Mr. Fisher was in court and paid Greenwood's fine.

THE POMONA GRANGE MEETING

Past Master Cluff—Other Addresses Delivered

The members of the Pomona grange held their last meeting of the present season in Odd Fellows hall, Centralville, today with a large number present from the granges around the suburbs of Lowell.

The meeting this morning was called to order by the lecturer, Mrs. Margaret A. Sarre. Mr. B. A. Cluff, past master of the Draught grange, was the principal speaker this morning and he spoke on "What Does the Farmer Need More Labor, Less Land, or More Education?"

He spoke as follows: "I think education is one of the most essential things for a farmer. To be a 20th century farmer one should understand to a certain degree bookkeeping, chemistry, plumbing, carpenter work, veterinary work, agriculture, and animal husbandry and he should be a natural born mechanic, understand engines, both steam and gasoline, and in addition to that he should be a good citizen."

"The dairy farmer of today should study the breeding and feeding of horses, cattle, swine, sheep and poultry. The animals are the machines with which the farmer must work. They are to the farmer the same as the machines in a mill are to the manufacturer, only more complicated. A farmer, to run these machines should love animals, he should be a quiet, conscientious man in the stable and around the cattle and poultry yard. When working around stock he should think enough of them to speak a kind word, teaching them not to fear him."

"A farmer should understand chemistry. What may have worked well with the soil in the past may prove a failure at present. There is a new future. The boy or man in the next generation should be able to understand the chemistry and the physics of the soil. I hope my boys will be capable sometime to go out into the field, take a few samples of the soil and then tell the 'old man' what chemicals he needs to add to produce the best results. At this time most of us farmers are farming by guess, sometimes we hit it and more times it hits us."

"There are the other trades which I mentioned that are necessary. A farmer must be able to repair most any small thing on the farm as he cannot afford to send in town for some experienced man to come out and do the little jobs that have to be done. When a man or woman has attained all the knowledge in the different lines I have mentioned he should be a good farmer and a good granger."

"Before doing much business he should study the laws of the commonwealth or with all his education he will land in court and be fined for selling impure milk or selling a pig without a trademark or some other 'jessy' thing."

"Now just a word about co-operation. Next to education I think a farmer needs co-operation. He must have a wife who is willing to help him and share the hard knocks which come and go with us all. She must be one who is willing to sacrifice many engagements to the advantage of the farm."

"I think the farmers should co-operate in buying and selling some of the principal products that they are interested in. While I do not believe in strikes, I do believe in co-operation, for in co-operation there is strength, and you all know that the farmer has every union in existence to compete with. I believe that the time will come when the farmer can make the price on the products he has to sell, but today he does not. The middle man does it for him in most cases."

"Does the farmer need more labor? The farmer does two or three times as much labor every day as the majority of laborers, receiving in return much less compensation. The dairy farmer must be on duty 13 or 14 hours a day, 365 days in a year. If a farmer can place a competent man he can place the price of products which he should sell and then be on the level with his associates. If plumbers, masons and carpenters get 10 or 15 cents an hour, why shouldn't farmers get the same? Let the farmer come up with his brothers of other professions and the problem of labor will take care of itself."

"Coming to the last question, if a farmer can afford to hire enough men to till all his land there would not be much danger of him owing too much land. However, it is better to have a small lot and keep it well tilled than to have a larger lot and only take care of a part of it."

A bountiful dinner was served in the lower hall by the members of the North Reading grange, headed by the following: Mrs. Bachelder, Mr. Dyer, Mr. Davis and Mr. Perry.

Capt. William P. White, U. S. N., retired, the principal speaker at the afternoon session, which was the most interesting talk on "The Land Question in California, as Affected by the Pending Legislation."

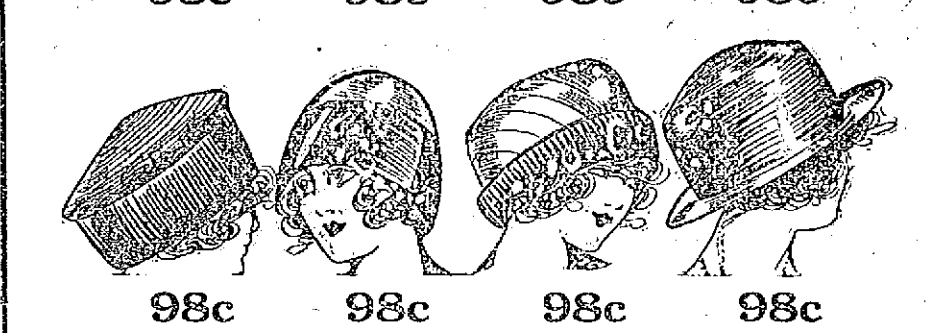

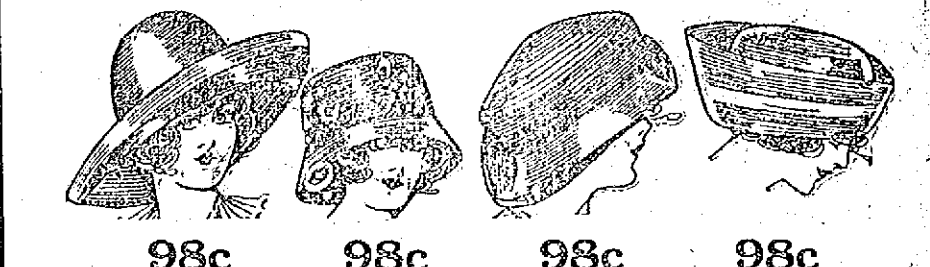

The topic discussed among the grangers at the afternoon session was, "How to Manage a Housecleaning." Mrs. Florence Buck of the Wilmington grange spoke on the subject "How to Do the Work." Mrs. J. A. Rath, 40 "How to Get the Meats," and Mrs. W. A. Sherburne told "How to Induce the Men to Help."

Considerable interest was shown in all subjects, not only by those who had been assigned to talk, but by all present.

SHOE DEPARTMENT—BASEMENT

PARK DEPARTMENT BOARD LOSES TWO MEMBERS

Judge Pickman Retires
From the Board After
Valiant Service

HON. JOHN J. PICKMAN

At a meeting of the park commission held last night the question was raised as to how much authority Commissioner Cummings has over the park department and Harvey B. Greene stated that Mr. Cummings did not have anything more to do with the department than did any of the other members of the municipal council except in the way of appropriations. "When the park department wants money it has to get it through Mr. Cummings," he said. Messrs. Pickman and Hall were present and it was their last meeting. It is expected that the municipal council will elect their successors tonight. They expressed their regrets in leaving the board and told of their interest in the work. They said they would continue their interest in the work and that they would be glad to be of assistance to the present board or their successors at any time.

Signs of Friction
Signs of a little friction between the park and other departments cropped out at the meetings. Messrs. Carr and Rountree were very decidedly of the opinion that the inspector of motels should have an office of his own and that the tools should be properly divided, each department having separate apartments at the park department stable. John G. Gordon, inspector of motels, and John W. Kernan, park department superintendent, occupy the same office at city hall and Mr. Greene suggested that this arrangement was in a way necessary because of the fact that the park department stenographer is paid by both the park and moth departments and that the moth department has as much right to her services as has the park department.

SOME GOOD ADVICE

Judge Pickman's parting message to the board as to the treatment that ought to be accorded the superintendent must have been appreciated by the superintendent who was present as secretary of the board. "My parting message to the board members," said Judge Pickman, "has to do with the superintendent. Treat him fairly. Do not impose upon him or too many men upon him. He will have a hard time to get through without asking for more money. Go to him as seldom as possible and do not insist on having men put to work. My vote did not elect him but I am interested. He will have to save his pen and ink by months in order to pull through. He needs your assistance and ought not to be hampered in his work by any unnecessary interference."

Must Close Playground

It was stated at the meeting that unless more money is forthcoming it will be necessary to discontinue the Greenhalge school playground. Judge Pickman said it would be too bad to have to close the playground. "I believe," he said, "that the playgrounds are almost next in importance to the public schools and the Greenhalge school playground is as important as any of the playgrounds in the city. It would be a shame, yes, almost a disgrace, to close that playground to the city."

Mr. Carr said that there would have to be more money forthcoming for the playgrounds and he said if the municipal council didn't "come to time" he would march on city hall with an army of "kids" from all over the city. "I will have them carry red flags if necessary," he said, but one of his brother members reminded him of the fact that the red flag has no legal standing in Massachusetts.

Baseball on Common

Mr. Carr wanted to know about the playing of baseball on the plateau of the South common, just off Highland street. He said that residents of that street objected to a game being played so near their homes. "I was up there for a time the other day and I didn't hear much profanity," said Mr. Carr. Judge Pickman said there are two sides to the story. During the summer months people who live nearby have their windows open a great deal and it is exceedingly distasteful to them to be forced to hear swearing and worse all of the time. He did not believe that a common is necessarily a place for careless talk.

Mr. Rountree said that he and Mr.

Thalles P. Hall, Another Valuable Member,

MR. THALLES P. HALL

Greene had gone to the common and at this point found mothers and children apparently enjoying themselves until boys began to bat balls about.

Department Automobile

Judge Pickman said that a committee had been appointed to look into the matter of purchasing an automobile for the department. He had received several bids, he said. Arthur J. Cummings had submitted one to supply a machine for $1120. F. B. Emerson would supply one for $1300, and the Buick company quoted two figures, $1250 and $1400.

Mr. Hall, who had constituted the committee, said he had looked for a machine with a semi-tonneau, but had been informed that they are not being built like that now. He knew where a Studebaker, which had been used for demonstration purposes, could be bought for $1000. Judge Pickman wanted a machine, if any were to be purchased, which would carry tools, equipment, ladders, etc.

Mr. Greene felt that a horse might be hired at certain times, but Mr. Hall said that if a horse were hired or purchased it would have to be hitched to a wheelbarrow, or driven alone. "I would not dare to ride in the carriage of the department again," he said, "unless I was tied into it. I nearly fell out of the seat twice today."

Mr. Carr wondered how the park could get an automobile, and Judge Pickman suggested that Mr. Carr donate one. "It would make you very popular," said Mr. Pickman, but Mr. Carr didn't make any rash promises.

Mr. Carr said that the South common needs special policing.

"It's a matter of dollars and cents," said the chairman. "You can never get away from that fact, and if we are not given enough money we cannot do what we ought to."

Mr. Carr said that looters and burners go to the common and drink and lay about all day. They make it dangerous for women and children to go there. Mr. Hall said that there is a policeman on duty at city hall all of the time. He apparently has his hands full in keeping peace.

Mr. Rountree took occasion to say that he had never seen the grounds about city hall looking so well. Mr. Carr said that the appropriation for the city messenger should pay for the work done there, though.

Vote of Thanks
Mr. Carr moved that a rising vote of thanks be extended to Judge Pickman, on the eve of his retirement from the board.

Mr. Hall added that he did not know of any man who had ever accepted a public office who had lived up to his oath so well as had Judge Pickman. The rising vote was then given.

The rising vote was then given. Judge Pickman said that for 10 years he had been associated with Mr. Hall on the board. The service had been most pleasant. For Mr. Hall had given freely of his time. "Both Mr. Hall and Mr. Greene—to refer to the older members of the board—and those who have retired, have always been most sympathetic in their manner. There has never

Same to Mr. Hall
Mr. Carr moved that a rising vote of thanks be tendered to Mr. Hall, and it was so voted.

The chairman spoke of Messrs. Greene and Hall informally. He said that Mr. Greene's assistance in playground work had been invaluable. And, referring to this work, he said that he felt it would grow and would eventually be taken into the educational curriculum. It is wonderfully fascinating work, and it makes better boys and girls.

Mr. Hall said he accepted the goodwill of the members of the board, and stated that he intended to still remain a private citizen, and that any time he was asked for any suggestion as to procedure during his tenure of office, he would gladly tell what he knew. Mr. Hall, referring to Judge Pickman, stated that 171 meetings of the board had been held during the past 10 years, and that the chairman had been absent from only five of these.

likelihood of dispensing with the Greenhalge school playground during the coming summer. Not enough money had been voted by the municipal council, he said, to carry on the work there. This he believed to be most unfortunate and his brother members agreed with him.

Removal of Trees
Besides the approval of bills for the month, the board heard two petitions for the removal of trees. One was from Mr. Geoffroy for the removal of a tree in Willie street, and the other from Stephen Kearney for the removal of eight trees in Gorham, Congress and Center streets. Both petitions were referred to the committee on trees.

PLAYERS LIKE TO LOAF

Enjoy Hanging 'Round
in the Evening

Will some student of psychology please rise and tell the ladies and gentlemen why ball players, who, as a class, have more spare time on their hands than any other body of men actually engaged in any sort of occupation, are always in a hurry?

It is a source of never ending wonder to the layman that the athletes should do everything at such break-neck speed that one might think they had only a few minutes longer to live and wanted to improve the time. They hurry their dressing in the morning, take their meals on the "high," walk fast, read fast and undress rapidly when retiring. Not a moment is lost, though nobody ever has been able to discover what becomes of all the time saved by this bustle and confusion.

Coming back from the ball game in a foreign city, for instance, the players will exhort the driver of their bus or taxicab to make all possible speed. Thirty miles an hour they consider the proper rate for a taxi through crowded streets, while with a horse drawn vehicle the steeds must constantly be kept on the gallop.

On arrival at the hotel the players take a rapid bath, dress in four minutes and then are ready for dinner. Fifteen minutes is the time allotted to this meal, and the waiter who prolongs it beyond that limit is not likely to get a tip. The major leaguer likes course dinners, but he wants courses to overlap. His soup must be on the table when his oysters are finished, and his fish must be ready when the last mouthful of soup is gone.

Having saved five minutes on the trip from the ball park by forcing some reckless driver, another five minutes by rushing his toilet and at least half an hour by bullying the waiter at dinner, what does the feverish athlete do? Does he attend some theatrical performance, lecture or sermon, no fragment of which he can afford to miss by being late? Does he walk or to the show? Not much, he does! In seven cases out of every ten he spends the entire evening loafing around the lobby of the hotel, writing letters or perhaps playing a game or two of pool. Any one of these means of passing the time away might just as well start at 8.30 o'clock as at 6.30, but you never could convince a ball player of that fact.

No, sir, he wants his evening loaf, and he wants plenty of time to enjoy it, even though the remainder of the day is spent at a clip that would make the hardest commuter who never rose at 6.45 to catch the 7.03 train cry quits.

PITCHER HAS AN EDGE

On His Rival Batter,
Says Player

Do batters do much outguessing in these days of splendid pitchers, armed with a host of new fangled curves? Many players believe they do; others think the contrary is true.

Fred Blanding of the Cleveland Americans is one of these. Fred doesn't see how a hitter can outguess the pitcher very much when the odds are so decidedly against him.

"Of course," says Fred, "there are some men like Cobb or Lajoie, for instance, that are enabled by some special sort of intuition to doze out what the pitcher is going to throw, but even they are wrong sometimes and made to look foolish in consequence. The other batters don't try it at all and only succeed when the pitcher has once in a great while forgotten to hide his ball."

Taken all in all one would think it a mighty hard job to guess a pitcher's next delivery. In the first place, the batter doesn't know what is giving the signals and he doesn't get there from trying to outguess the pitcher. Not knowing who is giving the signs, he is naturally unable to see what is going to be thrown.

In the second place, all the best pitchers, and most of the youngsters, even, have just one way of holding the ball, be it for a curve, splitter or fast one. In these cases, too, the ball is thrown the same way, with the same delivery. When all these odds are arrayed against the batsman it can be seen it is no cinch for him to solve the next ball served up to him.

Trying to doze out the various balls pitched has put many hitters in wrong. Sometimes they expect a fast one and are made to look foolish because it was a curve. Again they may wish to step into what they think is going to be a curve and nearly their heads knocked off with a fast one. The best way to do with a fast one is to stand up there, not giving an inch, look them over well, pick out the best ones—speed, curve or splitter—and try to meet it squarely. It would seem that those who follow this method of procedure are more certain of amassing a fat average than those pursuing other tactics.

Development of Alaska
WASHINGTON, May 2.—As a result of testimony before the senate territories commission today, representatives of the Morgan and Guggenheim interests in Alaska will be asked what they know of alleged threats to retard the development of the territory.

E. Ballaine of Seattle before the committee today declared George W. Perkins had told him several years ago that the Morgan interests never would permit the development of Alaskan railroads until coal claims there were obtained under government patent.

Members of the committee were greatly interested in Ballaine's testimony and declared Mr. Perkins and others in the Morgan or Guggenheim companies would be asked to appear.

MAYOR JAS. O'DONNELL

Favors Park Improvement and Extension

Some time ago Mayor O'Donnell made the statement that the park department had not asked for any money for parks during his time as mayor and that he stood ready to vote for a reasonable amount at any time. The mayor believes in the improvement and extension of the park system, and says the city council should vote a certain amount each year for such extension and improvement. In order to set his views fairly before the park commission, the mayor has addressed the following letter to that body:

To the Park Commission:—Permit me to suggest that your honorable body, at its earliest convenience, submit to the municipal council an estimate of the cost of constructing a new park. The park system of Lowell is one of the most beautiful in the North and South states, the two most numerous park systems in the country. All of the parks on both commons are practically beyond repair and must be reconstructed. I desire to reiterate that I am and always have been heartily in favor of the extension and improvement of our park system and believe that the city annually should vote an amount of money within its means for such extension and improvement using the money wherever it is most needed for the comfort and convenience of the greatest number. In my judgment, the two commons require immediate attention, and hence the above request. Respectfully yours, James J. O'Donnell, Mayor of Lowell.

MANAGER MUST BE GAME

In Order to Land a Pennant Winner

"To win ball games," said Joe Tinker, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, "a manager must be a dead game fighter."

"If a bit of yellow shows above his collar button it's all over—his chance has gone a-glimmering. McGraw and Chance are game men, always have been, always will be, and their men will follow them through to flags. Understand, when I say a fighter, I don't mean a man who nags and barks at umpires. I mean a man who isn't afraid of the other team, who isn't afraid of the percentage that may be against him and who isn't afraid of his own men either."

"A game pitcher is a man who can see the big slugger coming up with his bases jammed and say, 'Maybe this one is a hitter, but he hasn't hit it yet, and he isn't going to hit this one.' A game batter is the boy who sees the last one coming through and grins as he steps forward instead of pulling back, and a game manager is one who doesn't curl up and play dead when they are killing his pitcher or when his infield is throwing crazy or his men can't seem to bat a half size single. That the McGraw and Chance pattern, and that pattern is the one that wins."

And, Joe might have added, the successful leader is the man who is not only game, but whose players are ready to follow him clear through because they are with him heart and hand. Hank O'Day was a game man. He had shown that in all the years of his umpiring. Henry was a brave man and a man whom not a soul could bluff, but Henry couldn't win his players. It's a little line to show, just a little flash to tell a thing or two, something that will flash the bright light for half a moment on the makeups of two men. Said they to Hank O'Day one morning, "There's a big statesman coming into town. Mr. O'Day, will you go and help receive him?" and from the sputtering face of O'Day came slowly forth the sullen words: "Him? Who's he? If he wants to see me let him come to the hotel!"

And just the other day they told Joe Tinker that a noted man was ready to follow him clear through because they are with him heart and hand. Hank O'Day was a game man. He had shown that in all the years of his umpiring. Henry was a brave man and a man whom not a soul could bluff, but Henry couldn't win his players. It's a little line to show, just a little flash to tell a thing or two, something that will flash the bright light for half a moment on the makeups of two men. Said they to Hank O'Day one morning, "There's a big statesman coming into town. Mr. O'Day, will you go and help receive him?" and from the sputtering face of O'Day came slowly forth the sullen words: "Him? Who's he? If he wants to see me let him come to the hotel!"

A good man and a game man, too, was Hank O'Day, but the iron mask of the umpire had clamped it's hand on his face and held back the speech of human courtesy. Too many seasons Hank O'Day had stood out there in the open casting the grim scowl upon the players, turning them back with sullen glare and sharp, short, stinging words. He couldn't soften; he couldn't win his players if he strove for years.

And now comes Joe Tinker with the ready tact and cheery smile, with the courtesy that moderates the keenest sting, with the diplomatic speech that cheers them on and leads them up and upward. He knows baseball from the practiced years of keen experience. So perchance did Hank O'Day, but Tinker knows how to say a thing, and O'Day could never say it without a grating on the ear and a rasping on the soul.

PORTLAND TAKES TWO IN A ROW

Duffy's Team Won From Lowell
in One-Sided Game by the
Score of 12 to 4

Yesterday at Spaulding park the Lowell baseball players once more lined up against the boys from Portland with the determination to make up for the humiliation which they received at the hands of the Maine delegation in the opening game of the league season here yesterday. The attendance at the game was very near to the 1000 mark, it being an ideal day for the national sport. Harrison appeared on the mound for Lowell and Monahan behind the lat, while for the visitors Sullivan was in the box and the catcher was Hayden. The remainder of the lineup was unchanged.

Promptly at three o'clock, Umpire O'Brien called the home team to their positions for the start of the game.

First Inning

The first inning netted the Portland warriors five runs. Merrill opened the game with a three batter to deep left and Bowcock followed with a single to center field, bringing home Merrill. Jacobson hit safely to right field and Hickman who rounded to Barron was safe on the latter's error, the Lowell pitcher juggling the ball. Then Rose hit to Smoyer who threw to the plate, nailing Bowcock and Rose was safe on the fielder's choice. Yelle drove a safe one to left field and Jacobson trotted home. Hickman scored when Ganzel sent up a long infield fly to Clements. Hayden then hit to left and Rose and Yelle crossed the plate to add one more to the Portland tally. Sullivan was thrown out by Barron to Halstein, retiring the side.

Clements, the first Lowell batter was passed and he scored when Magee slammed out a three-bagger over Rose's head. De Groff got in three healthy swings without connecting and Magee scored on a sacrifice hit by Halstein to Ganzel, the latter making the out at unassisted. Barron's throw was a free ticket to the first station and De Groff ended the inning by flying out to Jacobson.

Score: Portland 5, Lowell 2.

Second Inning

Merrill fled out to Magee and Bowcock died on a grounder which De Groff easily fielded to Halstein. Jacobson fanned. Monahan hit an easy one to center field, but the ball was forced out by Barron to first for a put out. Barron received a pass bat was forced out. Bowcock to Hickman when Clements drove one to the second baseman. Magee out, Sullivan to Ganzel.

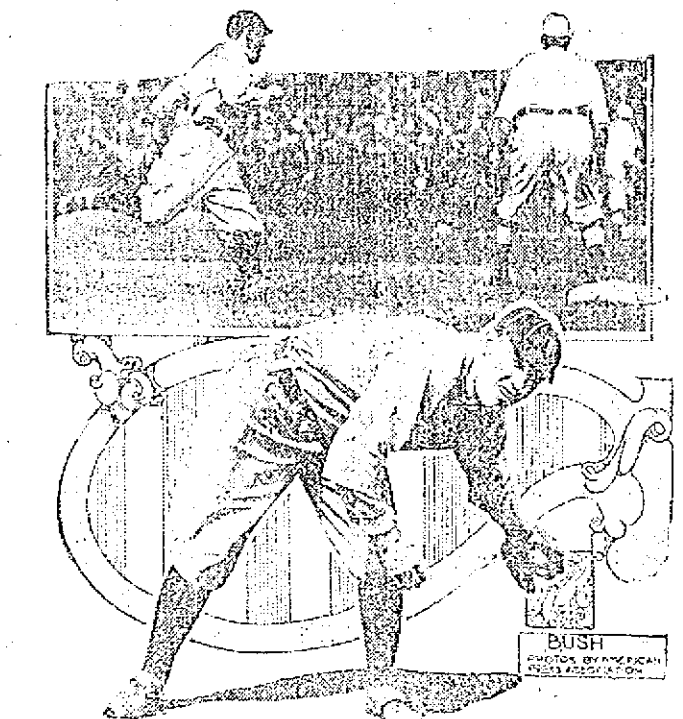

Score: Portland 5, Lowell 2.

Third Inning

Hickman was safe when Starr muffed the fly in short right field and Rose was safe on Smoyer's bad handling of a rather hot grounder. Monahan pulled down a high one to Barron's glove and with a pretty throw, caught Hickman off the second sack. Yelle fled out to Magee on the foul line and Ganzel hit to center field just out of reach of Clements who made a noble try for it. Rose tried to come home on the play but was nailed at the plate by Smoyer's fielding. Clements to Smoyer to Monahan.

De Groff got a base on balls. Halstein hit a fast grounder to Ganzel and the ball bounced from the latter's glove. The second baseman ran to cover first but Ganzel made a poor throw and the ball rolled twenty feet from the sack. De Groff went to third and Halstein to second on the play. Starr popped an easy one to Hickman and De Groff scored when De went out, Sullivan to Ganzel. Smoyer struck out.

Score: Portland 5, Lowell 2.

BUSH, TIGERS' SHORTSTOP, IS AFTER
TY COBB'S BASE RUNNING HONORS

DETROIT, May 2.—Owens Bush, the fastest up and down runner in the Detroit Tigers' line, says he has taken a lead from Ty Cobb's base running honors. "Every time I see him running the bases I have seen the time I get on those jacks," says Owens. "I am going to run until they put me out. Taking chances seems to be the way to get a reputation as a base runner, and I wish to have just as much nerve as any of them. You will notice that whenever Cobb, Speaker, Milan or any other speed demon starts to dash around the fielders get all round the bases."

PHILADELPHIA'S D. TRIO—DOLAN TO DOOLAN TO DOOLIN; SAY IT QUICK

PHILADELPHIA, May 2.—For many weeks a story about a Philadelphia team was confusing to the fans. It appears in the story that Mike Doolan was nearly the whole show. Here's how part of it read: "Doolan caught Stengel trying to pilfer second. Doolan gobbled Wheat's fly to right. A pretty stop by Doolan of Cusshaw's hot liner retired the side. In another part it read: Doolan singled, but was caught in an attempt to grab second. Magee fanned. Luders tied to Wheat. Doolan got four wide ones and went to third on Doolan's single." The mistake was due to the unfamiliarity of the operator at the other end with the sport. He got Dolan mixed up with Doolan and the latter with Doolin. Dolan is the right fielder, Doolan the captain and shortstop and Doolin catcher and manager of the team. When the trio figures in a double play it is better to write the names of the men on a slip of paper and hand it to your friend than to repeat it in a line of talk.

cently a story about a Philadelphia team was confusing to the fans. It appears in the story that Mike Doolan was nearly the whole show. Here's how part of it read: "Doolan caught Stengel trying to pilfer second. Doolan gobbled Wheat's fly to right. A pretty stop by Doolan of Cusshaw's hot liner retired the side. In another part it read: Doolan singled, but was caught in an attempt to grab second. Magee fanned. Luders tied to Wheat. Doolan got four wide ones and went to third on Doolan's single." The mistake was due to the unfamiliarity of the operator at the other end with the sport. He got Dolan mixed up with Doolan and

OUR COAL EXPORTS

From United States Amounted to $90,000,000 in 1912, One-third More Than in 1909

Coal exports from the United States in the current fiscal year will approximate 90 million dollars value against 60 million in 1909. These figures include the coal and coke exported to foreign countries and the coal supplied to vessels engaged in the foreign trade.
Figures for the nine months ended with March, just compiled by the statistical division of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, department of commerce, show anthracite coal exported to foreign countries,
3,353,125 tons, valued at $3,631,027;
bituminous coal, 11,043,909 tons, valued at $2,935,953; coke, 813,341 tons, valued at $2,351,439; and the coal supplied to vessels in the foreign trade,
5,377,641 tons, valued at $17,362,100, making a total for the nine months of 20 million tons, valued at 66 million dollars, and suggesting that the figures for the full fiscal year will approximate 90 million dollars worth of coal and coke passing out of the United States, against 60 million in 1909.

Canada is by far the largest purchaser of the coal exported from the

GRADE CROSSING CASE

Expense of Abolition is Finally Apportioned

By an agreement of all parties in the case, Judge Morton in equity motion session of the superior court yesterday allowed the third report of Arthur W. de Goosch, auditor in the petition of the city of Lowell, for an abolition of the grade crossings at School, Walker,
Plain and Lincoln streets in that city.
The case has been in the courts since 1907, and by the agreement yesterday it shows that the Boston & Maine railroad as a lessee of the 6th, Nashua, Lowell railroad, in carrying out the terms of the decree in the case and for the compensation of the auditor, has expended $47,532.61.

Upon the presentation of a certified copy of the decree, the auditor of the commonwealth, the commonwealth should pay back to the Boston & Maine railroad $15,743.58, which is 33 per cent of the total amount, and $1,752.96 or 10 per cent of the whole amount the city of Lowell shall repay to the commonwealth.

The original petition was brought in 1907 by Mayor Lowell, and the board of aldermen of Lowell, to have the grade crossing at Walker, School, Lincoln and Plain streets abolished.

ONE SUSPECT DETAINED

Malden Girl Fails to Identify Prisoner

BOSTON, May 2.—After an all-day search in quest of the highwayman who attacked and robbed Miss Margaret Leedham, of 5 Fellsway East, in the exclusive West End section of Malden late Wednesday night, only one suspect was rounded up.

A youth who tallies with the description given by Miss Leedham to the police, was pulled out of bed at an early hour yesterday morning and taken to the police station where Miss Leedham was called to identify him. She failed to identify the suspect.

The description of the robber, according to Miss Leedham, was of a man 28 years old, 5 feet 7 inches high, stockily built, but rather tall and smooth shaven.

DUTIES ON CITRUS FRUITS

Fight Over Reduction is Feature of Debate

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The fight over the probable reduction in duties on citrus fruits opened today's debate on the tariff bill in the house. Despite the pressing of the bill as rapidly as possible by the democratic leaders, the agricultural schedule, perhaps the vehicle of the last vigorous opposition by the minority had not been finished at last night's session. The schedules relating to wines, spirits and beverages and cotton, wool, silks, paper and sundries were on in sight early today and likely to be acted upon before the close of tonight's session, except in the contingency of an unexpected protracted struggle against free raw wool. The California delegation in the house opposes the proposed cutting of the rates on fruits. The main opposition is to the provision that lemons in packages exceeding five cubic feet or in bulk shall be taxed one-half of one cent a pound. This is a cut of 60 per cent in the present tariff.

BRIBED GRAFT WITNESS

N. Y. Police Inspectors' Trial Continues

NEW YORK, May 2.—District Attorney Whitman expected to finish the presentation of evidence in the trial of former Police Inspectors Sweeney, Thompson, Murtha and Hussey, charged with conspiracy to obstruct justice with the examination of Jacob Rouss, a lawyer who did not finish his testimony yesterday and Edward J. Newell, also a lawyer, both involved in the transactions by which the four inspectors are alleged to have bribed two graft witnesses not to testify against them, the state expected to rest its case.

What the defense will be has not been made known but it was hinted today that the attorneys for the defendants will seek first to prove alibi and then to prove that George A. Sipp, the disorderly housekeeper and the chief witness in the graft revelations which involved the inspectors was inspired to testify in revenge for having his place raided.

WOMAN MURDERS BOY! BIG SUFFRAGETTE PARADE!

Says She Tried to Kill His Father Pageant Planned for Tomorrow

CHICAGO, May 2.—Clarence Murphy, 21 years of age, son of a saloon keeper at Gary, Ind., was shot and instantly killed early yesterday in his father's place of business when he attempted to eject Mrs. Grace Smith, 35 years old.

Mrs. Smith fled in an automobile to the home of a sister in Chicago, where later she was arrested. Arthur Greyson 31 years of age, was with the woman when she was taken into custody. They were taken back to Gary to be held until the inquest has been concluded.

The shooting followed a quarrel between Mrs. Smith and Harry Murphy, proprietor of the saloon. Clarence Murphy ordered Mrs. Smith out of the place and when she stepped toward her to enforce the command, she drew a revolver and fired five shots, one bullet taking effect in his heart. "I meant to shoot Old Man Murphy and not his son," Mrs. Smith told the police. "He treated me cruelly and I wanted to get revenge."

in automobiles will appeal to the people at the Plaza at Fifth avenue and 55th street and a great mass meeting will be held in Carnegie hall at which prominent men and women workers for the cause from neighboring states will be present.

PISTOL DUEL ON
lionaire Passenger—Both Badly Injured—Other Victims

Trail of Blood
The bandit escaped. Bleeding from wounds he received in a pistol duel with Shori, he left a trail of blood as he fled from the scene of the robbery. This trail was followed by the law his tracks until he arrived at the Blue River, almost a mile from the point where he jumped from the train. Here the trail stopped abruptly and his pursuers expressed the belief that he continued his flight in a boat. It was suggested that he might have had a confederate awaiting him at the river.

Carried Two Pistols
The train was just pulling out of the depot here when a tall man ran out of the darkness of the railroad yards and climbed up the steps of the observation car. He carried two pistols. Oscar Allen, a negro porter who saw him board the train rushed out and ordered him away. The robber covered him with his pistol, saying: "I am going to put over a trick here. You sit down there and be quiet; I will need you." After the train had proceeded about a mile, the robber ordered Allen to go ahead of him through the train. In the sitting room of the observation car were W. J. Seaford of New City, Mo., and F. A. Seaford of Eureka Springs, Ark.

Demanded Money
The robber's voice trembled as he demanded their valuables, but they offered no resistance, and gave money and jewelry amounting to about $200. Then the desperado flung back the curtains of Shori's berth and poked his pistol into the sleeper's face, demanding money. He got it, but as he turned away Shori snatched a revolver from beneath his pillow and fired. The robber returned the fire and both men emptied their weapons, each shooting blindly through the curtain. One bullet struck Shori's forehead and went through an arm and a third lodged in his knee. Shori fell back in his berth, and the robber fled toward the rear of the train. Passengers in other cars aroused by the shots followed him. They saw him back out of the door of the observation car and drop from the train which was just being brought to a stop. He left blood stains in places and on the car platform and the physicians said he was badly hurt.

Leaped From Train
F. C. Gibson, conductor in charge of the train when he heard the shooting, secured a pistol and, accompanied by a porter, a brakeman and express messenger started for the Pullman car. Before they could clear the aisles of passengers so they could use their weapons the robber had leaped from the train.

Victim a Millionaire
Shori is one of the wealthiest mine-owners of Jasper county, operating zinc and lead mines in that district. Six years ago he was a minor working for wages.

Shori was able to make a statement regarding the robbery after his arrival at the hospital.

$1000 in Pocketbook
"I had two pocketbooks concealed in my berth," he said, "one containing a thousand dollars in currency and in the other were just a few dollars. It is my custom to divide my money in this manner when traveling with a large sum. I had always figured in case of robbery that I would surrender the purse containing the smaller sum. When the robber shook me and demanded my money I was for an instant confused and only half awake. During this interval I moved the pillow and shoved back the covers exposing the purse containing the larger amount. Realizing what I had done I tried to hide the purse in the bedclothes again but the robber was too quick for me. 'What was that?' he asked the porter. 'A pocketbook,' was the answer. 'Reach in and get it,' the robber commanded, and despite my efforts to prevent it the porter grabbed the purse and handed it to the robber. As he turned away I got my gun from under the pillow and opened fire. He returned the shots and disabled me. He failed, however, to get a diamond ring valued at $2000 and seven twenty dollar gold pieces which were in a pocket of my trousers."

CIVIL SESSION SUSPENDED

at Superior Court

The case of Greenache vs. Boston & Maine railroad which has for some time been occupying the superior civil court, was suspended this morning for a period to enable the attorneys to hold a consultation in which they will make an attempt to agree upon the amount of the verdict. In case the agreement is reached, the case will go to the supreme court on points of law, but if they fail to come to a definite understanding, the case will be given to the jury.

Kierman vs. Sparpas
The next case called was that of Victoria Kierman vs. Sparpas, an action of tort in which plaintiff seeks to recover for injuries alleged to have been received while in the employ of the defendant. Plaintiff charges that she was employed in a laundry in Cushing street owned by Sparpas and that while at work there she had her hand caught between two large rollers, causing the member to be badly burned. Hegon brothers, Esqs. represent the plaintiff and the defense is upheld by William H. Bent.

MELLEN REFUSES TO BE EXAMINEDPresident of New Haven Says His Policies Were Honest and Stock
Transfers Were Bona Fide

BOSTON, May 2.—President Mellen of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, appearing in his own defense before the interstate commerce commission today, gave an unexpected explanation of some of the figures in the New Haven books.

According to the government expert accountant, David Brown, there appeared an apparent profit made by Mr. Mellen personally by trading in the stock of the railroad company of $102,000. The first thing that Mr. Mellen did when he took the stand this morning was to declare that the money in question had been expended by him in political contributions in 1904. Fifty thousand dollars went to the republican national campaign fund and other amounts to aid republican state campaigns in New York, Connecticut and Rhode Island. Mr. Mellen advanced the money and the railroad company reimbursed him.

Mr. Mellen made this statement: "The transactions were by which 19,555 shares of New Haven stock were sold to me in March, 1904, and I gave my notes to the New England Navigation Co."

"This stock was treasury stock and had to be listed on the stock exchange in order to be sold to the public."

"In order to list it, it was sold to me and I gave my notes to the company which held the stock as collateral until sold. "All these shares were sold at the best obtainable prices and the entire proceeds, together with the dividends, paid to the company's treasury."

"The company received approximately $102,000 more than the price at which the stock was sold to me."

Transaction Bona Fide
"The transaction was bona fide and at the time it was made without any expectation that any excess over the selling price to me would be realized."

A COAL TAR REFINING PLANT

To be Built by Lowell Gas Light Company in School Street—
Other New Buildings

The Lowell Gas Light company will erect a tar still plant for the purpose of refining coal tar. The plant will consist of a tar still fifteen feet high and thirteen feet in diameter and an elevated condenser set on a steel frame. The building will include two storage tanks with a capacity of 15,000 gallons and will be erected alongside the railroad tracks and purifying house near School street bridge. The building will be erected in accordance with district police requirements and the estimated cost is $7000. A permit for the building was issued at the office of the inspector of buildings at city hall this forenoon.

Other New Buildings
A. J. Flanders has been issued a permit for the erection of a dwelling at 34 Howard street. The building will be 24 by 34 feet, two stories, 8 rooms, pantry and bath and the estimated cost is $2500.

Joseph Boudreau will build a story and one-half cottage house in Baldwin street. The permit to build was issued today. The building will be 21 by 43 feet, will have 7 rooms, pantry and bath and the estimated cost is $2000.

Carl G. Phil will build a dwelling house in Bourne street. The building will be 28 by 28 feet, two stories, 7 rooms, pantry and bath and the estimated cost is $2500.

WANT STREET OILED
Sprinkling Car Nuisance
in Andover Street

The people out Andover street way want the street oiled instead of watered and some missionary work is being done among the commissioners at city hall. There was an order went in a few days ago for the repair of a portion of Andover street and it looks as if the improvements asked for would be made.

One of the missionaries called at Commissioner Barrett's office today while the writer was there and he convinced Mr. Barrett that Andover street should be repaired. The water supply was also touched upon and Mr. Barrett wasn't so sure but what it would be a good scheme to lay a 12 inch pipe in Andover street.

The visitor told Mr. Barrett that the watering of Andover street was a nuisance inasmuch as every time the sprinkling car was filled it so rolled the water as to make it unfit for use for hours at a time for domestic purposes. And not only that, he said, but the street electric watering often enough to keep the dust from rising and the situation, as a whole, is very bad.

Water From Canals
During the course of the conversation Mr. Barrett said he thought it might be feasible for the sprinkling car to get their water from the canals. "Canal water is just as good for street watering as any other," he said, "and it would do away with the trouble caused by the cars being filled from the mains. We have received numerous complaints about the condition of the water due to the filling of the cars and I think it would not be so convenient for the sprinklers if we could draw their water for sprinkling purposes from the canals. The cars have the power to operate a high water pumping engine and I think the scheme would work out all right."

City Hall Notes
The purchasing agent will call for bids on a car of oats for the street department within a few days. The purchasing agent has made requisition on the highway commission for 1350 copies of street lists of assessed poles and bids for the printing will open in a few days.

Eighteen would-be chauffeurs took the examination at the city hall this forenoon. Mr. Hubbell, representing the highway commission, gave the examinations. Examinations for chauffeurs are held every Friday at city hall.

The fountain at the Chelmsford Street hospital has been out of repair for some time and Supt. Dow called at the office of the water department at city hall today to find out about it. The fountain will be going full blast in a day or two.

The municipal council will meet tonight and will continue the business left over from yesterday's meeting. The only real business transacted at yesterday's meeting was the adoption of the $75,000 loan order for the water department.

The school committee will meet tonight, the meeting having been postponed from Tuesday night because of the death of Committee-man Farrington's father.

20,000 Miners Quit Work
CARDIFF, May 2.—Twenty thousand coal miners today laid down their tools at various pits in South Wales as a protest against the employment of non-unionist workmen in the mines.

THAT $75,000
WATER LOANCommissioner Barrett and Ex-Alderman Gallagher Make Statements

Commissioner Andrew E. Barrett had something more to say today about his controversy with ex-Alderman Jas. J. Gallagher, the meeting of the municipal council yesterday. He said that Mr. Gallagher was absolutely wrong in his statements, and that he must have been wrong intentionally or else he did not spend sufficient time in preparing his data and corroborating his facts.

"I repeat," said Mr. Barrett, "that Mr. Gallagher did not state facts. He said that hydrants were purchased last year by special loan. That was wrong. He said that the water department paid the Pratt & Cady company $1938 for hydrants. That was wrong. The water department purchased only 75 hydrants last year. The cost of each hydrant was $27.79, making a total of $2085.90. These hydrants were paid for out of the regular appropriation. Mr. Gallagher bunched hydrants, gates and valves, and arrived at a sum that pleased him, but he was up the wrong street."

All of the gates and valves used on the new reservoir were purchased last year and they were purchased by special loan, the loan that included the reservoir. We are going to buy 75 hydrants this year and they will be paid for out of the regular appropriation, as was the case last year.

Relative to the statement made by Mr. Gallagher to the effect that meeting general department work were paid out of special loans in order that the department might make a good showing in its regular revenues, Mr. Barrett produced the payroll book and pointed out to the reporters that only men employed on special work were paid from the special loan. The men employed on the wells, the reservoir and the pumping station were paid out of the appropriation for that work, and the men doing ordinary department work were paid out of the general appropriation.

Mr. Gallagher Again
James J. Gallagher, former alderman, says he has not done with Commissioner Barrett, the $75,000 loan for the extension of mains, reduction in water rates, etc., and he will prepare more data to be handed out later. He still insists that Mr. Barrett owes him an apology for stating at the meeting of the municipal council yesterday that his (Gallagher's) statement, relative to the purchase of hydrants by special loan was untrue.

Mr. Gallagher stated yesterday that Commissioner Barrett asked for the $75,000 loan in order to furnish citizens the 20 per cent reduction in water rates and he insinuated that the so-called reduction in water rates was a bluff, pure and simple.

"I did not start this controversy for the purpose of getting my name in the newspapers," said Mr. Gallagher, today. "I knew that the $75,000 loan order was coming up for final action and as I am interested in the city's welfare, and always have been, I attended the meeting to exercise my rights as a citizen. I do not think that the city of Lowell should borrow $75,000 for the extension of mains, and I do not think there is any need for a double water main system in Lowell. Mr. Barrett says there ought to be a second main, but the one main should break. To follow out that argument to its logical conclusion we ought to have more than two mains, perhaps, lest the two mains should 'go broke' at one and the same time."

"The water department ought to do all of its work out of its revenues and if Mr. Barrett believes that two water mains are necessary, why doesn't he arrange to spend a certain amount each year? Why not have two city halls, lest one be burned down?"

"I have proof for all that I said at the meeting yesterday and I will say more and state more facts when the proper time comes. I called attention to two main facts yesterday. I said that when you are working employees of the department on special loan payrolls you are saving money on the regular revenues of that department, and I asked the question: Also are repairs, etc., to be charged up to the making of new improvements and extensions?"

MILLS TO STOP SMOKE NUISANCE

Smoke Inspector Gets Them Moving—Letters From the Mill Officials

The mills of Lowell will do all in their power to assist the local smoke inspector in making Lowell a smokeless town. The different corporations have gone to a great deal of expense and the smoke inspector is very much pleased with the spirit of co-operation that is being made manifest.

Smoke Inspector Riley had a conference with the mayor this morning and made a report to the mayor. The inspector has talked with representatives of all of the mills and one of the very interesting things contained in his report had to do with the Prescott mills. Mr. Riley says that these mills will take out all of their tube boilers and will sell them for junk. He said that the chimney would probably be dispensed with too as the plan is to get power from the Massachusetts mills. The Prescott mills are part of the Massachusetts corporation and the power generated in the Massachusetts mills will be carried in a sluiceway underground to the Prescott mills. Steam for heating, slushers, etc., will be provided in the same way.

The Massachusetts supplied 19 of its boilers with smoke preventive devices last year and there are eight boilers yet to be supplied with similar devices. The device is known as the Murphy stoker.

Merrimack Mills Smokeless
Inspector Riley claims it will be but a question of time when the Merrimack mills will be almost absolutely smokeless. The Merrimack is using the Murphy stoker. This corporation is removing a number of old boilers and replacing them with new Babcock & Wilcox boilers and when the job has been finished smoke will be a great deal less of a problem. If there is one among you who would object let him cast the first stone or spitball.

The Appleton Mills
It will take the Appleton mills about three months more to complete their work in getting to go to the expense of installing a special apparatus for the prevention of smoke, as equipment of that kind is not available now without naturally becoming useless when the plant is re-equipped.

Again assuring you that we will use our best efforts to operate our plant with as little smoke as possible and trusting to have your co-operation and suggestions, we beg to remain,

Very truly yours,
Saco-Loell Shops,
A. W. Thompson, Agent.

planning for an abatement of the smoke nuisance, and the following letters received by the smoke inspector have to do with the subject:

The Boot Mills
Mr. Charles Riley, Smoke Inspector.

Dear Sir: In confirmation and as a matter of record of our conversation this morning with you, we beg to advise you that the American Power company, of Boston, Mass., has agreed to make an evaporative test twenty-four hours long, with and without their smoke appliance attached to a horizontal return tubular boiler, and provided this smoke appliance does not increase the fuel consumption over 2 1/2 per cent, I will strenuously recommend to the Boot Mills that they apply this apparatus on all of their boilers.

A copy of this letter is being sent to Mr. E. W. Thomas, agent of the company, and Mr. Frederic A. Flather, treasurer.

Yours truly,
John A. Stevens, Engineer.

Saco-Loell Shops
Lowell, Mass., April 17, 1913.
Smoke Inspection Department, Lowell, Mass.

Gentlemen: Confirming our conversation of today with Mr. Riley, we wish to advise you of our sincere desire to co-operate with you to insure the operation of our plant with as little smoke as possible, with the least possible amount of smoke.

As stated to you, we shall probably in the course of a few years improve our steam plant, and the new equipment which would in all probability be then installed would naturally tend to reduce the smoke emissions to a minimum.

Pending the time when this re-equipment becomes possible, we do not desire to go to the expense of installing a special apparatus for the prevention of smoke, as equipment of that kind is not available now without naturally becoming useless when the plant is re-equipped.

Again assuring you that we will use our best efforts to operate our plant with as little smoke as possible and trusting to have your co-operation and suggestions, we beg to remain,

Very truly yours,
Saco-Loell Shops,
A. W. Thompson, Agent.

The ambulance made a hurry call to the Hamilton mills this morning at 9:25 o'clock in answer to a call from the speed room of the plant. Mary Franks had the index finger on her right hand badly crushed and she was taken to the Lowell hospital where the injured member was treated. Her hand got caught in the machine which was operating and the finger was nearly taken off.

"Ramona is a capricious girl, young and vivacious," he said. "She is headstrong and hard to bring up. I have tried many ways to give her an education. Perhaps she has had too much money. The fact that she has become united with her mother is no reason why I should again live with my wife." Ramona had another sister to tell. "I wanted a home," she said. BOYS' CIRCUS A SUCCESS

The members of the Pawtucketville Boys' club held their second annual circus last night, and again met with splendid success. The affair was held in the vestry of the Pawtucket Congregational church and was very largely attended, the spectators showing their deep appreciation of the many acts by their frequent applause.

The vestry was transformed into a veritable circus tent with a spacious stand surrounding the ring. The first number on the program consisted of a parade, which included wild animals of all descriptions, clowns and other freaks as are seen in a regular circus. This was followed by a number of pleasing acts by acrobats, bicycle riders, clowns and other circus performers.

During the circus an orchestra under the direction of Miss Goldie M. Gardner rendered excellent music. The members of the orchestra were as follows: Violins, Frederick Mulgrave, Richard Shea, Clyde Richburg, Clement Sheppard, Orla Letourneau, Carl Swanson and Paul Turcotte; mandolins, Misses Grace McMahon, Teresa McDermott and Mabel Armstrong; drum, David Kinghorn, and pianist, William McManell.

Other interesting feats were the acrobatic work of the Buzing Brothers, A. J. Wicke, physical director at the Y. M. C. A., and Charles Barton, the Pawtucketville Boys' club drill under the direction of Thomas R. Williams, and a demonstration of first aid to the injured by the following Scouts: First Class Scouts Harold Hodge, Clarence Bacon, B. De la Haye, John Buchanan, Chester Durant and Scoutmaster James Kibber.

The members of the Pawtucketville Boys' club drum corps are: Director, Mr. McCann; files, A. Grant and R. Chadwick; drums, W. Bartlett, F. Mulgrave, F. Nichols, D. Taylor, D. Kinghorn, and cymbals, George Taylor.

The members of the clown band were: G. Taylor, A. Grant, T. Hoyle, F. McAdams, C. Curran, McKinley, C. Mathison, T. Taber, D. Taylor, R. Chadwick, H. Trevors, W. Bartlett and F. Nichols.

The charioters were: J. Coburn, A. Grant, T. Hoyle and W. Bartlett. Charioteers, W. Sturtevant, J. Buckley, D. McKinley and F. McAdams.

Wild animals, monkey, I. Chadwick; tiger, J. Buckley, and lion, A. Douglas. The elephant's ladies were: A. Farley and G. Frazier. The tumbler and acrobats were: G. Taylor, D. Taylor, W. Bartlett, A. Putnam, A. Farley, J. Mansfield, F. Nichols, D. Kinghorn, W. Fadden, C. Mathison, R. Bristford, J. Barry, C. Fling, A. Grant, W. Sturtevant, A. Spence, F. Nichols, J. Howker, T. Taber, B. McAusland, E. Clark, F. McAdams and W. Book. The committee in charge was: G. B. Tanner, Ray McAusland, Alonzo Putnam and John J. Mowker.

The managers of the show were Thomas R. Williams of the Y. M. C. A., and Scoutmaster James Kibber of North Cleevesford.

"My New Studebaker"

There's a note of pride in the remark. To own a Studebaker buggy is to own the finest, classiest looking, lightest running vehicle on the road.

Slender, yet sturdy wheels, flexible bent-reach gear of the new Studebaker pattern, well proportioned, graceful lines, upholstery of the kind that makes you want to lean back and enjoy yourself, and the Studebaker double ironed shafts, strong and shapely.

Why wouldn't any man be proud to own a Studebaker?

Bay State Maintains Lead—The Lowell Bleachery Company to Build $250,000 Factory

The Lowell Bleachery of this city has alone the figure reaches a total of definitely determined to build a $250,000 factory in St. Louis, Mo. The concern will build on the land purchased some time ago, and it is expected that work will be started on the factory in the very near future.

The Textile Industry

There is no doubt, says the Boston Herald, that the prosperity of the textile industry is a matter of tremendous moment to the country at large and to New England and Massachusetts in particular. The United States today is making more than one-fourth of the cotton cloth of the world, nearly one-fifth of the woolen cloth and more than one-fourth of the linen. The other branches of this great business are of hardly less importance.

Perhaps the most striking way to bring home the enormous scope of this one phase of manufacturing is to quote the truly stupendous amount of money invested—$1,611,242,131. That figure represents the capitalization of more than the United States, while in Massachusetts the figure reaches a total of $288,725,906. Scattered throughout the country are 1532 establishments devoted to textile manufacturing, and these give employment to an army of operatives numbering nearly a million. In wages more than $225,000,000 is paid annually, and the value of the product is fixed in excess of $1,450,000,000. Of raw materials the country consumes in cotton $211,000,000 annually and in the same period 510,000,000 pounds of wool.

Growth of Massachusetts

The remarkable growth of Massachusetts as a textile center is evidenced by the fact that the cotton mills employ more than 150,000 hands and the woolen mills more than 60,000. In all its branches the industry requires 120,000 operatives of all classes. Invested in the production of cotton goods in this state is a sum roughly estimated at $214,000,000, and in the production of woolen goods $147,000,000 more. Linen represents the capitalization of more than $17,000,000, hosiery and knit goods by

MISS MADERO A BRIDE

Sister of Mexico's Slain President Weds

NEW YORK, May 2.—Senorita Mercedes Madero, sister of the slain president of Mexico, brought to a happy climax a romance dating back to peaceful days in her native land when she was married to Senor Antonio G. Canalizo. None but members of the Madero family, who are in New York, attended the ceremony. Senor Canalizo, who is wealthy, was a member of the Mexican congress from Lower California when Madero was president. He is a member of an old Mexican family, his grandfather having been president of Mexico three times before the rise of Porfirio Diaz. At present he is living in exile. The romance had its beginning in the days before Madero took up his sword against President Porfirio Diaz. Senor Canalizo and his family joined the Madero revolt, and not long after Madero was inaugurated president, the betrothal of his sister to Canalizo was announced.

Massachusetts Mills

In the manufacture of cotton goods alone New England's leading position has long been recognized. The name of New Bedford is sufficient guarantee for excellence in the fine goods field, while Fall River is no less important in the production of coarse goods. New England spinners number close to 16,000,000.

New Bedford alone has the capacity of producing each year 150,000,000 yards of fine cotton cloth. In addition it also produces the finest yarns in the world. It is no exaggeration to say that this one city produces more fine cotton goods than is placed on the market by all the rest of the country. Now to the greater public is the cloth used for architects' drawing. For the manufacture of this particular grade the city has the largest factory in the world.

Fall River's output is equally stupendous. There the mills turn out annually 1,200,000 yards of cloth, using for the purpose an amount of cotton in excess of 500,000 bales. For the running of the plants 350,000 tons of coal and 400,000 gallons of oil are demanded and the item of starch reaches something close to 1,000,000 pounds.

Nearly all the cloth is of course constructed and 65 per cent of it is for printing purposes. Fall River's working army numbers 34,000 operatives, who are employed in 33 mills, with 4,000,000 spindles and 97,000 looms. The capital invested is more than $30,000,000.

Lowell and Lawrence are the great cotton manufacturing centers of Massachusetts. In the former city there are mills which maintain a working force of 14,000, and operate 1,000,000 spindles and 25,000 looms and are capitalized at $12,000,000.

Lawrence which boasts of the largest single cotton mill in the world, at the Everett mills, has an equal importance with her sister city. Lawrence mills represent an investment of $15,000,000, with 600,000 spindles, 14,000 looms and 16,000 operatives.

In New Haverhill, Manchester has gathered together the most notable group with 850,000 spindles, 25,000 looms, 15,000 operatives and a capitalization of $10,000,000. In Maine, Lewiston has mills with capital of $8,000,000, with 400,000 spindles, 5000 looms and a working force of 3000 operatives.

TARIFF EFFECT

Domestic Mills Will Adapt Themselves to Styles More Readily Than Some Anticipate

A New York correspondent to the Boston Transcript says that several experienced importers of cotton goods are not sanguine of making the large profits on foreign lines that others contemplate. They say that domestic mills will adapt themselves to styles much more readily than manufacturers now anticipate when they are pressed to meet even such foreign competition as the present Underwood bill forbade. Fully a dozen men employed by converting houses are now abroad looking into the possibilities of developing foreign sources of supply for fancy cotton goods. They anticipate that the tariff bill will make it possible for them to import much larger quantities at a profit.

So far as can be foreseen the men who make fancy shirtings will feel the hardest competition. It will be possible for foreign manufacturers to confine styles if they receive American orders, and many already are willing to do so on the limited amount of business they still do here. The fancy goods, decorated with silk and generally of a madras character, are made abroad more cheaply than here. If any substantial part of the present production is withdrawn the trade will go to the Manchester firms that specialize in shirtings and in dress cottons of a similar character.

from 50 per cent. foreign to 50 per cent. domestic, has little expectation of doing more than a 35 per cent. import business, even under the drastic reductions now suggested. In connection with cloths which bid fair to be popular, the head of this house recently said: "We can do better on everything under $4 at home." The story in this house is of the opinion that American-made cloths have a distinct character and will sell, because of it, against most of the foreign cloths obtainable.

We're Some Shippers
American cotton cloths, colored or printed, went last year to about 20 countries and colonies to the extent of 11 1/2 million dollars' value, the countries of destination including the Canary Islands, Liberia, Asiatic Russia, Paraguay, the French West Indies, Dutch Guiana, Hongkong, Turkey in Asia, New Zealand, Portuguese Africa, the Philippine Islands, the United Kingdom, France, Germany, and Belgium. American sewing machines, of which the exports last year were practically 10 million dollars' value, went to 50 different countries and colonies; over 4 million dollars' worth of them to Europe, the remainder being widely distributed, the points of destination including Madagascar, the Canary Islands, German territory in Africa, Spain, Persia, Korea, Liberia, Egypt, Santo Domingo, Trinidad, and Malia, while typewriters went to 70 countries and cash registers to sixty.

American manufacturers are now finding markets in every country and colony of the world. More than one hundred countries, colonies, and dependencies are included in the list of world communities to which the products of the United States are distributed, and manufacturers go to practically all of them.

BLIND MAN SEEKS WIFE

Lynn Man Asks Police to Help Him

BOSTON, May 2.—"Please help me find my wife. I am almost blind and cannot live without her," said George Bell of Nelson street, Lynn, when he felt his way carefully into the Lynn police station yesterday.

Then Bell went on to explain that he had had trouble with his wife Sunday, and that she had left home, vowing that she would find some desirable quarters in which to live.

WIFE WON BY AD SUES

Says Husband Had Too Much Temperament

BOSTON, May 2.—Montgomery C. Gannon, manager of the Quinby Jewelry company, has been sued for divorce and also for separate support and his bank account attached by the wife whom he had married within a month after he advertised in a local paper for a home in a private family.

Mrs. Gannon was the divorced wife of George T. Lee, an East Boston blacksmith, by whom she had three sons. She was divorced in 1906.

In answer to his advertisement, Mrs. Gannon states, he received the following answer: "I am sorry I have no stable or shed where you can keep your auto. I am a widow, 39 years old, living alone. If you care to call, telephone No. —. I will give you my name later."

It was love at first sight for him, he said, and after a trip to Portland where they were married in February, 1912, about a month after he took up his abode with her, they returned to this city to live.

Mrs. Lee represented herself to him, he said, as about 35 years of age. Later, he claims he learned that she was 45 years of age.

Mrs. Gannon ascribes their difficulties as too much temperance on his part. She admits that he has some good qualities.

Line Up For the Bargain of My Career

I suppose nothing I ever offered to the people of Lowell did more to increase my business than my serge specials.

As an extraordinary offering, which you must not expect me to be able at all times to duplicate, I place on sale for FRIDAY and SATURDAY, my famous summer suit of BLUE SERGE or BROWN serge, made to order, $10.00

Coats cut as long as you like, full concaved shoulders, or narrow, or medium shoulder as you dictate. Trousers full peg, half peg, or narrow, with plain bottom or permanent turnup, 2, 2 1-2 or 3 inch cuff; anything you want for the asking.

SKEPTICS TAKE NOTICE—You didn't used to think I could produce a good suit to order for $12.50. By the slow proof of four years of seeing with your eyes, hearing with your ears, now you know, now you believe, now you buy $12.50 suits and you are satisfied.

I WANT NEW CUSTOMERS

MY OLD CUSTOMERS know they can have the advantage of every special offer that I make. In extending myself by this special reduction to make new customers, I expect the old customers to avail themselves of this opportunity. But bring in the new customer. At these prices he knows my only profit is in making him a regular customer.

I ought to add thousands of new names to my list of customers during this special sale. With the increased cost of custom clothing under the union regulations now prevailing everywhere, you must know that I am exerting myself to make friends when I take orders at this price.

Buy one on my recommendation. The suit you order from me carries with it an iron-clad willingness to make you new garments if my help fall down on the fitting. I don't want my customers to wear a garment that doesn't send in their friends.

Senate Employee Has Survived All Changes

WASHINGTON, May 2.—One employee of the senate at least has not been a victim of the change in administration and the chances are he will not be. He is Charles N. Richards, 72 years old, superintendent of the senate stationery room, who today starts on his 50th year of service. Mr. Richards began his service in the senate in the days when Charles Sumner and Henry Wilson were the senators from Massachusetts, his native state.

"This is the third time that the democrats have had a chance to 'top off' my official head," said Mr. Richards today, "and they have not done it yet. What's the reason? Here are three: First, I am a stationery clerk; secondly, they want a sample of the old records to show just what a bad lot we were; and, thirdly, they seem to want me to stay, and I want to stay more than they want to have me. There is not a senator, member of the house or member of the supreme court who was in office when I began my work here."

PLEAD FOR EXECUTION

Women Score the Law's Delay in Assault Case

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Women of Washington went to the District of Columbia court of appeals yesterday with a protest against the law's delay in the execution of Nathaniel Greene, a negro convicted and sentenced to be hanged for assaulting Mrs. Adelaide Grant.

The crime was committed last Christmas night, almost in the shadow of the dome of the National capitol. Greene was sentenced to die March 25, but has been reprieved twice, his counsel fighting for a new trial on the ground that the court erred in refusing to accept a plea of guilty which would have made the negro immune from the death penalty.

The women urged amendment of the statute which provides that unless the jury recommends capital punishment in assault cases the maximum penalty shall be 30 years in prison.

"Pending an amendment to the law," said the petitioners, "we women of Washington are dependent for protection upon the interpretation of the law by your honorable court and, while in no way attempting to influence your decision, we most ardently desire to protest against an extended hearing on technical grounds alone."

Six Militants Arraigned Today

LONDON, May 2.—Bow street police court was crowded today when a band of six militant suffragettes who were arrested in the police raid on the headquarters of the Women's social and political union on Wednesday were brought up before the magistrate on a charge of conspiracy under the malicious damage to property act. Beside "General" Mrs. Flora Drummond, Miss Harriet R. Kerr, Miss Agnes Lake, Miss Rachel Barrett, Miss Laura Lennox and Mrs. Beatrice Saunders were Miss Annie Kenney, arrested yesterday on her arrival from the continent, Clayton, the analytical chemist taken into custody last night at Richmond, and Sydney Drew, the printer of yesterday's issue of the Suffragette, who was arrested today.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Frank W. Carleton and Miss Janet Peterson were married yesterday afternoon by Rev. August Manuel at the Olney Street Baptist church. The wedding match and other selections were played by Miss Hannah Bengtson. The bride wore a gown of white silk with a long train and carried bride's roses, while the bridesmaid, Miss Mary Peterson of Fitchburg, was gowned in blue charmeuse with a blue silk cap to match, and she carried white carnations.

Mr. Stephen Foss of Leominster acted as best man. The couple left on an extended wedding trip and will reside at 19 Lundberg street.

LOCOMOTIVE ENGINEER HAS REMARKABLE EXPERIENCE

I have been thinking that word from me would benefit those who may be suffering as I was before I began taking your Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. I am a locomotive engineer, employed on the Tyrone & Clearfield branch of the Pennsylvania railroad. Three years ago I was afflicted with kidney and bladder trouble so bad that I was compelled to lay off duty from my engine and was in the care of two doctors. However their medicine did not benefit me. One day I noticed your advertisement, to send name and address for a sample bottle of Swamp-Root. At this time my trouble had reached a serious stage. I sent for the sample bottle and in three days received a small bottle of Swamp-Root, which I took according to directions, and by the time I had taken the contents, I could pass water more freely. I was so pleased with my experiment that I sent my wife to the drug store of W. H. Milick, Phillipsburg, Pa. and secured a $1.00 bottle. I continued taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root until I was entirely cured. Now whenever I feel any pain or soreness after being exposed to bad weather or hard work, I take a dose or two of Swamp-Root. I cannot recommend this remedy too highly, especially to brother engineers who are more or less troubled with their kidneys (more than any other class of men.)

Yours truly,

TO LEAD BIG STRIKE DIES FROM WOUNDS

Head of Trainmen May Revere Girl Was Shot by Rejected Lover

NEW YORK, May 2.—W. G. Lea, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, may be called upon to lead a strike that will tie up fifty-four eastern railroads, aided by A. B.

Garretson, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Conductors. These two men head the organizations, representing 100,000 men, which have demanded an increase of 15 per cent. in wages. The railroad managers have declined to grant the demands. In their answer the managers point out that to avert a strike in 1910 they granted the conductors and trainmen an increase in wages aggregating $30,000,000. The present increase of $17,000,000 demanded would be equivalent to placing on their properties a lien of $125,000,000 of 4 per cent. securities, the burden of which would fall upon the public. "We hold the public interest paramount," the statement declares. It is hoped the demands will be arbitrated, as was done in the case of the engineers and firemen.

POPE TO RESUME WORK

Will Receive Cardinals Tomorrow

BOSTON, May 2.—Without having regained consciousness since she had been shot down by David Piscopo, her former fiance, in a frenzy induced by disappointed love, Miss Tina De Francesco, 19 years old, died at 6.30 last evening at the Massachusetts General hospital.

Letters found beside Piscopo's body indicated that, while his engagement to Miss De Francesco had been broken, she still loved him and longed for the day when her father's objections to him might be overcome. An undated letter made it appear that they might have met on Thursday, although it was the belief of the girl's parents that they had not met since Miss De Francesco gave Piscopo back his engagement ring, last July.

Piscopo had carefully planned the death of Miss De Francesco and himself. On Thursday he bargained for the purchase of the house next to that in which the De Francescos live, and thus got possession of its keys. After completing his work at the drug store on Thursday night he went to that house. It is supposed, and resting on a mattress in the attic, waited for morning and the time when Miss De Francesco would leave home for her work in a Boston department store. A few minutes previous to her start for work he descended to the rear window of the second story and when she stepped out of the door at the back of her home he fired both barrels of a shotgun at her head. He then killed himself.

122nd Anniversary of the Drawing Up of Poland's Constitution Tomorrow

Tomorrow is the 122nd anniversary of the drawing up of Poland's constitution, which is held in the same manner as the drawing up of the Polish constitution in 1791. The Polish people in America will hold the first celebration of this anniversary in the city of Lowell. The entire day and evening will be devoted to the celebration and a grand gala day is looked forward to by all day that has ever been inaugurated here. All of Poland's children who are in business in Lowell will close up their shops and the day will be devoted to a native celebration. The greatest feature will be the "tag-day," which will be attended by the Polish young ladies of the city, moving into more spacious apartments. There will be a large number of girls, and young women at all of the downtown street corners and along the main thoroughfares of the city who will be armed with huge baskets of flowers. These flowers, it is planned, will be the physical training of the

Railroad Men Notify Trainmen

NEW YORK, May 2.—According to railroad representatives there will be no arbitration for the demand for more money made by 100,000 conductors and trainmen on railroads of the eastern district. Managers of the railroads so notified representatives of the conductors and trainmen at a joint meeting today. In declining to arbitrate the managers repeated their reasons for refusing to accede to the demand in the first place, namely, that the proposed increase would add $17,000,000 to their pay rolls, that liberal wages were already paid and that present freight rates would not permit the roads to advance wages further. The employees had asked the managers to arbitrate under the Erdmann act. Further conferences are expected. Representatives of the trainmen and conductors said they would frame a reply to the roads this afternoon, then return to their respective headquarters and call meetings preparatory to taking a strike vote.

HEN COOP RAIDERS

In Police Court—Held for High Court

Archie Gagnon found out this morning that honesty is the best policy and that the way of the transgressor is indeed hard. This is the young man who was caught with a 11-year-old companion about a week ago with a meal bag full of hens, seven live ones and one with its neck rung. At that time the owner of the hens was unknown but the fact that the two boys were found on the street at 5 o'clock in the morning with a bag full of squabbling hens seemed sufficient evidence to the arresting officers that everything was not just as it should be.

The boys confessed to Supt. Welsh a short time after their arrest that they had made repeated raids on hen coops in the city, and many of the mysterious losses of poultry were accounted for.

The story told the superintendent of police made him suspicious of the father of young Gagnon and a visit was made to his home and the premises searched. He was immediately arrested on the charge of having received stolen property. His trial came up before the court this morning and the several pieces of evidence had been lifted by the defendant's son appeared to testify to the fact that their hens had been stolen. Mrs. Frank E.

Jewett, Harold Hornel and Augustus B. Swanson all told the court that they had lost hens from their respective coops. Supt. Welsh repeated the conversation that the boys had had with him relative to their activities in the chicken line and the case was conclusively proven against the defendants when Hyman Snyder took the witness stand. Snyder informed the court, Officers Sheridan and Keefe made a raid on the boarding and lodging-house situated at 4 Spring street last Sunday morning about one o'clock and William Dielan and Josie Stempian were in court this morning to answer to a serious charge as the result of the court found them guilty and ordered them to be committed to the house of correction for six months. They appealed.

It cost Tim O'Hara $10 to take a pint bottle of milk from a doorstep on Elliot street this morning.

Inspector Walsh arrested yesterday for stealing three point brushes from a building in Gosham street, was found guilty and fined $10. Dora A. Hutchinson was fined $5 for drunkenness and there was one first offender who received the customary $2 tax. There was only one release this morning by the probation officer.

Chas. H. Hobson Chosen
Were Appointed

The members of the Progressive committee held a meeting last night in Odd Fellows temple, Middlesex street, and elected a chairman, the choice of which fell upon Charles H. Hobson, who was the unanimous selection of the committee. Funds were collected to defray the expenses incidental to a brisk campaign in this city, and the various ward chairmen made reports which were very interesting. It was announced that Progressive headquarters would be open shortly, and a number of committees were appointed. When Mr. Hobson stood and announced that he would accept the chairmanship of the Progressive city committee, he was given an ovation, and asked for a few remarks, whereupon he spoke in part as follows: Gentlemen: I cannot but appreciate the honor of having been chosen as your chairman, particularly as you know that I did not seek the office, and that I was unaware of your intention until after the meeting at which it occurred. Even now, I feel that in the interest of the progressive party it would be the part of wisdom for me to decline to serve, as in the battle that is to come, it needs a man at the head who can give more time to the work than I shall be able to; but I assure you that my interest in the movement is such that I shall do all in my power to make it a success. We are broad enough to recognize progressive principles wherever they exist, and therefore we can commend the inaugural address of the democratic president, and hope for the consummation of all progressive measures that he may bring before congress. A true republic or a true democracy must not only be ruled by the will of the people, but the people must be given every opportunity to bring into politics the human side of life, and we must all learn to have as our guiding motto "The greatest good to the greatest number." Play the game for all it is worth, but play it fair.

WATCHING MONTENEGRO

German Circles Reticent
on Situation

BERLIN, May 2.—Political circles here are reticent today concerning the Montenegrin situation apparently awaiting developments as to the result of the council of ministers at Vienna. On the stock exchange, however, the activity of business indicated that the opinion prevailed there that the critical point of the situation had been passed. A stormy general rise took place in most securities and none of the uncertainty and depression of the preceding days was shown. Some specialties advanced from five to seven points, Canadian 3 1/2, Russian banks 3, German banks 1, and the general list of securities from two to three.

RESINOL RELIEVED ITCHING AT ONCE

And Cured Skin Humor in a Month

Brooklyn, Nov. 1, 1912.—"At first little red spots were seen on my arms and body, which I noticed were getting larger every day. They itched me so much that I scratched myself until I bled. There were times when I stood up all night and scratched. I was troubled about three weeks, during which time I used Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment. Then, finally, I thought of trying Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment. As soon as I applied Resinol Ointment I felt much relief. After using it a few times, I noticed the sore spots slowly fading away, and in about a month I was cured completely." (Signed) Adolph Schoen, 742 Shipherd avenue.

The soothing, healing balsams in Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap penetrate every (tiny pore of the skin, clearing it of all impurities, driving away eczema, rashes, ringworm, freckles, and other eruptions, and making smooth and blackheads impossible. Prescribed by physicians for eighteen years. For free samples write to Dept. 16-S, Resinol, Baltimore, Md. Practically every druggist sells Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap.

PRESIDENT TO ATTEND

Annual Meeting of Southern Society

WASHINGTON, May 2.—President Wilson is expected to be one of the principal celebrants at the annual meeting of the Southern society here the latter part of this month. The tentative program announced today includes a large number of men of national prominence. Secretary Bryan, it was declared, will speak on "A tribute from the west to the south," while Senators Randall of Louisiana and Williams of Mississippi, together with Rep. Hobson of Alabama also will be among the speakers. President Wilson's native state, Virginia, is to be represented by Thomas Nelson Page, the auditor, who will deliver an address.

Insurance on Morgan Art

NEW YORK, May 2.—Contracts were drawn yesterday insuring the art collection of the late J. P. Morgan for $3,000,000. The premium will be $102,800. All the fire insurance companies authorized to do business in this state have taken their full quota of the insurance and about $4,000,000 has been placed abroad. The portion of the collection in the Metropolitan Museum carries $150,000,000 at a rate of 50 cents per $100, and the books and art objects in the Morgan library are insured for $5,000,000 at a rate of 115 cents per $100.

STREET IMPROVEMENTS

Petitioners Were Given Hearings Last Night

Hearings on petitions for street improvements were held before Commissioner James E. Donnelly last evening. On the petition of John W. Cole, et al., that Wedge street be extended from Highland avenue to Parker street, there appeared in favor, Mr. Cole, Frank E. Field, C. B. Chetwin, Martin Flaherty, Charles G. Martin, J. R. Hardy, W. S. Woodworth and Charles A. Morton. A Mr. Harrison was opposed.

Charles O'Neill petitioned that Anderson street be accepted and graded from Gorham street to the Boston and Maine line. In favor were Mr. O'Neill, Arthur McPherson, Patrick H. Cawley, Thomas Mahan and Daniel O'Neill. Owen J. Coleman appeared in favor of the petition to extend Porter street from High street to Pleasant street. Commissioner Cummings spoke at length in favor, as did Frank McCartin.

John Martel favored the petition that Middlesex park be accepted and that sidewalks of edgestones and cinders be laid on both sides. On the petition of Eazel Greenberg and Samuel Cohen that Leverett street be accepted from Lincoln street to Washington street, and that a sidewalk of edgestones and cinders be laid on the north side, F. J. Van Greenberg appeared. W. S. Watson stated that he did not oppose, but he wished to know if he, owning property on the other side of the street, would have to contribute to the expense. He was told that he would not.

Fred Latendresse spoke in favor of the petition of Francis Latendresse that edgestones be laid in front of his premises at 20 Park street. Thomas Caron appeared in favor of the petition that Phebe avenue be laid out and accepted, and that a sidewalk of edgestones and cinders be laid on both sides from Sarah avenue beyond number 20. Other petitioners who spoke were Arthur Genest, Pierre N. Bernard and John Boisvert.

Hector Dupuis favored the petition that Carolyn street be accepted from Ennelt street to Ferry lane, and also that Boisvert street be accepted from Carolyn street to West Sixth street.

A Pleasant Birthday Party
The home of Miss Anna Haggart on Stickle street was the scene of a pleasant party last night when about fifty of her young friends gathered in honor of her 20th birthday. Games were played and a musical program was furnished.

During the evening Miss Haggart was presented a handsome locket and chain and a Chinese purse, the presentation speech being made by Rev. S. A. Jackson, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian church. Miss Haggart was the recipient of many other beautiful and costly gifts. The party broke up at a late hour, all wishing the hostess many happy returns of the day.

HOISTED TURKISH FLAG

Essad Pasha Forms Government at Tyrana

LONDON, May 2.—A letter received here from Corfu states that Essad Pasha, the defender of Scutari, has formed a government at Tyrana, where he has proclaimed the autonomy of Albania under the suzerainty of Turkey and hoisted the Turkish flag. Tyrana is about 54 miles south of Scutari and within 12 miles of Croia, where the famous Albanian prince, Scanderbe, resisted for so many years in the early part of the 15th century the driving tide of the Muslim invasion of Europe.

Essad Pasha has also written a letter to the metropolitan of Durazzo, stating that the Albanian government recognizes the authority of the orthodox church, to which it will offer its protection.

The letter states that the Albanian government is in no way hostile to Greece, and that it recognizes the northern frontier of Epirus in accordance with the demands of the Greek government.

Have You Catarrh?

Unless Properly Treated With Hyomei This Disease May Become Serious

Catarrhal troubles are far more dangerous than they seem at first thought. If you have catarrh, usually indicated by sniffling, stopped-up head, droppings in throat, and morning choking, there is an irritated state of the mucous membrane which affords an ideal lodgment and culture medium for disease germs, especially those of consumption.

Do not allow the dangerous germs which may be breathed into the throat and lungs to begin their work of destruction. The easiest, simplest, quickest, surest and cheapest way to check catarrh is by the direct method, breathing Hyomei. This wonderful medicated air treatment does not drug and de-range the stomach, but is breathed in through the Hyomei inhaler, directly following and destroying all disease germs that may have been inhaled, and healing and vitalizing the tissues of the throat, nose and lungs so as to render catarrh and all other germ infections no longer possible.

The unusual way in which Hyomei is sold by druggists is the best evidence of confidence in the treatment, and should dispel all doubts as to its curative properties. They are authorized to refund the purchase price to anyone whom Hyomei fails to benefit so you do not risk a cent in testing its healing virtues. A complete outfit costs but $1.00. Extra bottles of liquid if later needed, 50 cents.

Sold by Carter & Sherburne and druggists everywhere.

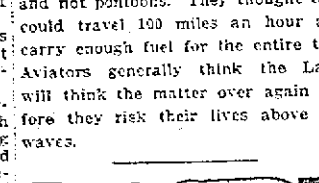

MISS RUTH B. LAW

May Try to Fly Across Atlantic Ocean

NEW YORK, May 2.—Aviation circles were stirred by the announcement that the Laws—Miss Ruth Bancroft Law and her brother, F. Rodman Law—intended trying to fly across the Atlantic ocean. The statement issued from Boston of their intention to compete for the prize of Lord Northcliffe of England quoted Miss Law as stating that they would try the flight in an aeroplane equipped with tin floats and not pontoons. They thought they could travel 100 miles an hour and carry enough fuel for the entire trip. Aviators generally think the Laws will think the matter over again before they risk their lives above the waves.

SAYS VAR-NE-SIS CURED HIS RHEUMATISM HE HAD SINCE CHILDHOOD.

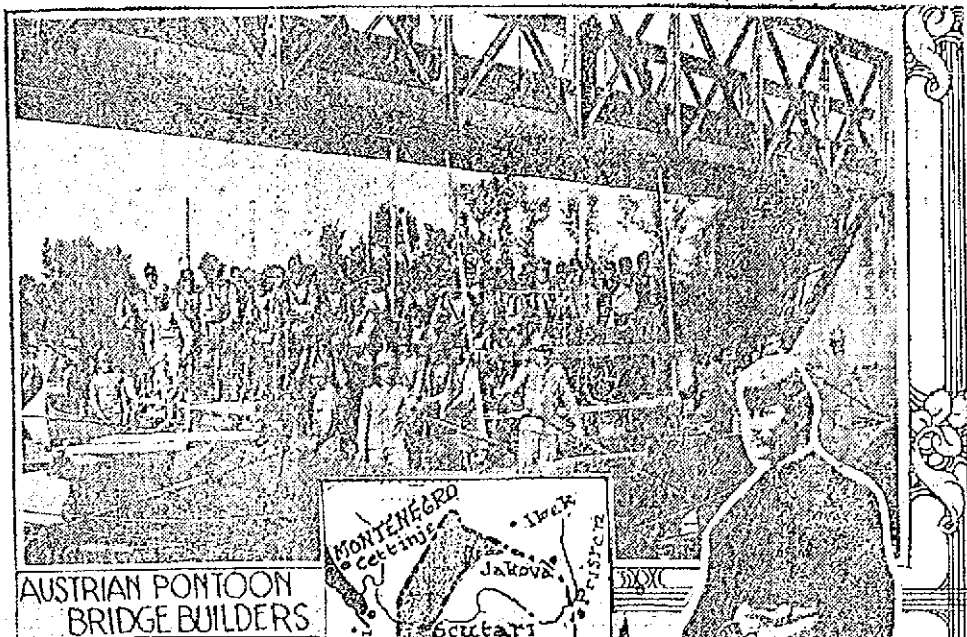

"From the time that I was a boy I suffered on and off from rheumatism—sciatica and muscular, until I took this new remedy, Var-ne-sis." So said Mr. C. G. Anderson of 115 Hastings street, City. "I suffered agonies and it was so severe that I was lame when I attempted to walk. I had previously taken about everything that was recommended and was convinced that nothing would reach my case. I am glad I heard of Var-ne-sis for I had not taken three bottles before I began to see marked improvement, my stomach which gave me considerable trouble improved immediately. I began to sleep better, was rested and ready for work every morning. "I feel that it is my duty to tell others what this remedy has done for me, for I was about discouraged when I started taking Var-ne-sis and today I haven't a pain or ache." Var-ne-sis gets results every time by getting the stomach, liver, kidneys and blood in good condition. Your health is waiting for you in Var-ne-sis, you'll be surprised to see how different you feel after taking this remedy. Get it today at Dows, the druggist.

AUSTRIAN PONTOON
BRIDGE BUILDERS

LONDON, May 2.—All Europe was reported here through diplomatic circles as being much alarmed over the threatened war between Austria-Hungary and Montenegro over Scutari. Austria had taken active measures to put its troops in the field, and the powers looked with uneasiness upon the situation. The accompanying map in the illustration indicates the several frontiers which the Balkan states and the great powers laid down for the new state of Albania, whose future is so gravely imperiled by the Montenegrin capture of Scutari. As drawn by the European powers Albania, whose future is so gravely imperiled by the Montenegrin capture of Scutari. As drawn by the European powers Albania would include a territory a little smaller in area than Belgium and a little larger than the state of New Jersey, with a population of about a million, made up, except for a Greek influx in the south on the coast and hinterland facing Corfu, almost exclusively of Albanians, or Skiptars, as they call themselves. As modified by Greek and Montenegrin claims Albania would have somewhat less than 8,000 square miles and would constitute an almost geometrically regular block about 150 miles long by fifty wide, bounded on the west by the Adriatic, on the east by the main ridge of the Pindus mountains, on the north by the Albanian Alps and the Drin river and on the south by the Dangli mountain ranges. It contains about 150,000 inhabitants. The ethnical portion of Albania has been arranged with regard for Italian wishes, precisely as Austrian claims were recognized in the north. The Italians look forward to an ultimate possession of Valona and then to the command of the strait of Otranto and are therefore anxious to keep the Greek boundary as far away from Valona as possible. Greek resentment of Italian aggression has already led to the declaration of a boycott upon Italian productions in Greece.

POLICE DREW REVOLVERS

Fire on Strikers—Several Wounded

NEW YORK, May 2.—Mounted police, goaded by volleys of stones thrown by 700 striking laborers on the Long Island railroad in the borough of Queens, yesterday drew their revolvers and fired, wounding two men, one of them seriously. Two of the policemen were knocked from their horses by the missiles and badly hurt. The strikers, who were employed on construction work on the railroad, went out yesterday morning for more pay. They refused to disperse and engaged in stoning a number of their fellow laborers who stuck to their jobs.

Better Service to Public With the Consolidation of Motion-Picture Business

As in all other businesses, the wholesale purchaser can give better value in the motion-picture business for the same money, than the retail buyer. If other words, a consolidation of theatres can rent its films cheaper, for production on an entire circuit, than can the individual or local company. The consolidation can even afford to purchase films and when these have been exhibited at all the theatres on the circuit may rent them or sell to others. So it is with other supplies, a greater purchasing power brings lower prices. A central and efficient management is also apt to be more skilled and conversant with the business than the local management, in the selection of films.

You, as a patron of motion pictures (And who is not one?), will naturally go where you get the best value for your money in amusement, the same as you would for the purchase of the necessities of life. You would probably also tell of the value and service you have received in Tom, Dick, and Harry. Thus starts an endless chain of word-of-mouth advertising, the most effective advertising known.

You have probably noted the great business being done now by almost every motion-picture theatre and have heard of the money being made by them. Is there not a great investment opportunity awaiting the owners of a consolidation of going, substantial, and money-making motion-picture theatres under efficient management, to reap the benefit of the increased patronage, coming with better service and word-of-mouth advertising?

This opportunity to share in a going, substantial, and money-making consolidation of motion-picture theatres will shortly be offered.

Court Denies New Trial in Wife's Suit

BOSTON, May 2.—Milton A. Woodbury, connected with a Washington street cafe, will have to pay to Mrs. Elizabeth T. Beals, his former wife, the sum of $1700 with interest and costs of her suit. Judge Hitchcock has denied his motion for a new trial. Mrs. Beals brought suit against her former husband, claiming that while they lived together she provided him with Sunday dinners and also breakfasts at the rate of 50 cents each. Besides a home with food, Mrs. Beals testified that she provided him with money with which to engage in the moving picture business in Somerville. She was rewarded, she says, by sneers from him and intimations that he would be phoned if she left. Woodbury denied owing the money, but declared that it was advanced to him because of the love and affection which she had for him. He said that all the disbursements were not on his side, but that she had, at least on one occasion, greeted his homecoming with an alarm clock which hurtled by him as he entered her presence.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The regular meeting of Elgin lodge, N. E. O. E., was held last evening in Veritas hall, and Deputy Grand Warden Percy Valentine of Stoneham was among the guests. Following the routine session a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments served. A report on the Boston convention was read by Miss Hattie A. Burroughs.

Lowell Council, B. A.

The members of Lowell council, Royal Arcanum, convened on a regular session last night and listened to an interesting account of the grand council session by the representative of the council, Past Regent Jackson. Following the transaction of the routine business, minst was played, and the proceeds will augment the Royal Arcanum hospital fund.

The first prize for ladies was won by

Mrs. Mullin, Mrs. Hutchins received second, while third was awarded to Mrs. Cole. John P. Green, Henry J. Chase and G. H. Desroches won first, second and third for men, respectively.

Lowell Lodge, K. of P.

There was a meeting of the Lowell lodge of the Knights of Pythias last night, and it was attended by a large number of the members. Two applications were received and referred to the committee. A rehearsal of the rank staff was held preparatory to the conferring of the rank of page on a class of candidates for Lowell and Wamsit lodges on Thursday evening, May 8.

Women's Relief Corps

The James A. Garfield Women's Relief Corps held its meeting last evening in Post 120 hall on Merrimack street. Mrs. Letitia Parker presiding. The circle held a sewing bee in the afternoon and served supper. Mrs. Noyes was matron, ably assisted by Mrs. Worden and Mrs. Coburn. One member was proposed for reinstatement. A donation was sent to the Ohio sufferers.

Lowell Nest of Oris

The regular meeting of the Lowell Nest, No. 1255, Order of Oris, was held last night in its quarters, Elks hall. President J. Walter Bowers presiding. He reported to the nest the death of Mrs. Daniel R. H. Bartlett, and requested the members to stand in silence out of respect to the deceased brother. The nest was represented at the funeral by Past President E. W. Fowers and Thomas E. Boucher of the board of auditors.

Encouraging remarks were made by several members of the nest, after which a most delightful program of musical and literary numbers was rendered by several of the younger members of the nest.

Mayor James E. O'Donnell was highly commended by the nest for his action in recommending to the Carnegie Hero Award Fund commission the name of Bro. Jesse Barber, who on May 23, 1912, rescued from the waters of Hale's brook little Walter Beauregard, aged three years. Mr. Barber, in making the rescue, had to climb a high picket fence, in doing which he fractured the bones in his right ankle. He is soon to enter the Massachusetts General hospital where another operation will be performed.

Pensions for Widows

WILMINGTON, May 2.—Pensions for indigent widows is the question being taken up by the local Associated Charities as a result of the interest taken by Mrs. Wilson, wife of the president, in the subject. Powers Urge Haste for Balkan Peace Meet

THE INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL

Several Classes Make Trips to Factories

LONDON, May 2.—No date has yet been fixed for the reassembling of the peace conference at London, but the powers are urging Turkey and the Balkan allies to send their delegates as quickly as possible, in the belief that the conclusion of peace will assist in the settlement of the other problems.

Although the tension arising over the fate of Scutari has been lessened, the danger is not past. It is understood that Montenegro is willing to evacuate that town on condition that territorial compensation be allowed, but Austria heretofore has insisted on unconditional evacuation, and if she still persists in this attitude, a peaceful arrangement will hardly be possible.

The Austrian emperor has summoned an extraordinary council for today, which will include the premiers and war ministers of both Austria and Hungary.

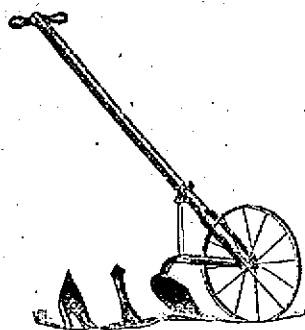

Reports through Vienna say that the Montenegro is preparing Scutari for a siege.

C. Y. M. L. dance, Associate, tonight.

The readiness with which the authorities of the large manufacturing concerns of this city and surrounding localities have co-operated with the instructors at the Lowell Industrial school in forwarding the education of the boys of the various departments along practical and commercial lines as well as in theory has been a great factor in enlivening the interest in class work. Through the kindness of the officials of these large concerns, the boys have made several visits to plants of various descriptions and have had the process of the work demonstrated and explained to them.

Some time ago the members of the woodworkers and carpenters' class were the guests of the management of the Parker box factory in North Chelmsford. On the way out they went into the woods and studied the trees, learning the value of all of the varieties common to this section and were also instructed as to the manner in which they may determine the kind of a tree. This was all in close relation to their work in the school and arriving at the box factory they were shown the methods of treating the

and Rogers, teachers at the school.

Last week the members of the advanced class in electricity, through the kindness of Superintendent Farrington, were taken through the Bay State company's power plant in Middlesex street and there, too, the working of the different parts of the intricate apparatus were explained to them in detail.

In about a week or two, the automobile repairing class is to journey to Boston to pay a visit to the plant of the Lenox Motor Car Co. of that city and this, too, will doubtless prove most interesting and instructive. Each of the classes which has made trips of this kind has numbered between 15 and 25 boys and all evinced great interest in the plants visited and expressed their appreciation of the kindness of the officials.

The pupils of the girls' school are already preparing for graduation and the majority of them are planning and making their own graduation gowns for that occasion. The event will take place about the time of the closing of the other public schools of the city. Principal Fisher of the industrial school is directing the installing of motor driven sewing machines in the girls' department and the greater portion of the work is being accomplished by the boys of the class in electricity. Mr. Fisher stated that everything about the school indicates rapid progress and he is highly pleased with the energetic spirit shown by all who are in any way connected with the institution.

SCORES MAYOR FITZ

G.G.A. Says Cost of Government is Concealed

BOSTON, May 2.—In a statement issued last night by the executive committee of the Good Government Association the city council is urged to appropriate $300,000 within the debt limit for the construction of new streets, instead of passing a loan for this purpose outside of the debt limit.

Mayor Fitzgerald is taken sharply to task in the statement for the present condition of the city finances.

The Good Government Association says that "the real cost of the city government under the present administration has been concealed from the tax payers and the citizens generally," and that within the next two years it will mean either a substantial increase in the tax rate or that the tax limit must either be raised or abolished.

"It would certainly be a sad commentary upon the intelligence and backbone of the present city council if they allow the mayor to cajole them into departing from the financial policy which they have sustained for the past few years, and which they have endorsed by recommending during the current year," says the G. G. A.

It is pointed out in the statement that there is remaining within the debt limit an opportunity for the city to borrow $1,035,450.67, and it is recommended that out of this amount $300,000 be set aside for the construction of new streets. The council is advised to adopt this order at the meeting today and to keep pressing it upon Mayor Fitzgerald from time to time, forcing him to assume the responsibility of denying the necessary expenditure for new streets.

Of the general state of municipal finances, the association says "in the scale of municipal expenditures of the present administration, the mayor is sowing the wind. It is certainly unwise to help him create a greater whirlwind for his successor, whoever he may be, to reap."

I Didn't Know You Sold Clothes Like These For $15.00

That remark set us thinking! How many men in Lowell know, or don't know the kind of clothes we sell at $15?

How can we get them to know our standard in $15 clothes—to make comparison with the $15 clothes of other stores?

We're going after the $15 man this week. We want to get him into our shop—ten minutes is all we want of his time, but will stay with him as long as he'll stay.

We'll show him that the bigger stores have no advantage over us when it comes to value in $15 clothes—we'll show him a higher standard of fabrics and tailoring—smarter models and plenty of styles to select from—Not so many as some big stores, but a choicer assortment than most of them.

Most important, we'll show him $15 clothes that we guarantee not only to wear and hold their color—but to keep their shape until worn out.

If your price limit is $15—and you want the most your money will buy—you'll not waste your time talking to us—we can serve you.

Found Guilty of Assault Upon His Wife

BOSTON, May 2.—Dr. James R. Taylor of Brookline, a prominent nerve specialist of the Back Bay, who was convicted by a jury in the Norfolk criminal court at Dedham of an assault upon his wife, Florence Taylor, at the Brookline, June 4, 1912, was fined yesterday afternoon $25 by Judge King. This is the same amount he was fined in the Brookline municipal court, from which he appealed. He was allowed to go with such a fine, inasmuch as he waived all exceptions taken in the case.

The case was one of the most unusual heard in the Norfolk court for some time and consumed several days in being heard.

Dr. and Mrs. Taylor have been living apart for some time under a mutual agreement, the girl going with the brother and the boy with the father. It was claimed by the defense that Mrs. Taylor had gone to the house of her husband to secure grounds for a divorce, but she denied this, maintaining that she was merely attempting to see her boy and that while so doing was assaulted by her husband, who pushed her off the veranda steps.

Dr. Taylor said that he did not assault his wife, but merely assisted her down the steps, and whatever bruises she had were obtained when she threw herself on the steps.

RESTAGE GETTYSBURG JANITOR TIED TO POST

Handshaking to Take the Place of Bullets

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., May 2.—A plan to restage the Battle of Gettysburg on its 50th anniversary in July—with handshaking taking the place of bullets—was announced last night by Henry M. Howell, who fought with the One Hundred and Twenty-fourth New York Regiment at Gettysburg.

According to Grand Army of the Republic men here, the idea of Mr. Howell, himself a G. A. R. member, is meeting with the approval of many men who took part in the battle.

Mr. Powell is endeavoring to arrange a reunion of the survivors, arrange the "armies" as they were on the eve of battle, and have them advance across the famous field and clasp hands.

Police Investigate Story of Attempted Robbery

BOSTON, May 2.—Walter Watts, the janitor at the Continental Clothing company, corner of Washington and Boylston streets, was found at 7 o'clock yesterday morning in the store with both hands handcuffed to a post and his feet also tied to the same post.

In front of the large safe a short distance away was found a pile of clothing and beside the pile was a small bottle containing medicinal glycerine. The safe was undisturbed and no indications could be found that the safe had been tampered with in any way.

Watts said he had been beaten and overpowered by two men who tied him to the post. The night watchman of the firm stated to the police that when he left the store at 6 o'clock Watts was not tied to the post and that he had seen nobody in the building during the entire night.

LIST HELD WELL

FEW ACTIVE ISSUES BASED OFF AT OPENING

Foreign Political News Dominated Market—Little Opposition in Marking Up Prices—Closed Heavy

NEW YORK, May 2.—Some of the active issues based off at the opening today, following yesterday's sharp advance but most of the list held fairly well. Lough Valley and Can. Pac. which lost a point each were the heaviest. Steel and St. Paul were fractionally stronger. Illinois Central made further gains.

After absorbing a considerable quantity of profit-taking sales created by yesterday's advance in prices the list began to trend slowly and by 11 o'clock most stocks were quoted fractionally above yesterday's close. Southern Railway, American and Rubber were especially strong.

Foreign political news continued to dominate the market. A considerable relief in the market was created by reports of a possible relaxation of tension in Europe and an improvement in the foreign securities market. Urgent selling having ceased and liquidation having been completed in the volatile stocks, bull traders found little opposition in marking up prices.

Weakness of some investment shares has a depressing effect on the speculative issues.

Connecting reports from abroad regarding the political outlook put a stop to active trading and the volume of business dwindled to nominal proportions. Selling was not persevered with after the active features had been liquidated. Yesterday's final figures, but neither did the list show any inclination to go up when pressure was relieved.

The market closed heavy. Traders sold rather freely on the unexpected display of weakness in Pullman and Virginia Chemical, which declined to 100 and 101 respectively. Most of the leaders showed losses of one-half a point or so when the session ended.

Contributions to campaign funds were customary and not illegal.

Such contributions have not been made since 1904 by the New Haven road through Mr. nor so far as I know through anybody else.

"In 1904 I contributed $50,000 to the republican national campaign fund and other sums for the republican campaign in New York, Connecticut and Rhode Island."

"Among these $6500 was transmitted through Mr. Buckland."

"Because I was president of the New Haven company I had been constrained to make these disbursements out of my private funds, which as a private individual I never would have made."

"On the closing up of the sale of these stocks, it appeared that an unexpected profit had been realized and my directors who had been cognizant of my contributions for these purposes thought proper to make me this allowance."

"I never personally received or retained one dollar to my own profit or advantage."

Campaign Contributions

Replying to Commissioner Prouty Mr. Mellon said that none of the money disbursed by the road had been used in an underhanded way. Vice President Buckland of the New Haven volunteered the information that $5000 of the fund described by Mr. Mellon was turned over to the republican state central committee of Rhode Island on Sept. 30, 1904.

"The transaction was fully explained to my directors and approved by them," testified Mr. Mellon.

"The New Haven company has no contingent fund and the sums represented by the notes as temporary vouchers were drawn by me to purchase securities or property for the company and were frequently returned."

Mr. Mellon said that he did not feel at liberty to question Mr. Mellon regarding the billiard transaction, but he was sorry also," said President Mellon.

Mellon Voluntary Witness

Mr. Mellon appeared as a voluntary witness and Commissioner Prouty would not permit him to be sworn to be cross examined by Louis B. Brandeis the witness might later claim immunity in federal proceedings now under way.

The circuit court was crowded almost to suffocation when the railroad president, accompanied by Vice President Buckland and his counsel, Charles F. Choate, Jr., entered.

Mr. Prouty explained the circumstances under which Mr. Mellon's statement was to be received, emphasizing that he would be unable to claim immunity as the result of today's proceedings.

Commissioner Prouty added that the department of justice had advised him that he could not interrogate Mr. Mellon but he suggested that Mr. Brandeis and Robert Hannans, as counsel for the Boston chamber of commerce, be permitted to question him if his explanations were other than personal.

Discontinue From Face Value

If the Billard company should have occasion to realize upon its assets it will have to make a large discount from the face value of these securities which it owns whereas the New England Navigation Co., not being obliged to realize and being able to wait, will undoubtedly realize par. The difference between the two situations of the Billard Co. and the New England Navigation Co. is such as I think that it will appear to any man who has any experience in financial transactions.

"I wish, however, to say this and this is all I can say speaking for the future that when this transaction is all completed it will be found that the protection which is his due after having taken the great risk that he did in the initial transaction he will not have received as net profit any more than his worst enemy would say he was amply entitled to."

"It must be remembered that the disposal of the New England Investment & Security Co. notes to Mr. Billard for Boston & Maine stock seemed important to the company because from the state of opinion in that time it appeared to be desirable to get rid, somehow, of all securities of that nature which had been acquired at a time when the law in Massachusetts was supposed by the company to be in accordance with long practice rather than with an unexpected decision of the Massachusetts supreme court and it must also be remembered that these securities were to be marketed when particularly at that time the right of the New Haven road to guarantee them was somewhat questioned."

Mr. Prouty said he did not feel at liberty to question Mr. Mellon regarding the billiard transaction, but he was sorry also," said President Mellon.

Large Annual Loss

The New Haven's contract with the Pullman company for the maintenance of parlor and sleeping car service, which David Brown, the commission's examining accountant, testified showed a large annual loss to the New Haven was considered by President Mellon who read a list of figures to show that the contract with the Pullman company was beneficial to the New Haven. It relieved the New Haven of a capital expenditure of $4,000,000 for new steel cars and the Pullman company paid the New Haven $3,000,000 for its parlor and sleeping cars. This price, Mr. Mellon said, was more than the New Haven's cars were actually worth as the book value was paid. "This is the best contract any railroad has ever made with the Pullman company," said Mr. Mellon, who added that the contract contained a provision extending its term to both the Boston & Maine and the Maine Central roads at the expiration of the present contracts between those roads and the Pullman company.

Raps Desk With Knuckles

Turning to Commissioner Prouty and rapping the desk with his knuckles to emphasize his point, President Mellon said:

"If I had my way, Mr. Commissioner, I should never let out a contract for a single contract. I believe that a railroad should have all its concessions in its own treasury, including the express business. But what can one railroad do, when all the others adopt a definite policy?"

"The Central New England railroad acquisition was a splendid investment for the New Haven, President Mellon said. He quoted figures to show that the Central New England pays to the New Haven annually $250,000.

The New Haven's ownership of the New York, Westchester & Boston railroad was against Mr. Mellon's judgment, he said, but he yielded to the opinions of associates. At whom he had great confidence. At present the operating confidence for the New Haven, President Mellon said, but he has been assured by June 1st the earnings will equal the expenses and that before long the road will be a paying proposition.

Advised Secrecy

He explained his letter to Oakley Thorne, advising secrecy concerning the New Haven's control of the Westchester road, by saying the road sought rights in certain towns that were hostile to the New Haven company and to prevent complications he thought the New Haven's association with the enterprise should be withheld from the public.

The payment of $375,000 to Oakley Thorne and Maraden J. Perry was next taken up.

This payment was made, he said, by direction of J. P. Morgan, who arbitrated the amount of compensation for Thorne and Perry after the New Haven's official fear of a loss during the 1907 panic terminated their contract with the Millbrook company, which was organized by Thorne and Perry to construct the Westchester road.

President Mellon said he was the only one of the New Haven's directors who voted in favor of the sale of the New Haven's water properties to Charles W. Morse.

PAINTERS STRIKE

Eleven Out of Fifteen Local Master Painters Have Consented to Give Men Half Holiday

Several of the painters who went out on strike yesterday because their employers had not signed the request for Saturday afternoon off are back to work today and probably in another day all will be settled. There are fifteen union shops in Lowell and at present all but four have signed the agreement granting the painters the half holiday without loss of pay.

DO YOU WANT HOT, DRY, BLISTERING, FEET OR DO YOU WANT COOL, SOFT, HEALTHY, FEET?

Stop using foot remedies that draw out the natural oils of the skin, dry up the flesh and leave it looking like the skin of an orange, burnt by the tropical sun. The feet are left hot and dry, they easily tire, they blister quickly, in this form, the bones lose their elasticity and the result in many cases is flat-foot.

FLEX-OIL

Is emollient, it softens, cleanses and heals. It makes the bones pliable, it strengthens and nourishes the tissues so that they are able to stand the strain that is put upon them. It is antiseptic, destroys all odors, makes the feet clean and wholesome, it will not injure the most tender skin.

For cuts, burns, bruises and strains it is invaluable.

MANHATTAN SOCIAL CLUB HELD FARMERS' BALL

CHARLES L. CROWLEY

parade was formed at the club rooms in upper Gorham street at 7.30 o'clock, and at 8 o'clock, John Baxter, director of the rub band announced that everything was in readiness to start. The band of twenty-five pieces, then started off, and following came the members of the club with representatives of the Hustlers, Lincolns and South Ends, all in costumes, peculiar to the farm. In the rear was a real old fashioned hayrack, which conveyed the girls, also attired in rural costumes, over the line of march. All the participants carried red fire, that presented a picturesque spectacle as the long line moved through the streets.

The parade was down Gorham to Central to Prescott, to Merrimack, to Associate hall. The music by the farmers' band was greatly enjoyed, particularly their rendition of "Put on Your Old Gray Bonnet." Upon reaching the hall, all those who were to participate in the grand march adjourned to the E. of C. hall where they were assigned to the respective positions by "Foreman" Thomas P. Spencer. While this was in progress, the band gave a concert program, of country selections, and Babe Rogers favored with several vocal compositions.

The grand march, with some fifty couples in line was started at 8.30 o'clock, and was executed in a very clever manner. Foreman Spencer and his sister, Miss Jennie Spencer, led the procession, and following came President Charles L. Crowley and Miss Katherine Hickey, Vice President Charles Emerson and Mrs. Emerson, Assistant Foreman John P. Ward and Miss Nellie Dabry, Head Hayman John Ready and Mrs. Marie Mahoney, and forty other couples. They went through a series of pretty evolutions, under the capable direction of John Frawley, and to the accompaniment of the rub band.

While the march was in progress, Thomas P. Crowley, Representative Eugene F. Toomey and Dennis Murphy, who constituted the board of judges viewed its many maneuvers and paid particular attention to the varied costumes. At the completion of the number, Jeremiah Titterton was awarded first prize, and received a gold watch. He was attired as the village blacksmith and his selection proved a popular one. There was great difficulty in selecting the best maker among the ladies, but after the latter appeared on the floor for the second time Mrs. Charles Emerson who was dressed as a dairy maid, carrying a large milk can, was awarded the prize. She, too, received a gold watch.

Street Parade With Over 200 in Line Was a Feature

THOMAS P. SPENCER
Floor Director

The prizes were presented by President Crowley and the recipients were applauded and congratulated for their good fortune. The rub band, which was composed of the members of the club orchestra and other members and friends, was then dismissed by Director Baxter and the orchestra members played on the stage, and during the remainder of the evening furnished excellent music for general dancing. During the numbers Babe Rogers rendered the choruses of all the popular pieces played. The merriment continued until midnight, and when the strains of the last waltz had died away the members of the popular and progressive organization were commended on all sides for the success of the affair.

Solid Crust Covered Head. Spread to Face. Face Mass of Sores Cracked and Running. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment Two Months. Well as Ever.

200 Columbus Ave., Suite 2, Boston, Mass.—"When my boy was eight years old he started with scabies on his head. I noticed small patches resembling dandruff appearing in several places over his head, where the hair had also fallen out. It rapidly spread all over the head and in less than three weeks he was completely bald. A solid crust covered the head resembling a cap. This crust had cracks that a wisp of substance oozed from all the time, and when he scratched it would bleed. It rapidly spread to his face and his eyes became inflamed and burned. He suffered severe pain. Then there were days that he lost his sight completely."

"His face by this time was a mass of sores, cracked and running, and badly swollen. He would scratch it in his sleep until it was as raw as a piece of beef and he would bleed with blood. He looked unattractive, and cried most all the time. One of his ears was split at the top and also at the bottom. It was only a matter of a short time before it would have dropped off. I became so alarmed that I tied it up. A neighbor asked me to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. In two months of faithful treatment with Cuticura Soap and Ointment he was as well as ever." (Signed) Mrs. Nellie A. Stith, May 6, 1912. Cuticura Soap 20c. and Cuticura Ointment 50c. are sold everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 22-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston." Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

CAPTAIN VIVIAN LOCKETT

New Head of England's Polo Team

NEW YORK, May 2.—The news that Walter S. Buckmaster had resigned the captaincy of the English challenging polo team because of his injury and that Vivian Lockett of the Eaton Hall team had been chosen as the new captain came as a surprise to the American officials. Buckmaster's absence will materially weaken the British team. H. L. Herbert, chairman of the Polo association, declares that he is the greatest polo player in the world. For several years he has received a higher rating by Hurlingham than any other player in the kingdom and above the American four—Harry Payne Whitney, Larry Waterbury, Monte Waterbury and Devereux Milburn. Lockett is regarded as a good player, but is acknowledged as not ranking with Buckmaster.

DUCHESS OF CONNAUGHT

Had a Fair Night and Her Strength is Maintained but Her Condition Still Causes Alarm

LONDON, May 2.—The physicians in attendance upon the Duchess of Connaught, who was operated on a second time last Tuesday for abdominal trouble, issued the following bulletin this morning:

"The Duchess of Connaught had a fair night and her strength is maintained but the condition of the patient still causes anxiety."

Miss Wilson's Driver Fined
NEW YORK, May 2.—William J. Greenwood, a taxicab chauffeur, was fined $5 yesterday for driving Miss Margaret Wilson, the president's daughter, and her escort up Broadway at a speed of 24 miles an hour. The policeman who appeared against Greenwood said that when he stopped the taxicab yesterday evening Greenwood told him that his passengers were the president's daughter and Boyd Fisher, manager of the Social Centre, and that they were hurrying to a hotel to pick up a Princeton professor who had to catch a train for Princeton. The policeman let the car proceed after summoning the chauffeur to court yesterday. Mr. Fisher was in court and paid Greenwood's fine.

THE POMONA GRANGE MEETING

Past Master Cluff—Other Addresses Delivered

The members of the Pomona grange held their last meeting of the present season in Odd Fellows hall, Centralville, today with a large number present from the granges around the suburbs of Lowell.

The meeting this morning was called to order by the lecturer, Mrs. Margaret A. Sarre. Mr. B. A. Cluff, past master of the Deacon grange, was the principal speaker this morning, and he spoke on "What Does the Farmer Need Most? More Labor, Less Land, or More Education?"

He spoke as follows: "I think education is one of the most essential things for a farmer. To be a 20th century farmer one should understand to a certain degree bookkeeping, chemistry, plumbing, carpenter work, veterinary work, agriculture, and animal husbandry and he should be a natural born mechanic, understand engines, both steam and gasoline, and in addition to that he should be a good citizen."

"The dairy farmer of today should study the breeding and feeding of horses, cattle, swine, sheep and poultry. The animals are the machines with which the farmer must work. They are to the farmer the same as the many machines in a mill are to the manufacturer, only more complicated. A farmer, to run these machines, should love animals, he should be a quiet, conscientious man in the stable and around the cattle and poultry yard. When working around stock he should think enough of them to speak a kind word, teaching them not to fear him."

"A farmer should understand chemistry. What may have worked well with the soil in the past may prove a failure at present. There is a new future. The boy or man in the next generation should be able to understand the chemistry and the physics of the soil. I hope my boys will be capable sometime to go out into the field, take a few samples of the soil and

"There are the other trades which I mentioned that are necessary. A farmer must be able to repair most any small thing on the farm as he cannot afford to send in town for some experienced man to come out and do the little jobs that have to be done. When a man or woman has attained all the knowledge in the different lines I have mentioned he should be a good farmer and a good granger."

"Before doing much business he should study the laws of the commonwealth or with all his education he will land in court and be fined for selling impure milk or selling a pig without a trademark or some other pesky thing."

"Now just a word about co-operation. Next to education I think a farmer needs co-operation. He must have a wife who is willing to help him and share the hard knocks which come and go with us all. She must be one who is willing to sacrifice many engagements to the advantage of the farm."

"I think the farmers should co-operate in buying and selling some of the principal products that they are interested in. While I do not believe in strikes, I do believe in co-operation, for in co-operation there is strength, and you all know that the farmer has every union in existence to compete with. I believe that the time will come when the farmer can make the price on the products he has to sell, but today

"Does the farmer need more labor? The farmer does need more labor every day as the majority of laborers, receiving in return much less compensation. The dairy farmer must be on duty 12 or 14 hours a day, 365 days a year. If a farmer can hire competent men he can place the price of products where they should be, and then be on the level with his associates. If plumbers, masons and carpenters get 40 or 50 cents an hour, why shouldn't farmers get the same? Let the farmer co-operate with his brothers of other professions and the problem of labor will take care of itself."

"Coming to the land question, if a farmer can afford to hire enough men to till all his land there would not be much danger of him owing too much land. However, it is better to have a small lot and keep it well tilled than to have a larger lot and only take care of a part of it."

A bountiful dinner was served in the lower hall by the members of the North Reading grange, headed by the following: Mrs. Bachelder, Mr. Dyer, Mr. Davis and Mr. Perry.

Capt. William P. White, U. S. N., retired, was the principal speaker at the afternoon session, and he gave a most interesting talk on "The Land Question in California, as Affected by the Pending Legislation."

The topic discussed among the grangers at the afternoon session was "How to Manage a Housekeeper." Mrs. Florence Buck of the Wilmington grange spoke on the subject, "How to Do the Work." Mrs. J. A. Ruth on "How to Get the Meals," and Mrs. W. A. Sherburne told "How to Induce the Men to Help."

Considerable interest was shown in all subjects, not only by those who had been assigned to talk, but by all present.

DEATHS

FLETCHER—Kenneth Sherburne Fletcher, the infant son of Ernest M. and Iva M. Fletcher, died yesterday at the home of his parents, Randolph, N. H., aged one year and five months.

CORBETT—Samuel Corbett, a well known young man of this city, and a devout member of St. Peter's parish, died at the Lowell General hospital, after a lingering illness, aged 36 years. Besides his wife, he is survived by one son, John A., his father, one brother and five sisters in England. His body was taken to the home of his brother-in-law, Thomas A. Currenden, 15 Walcott street.

YORKE—Joseph B. Yorke died yesterday at his home, 13 Oakland street, after a short illness, aged 71 years. Mr. Yorke served four years in the Civil war as first sergeant of Co. K, 10th Kansas cavalry. He was a member of the First Trinitarian church and Oberlin lodge, I. O. O. F. Besides his wife, he is survived by one son, George M., of New York city; one sister, Mrs. Amelia A. Sanborn, of Brattleboro, Vt., and one brother, Sylvester Yorke, of Lewiston, Me.

KELLEY—Miss Sarah Kelley, a well known resident of this city and a constant attendant at St. Peter's church, died this morning at her home, 10 Auburn street. Deceased was for several years employed in the Hiram's Carriage company. She leaves to mourn her loss besides her father, Simon Kelly, six sisters, Mrs. Delia Harris, Mrs. Charles Lapham, Mrs. Catherine Lennon, Mrs. Mary Handley, Mrs. James Walsh and Miss Margaret Kelley, also one brother, Patrick Kelley of Omaha. Funeral notice later.

KNAPP—Died at the Lowell General hospital May 2nd, Warren W. Knapp, aged 75 years, 4 months and 11 days. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Jessie M. Knapp, and four children, Mrs. Frank L. Porter and Mrs. George W. Hall, both of Lawrence, Mass., and Edwin L. Knapp of New York City. N. Y., and William E. Savage of this city. Funeral notice later. Undertaker Geo. W. Healey removed the body to his residence, 513 Westford street.

LAVENDER—Pierre Elzeaz Lavender, aged 62 years, 10 months and 3 days, died last night at the Harvard University School of Medicine. The body was removed to his home, 355 Worthen street. Deceased is survived by a wife, four daughters, Mesdames Joseph Mercier and Ernest Lapham of this city, Misses Annie and Quebec and Eva of St. Claire, Que., two sons, Oliver and Nazaire of Canada and a brother, Oliver of New York.

CONLON—Once again within eighteen months the angel of death has entered the home of Mr. John J. Conlon, this time removing his beloved mother, Mrs. Mary A. Conlon, after a comparatively brief illness, which she bore with a true Christian fortitude. Mrs. Conlon was taken down sick about six weeks ago, and for a time it was felt she would recover. Yesterday, however, her illness took a serious change, and she passed away peacefully early last evening at the family home, 101 South Highland street. Deceased was the widow of Cornick Conlon, and was a woman of many noble traits of Christian character, possessing in a high degree, those beautiful qualities of a mind and heart which endeared her to all. For over 50 years she resided in St. Peter's parish, taking a keen interest in its development, always ready to lend assistance in any project that assisted in its progress. Her loss will be deplored by a wide circle of friends, and to her bereaved family sympathy will be extended in his second bereavement in such a brief period. Mrs. Conlon is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Catherine Marshall and Miss Elizabeth O'Brien of this city, as well as several nieces and nephews in Lowell and Duluth, Minn. Funeral notice elsewhere.

The choir, under the direction of Mr. John Kelly sang the Gregorian mass. The offertory, "Miss Frances Tighe sang 'Pie Jesu' and as the body was being borne from the church the choir sang 'O Præputium' Among those who sent floral tributes were yard employees of Standard Oil Co. Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Ryan and Mr. James E. Freeman. The bearers were Jas. Fennell, Michael Desmond, Michael Kelleher, Harry O. Baskin, John J. McCullough and Thomas H. Roy of Hingham. Interment was in St. Patrick's cemetery. Rev. T. Franklin Wood, O. M. I. read the committal prayers. Peter H. Savage in charge.

abundant as ever, which, by the way, has made these parties very popular with members of other parishes throughout the city.

After two hours of continuous playing the "final" bell was sounded and when all the scores had been compiled it was found that Mrs. David Dundon was the winner of the first prize for the ladies with Mrs. J. J. Wholey the winner of "second money." The gentlemen's prizes were taken respectively by William H. Kennedy and Patrick Cogger. The giving of the consolation prizes afforded those present considerable merriment from the fact that those who figured as contenders had in the past been with the topnotchers.

Miss E. Murphy accepted the bouby prize for the ladies and Cornelius F. Cronin took the prize for being the lowest point winner among the men.

At the conclusion of the whist, a delightful concert program was presented, which added considerably to the evening's enjoyment.

Great Reduction Sale

Friday and Saturday the New Idea Millinery store in the Bradley building in Central street, will sell all the latest designs for millinery for this spring season and the coming summer. The backwardness of the spring season, is responsible for the slaughter of the prices on our beautifully trimmed model hats, of the prevailing styles. This is a sale that the women of this city and surrounding towns should not miss. The hats that have been selling for $4 and $5 will be sold for $1.98 to $2.98. This is a big reduction in the prices of these hats and is all the more important because this is the time to wear them. To induce buying on Friday and Saturday we will give a special discount of 30 per cent on all purchases of trimmed or untrimmed hats at our establishment.

SHOE DEPARTMENT—BASEMENT

PARK DEPARTMENT BOARD LOSES TWO MEMBERS

Judge Pickman Retires
From the Board After

HON. JOHN J. PICKMAN

At a meeting of the park commission held last night the question was raised as to how much authority Commissioner Cummings has over the park department and Harvey B. Greene stated that Mr. Cummings did not have anything more to do with the department than did any of the other members of the municipal council except in the way of appropriations. "When the park department wants money it has to get it through Mr. Cummings," he said.

Signs of friction between the park and moth departments cropped out at the meetings. Messrs. Carr and Rountree were very decidedly of the opinion that the inspector of moths should have an office of his own and that the tools should be properly divided, each dept. having separate apartments at the park department stable. John G. Gordon, inspector of moths, and John W. Kernan, park department superintendent, occupy the same office at city hall and Mr. Greene suggested that this arrangement was in a way necessary because of the fact that the park department stenographer is paid by both the park and moth departments and that the moth department has as much right to her services as has the park department.

Judge Pickman's parting message to the board as to the treatment that ought to be accorded the superintendent must have been appreciated by the superintendant who was present as secretary of the board. "My parting message to the board members," said Judge Pickman, "is to do with the superintendent as you would wish to be treated. Do not suppose cheap men are too many men upon him. It will have a hard time to get through without asking for more money. Go to him as seldom as possible and do not insist on having men put to work. My vote did not elect him but I am interested. He will have to save his pennies month by month in order to pull through. He needs your assistance and ought not to be hampered in his work by any unnecessary interference."

Must Close Playground

It was stated at the meeting that unless more money is forthcoming it will be necessary to discontinue the Greenhalge school playground. Judge Pickman said it would be too bad to have to close the playground. "I believe," he said, "that the playgrounds are almost next in importance to the public schools and the Greenhalge school playground is as important as any of the playgrounds in the city. It would be a shame, yes, almost a disgrace, to close that playground to the city."

Mr. Carr said that there would have to be more money forthcoming for the playgrounds and he said if the municipal council didn't "come to time" he would march on city hall with an army of "kids" from all over the city. "I will have them carry red flags if necessary," he said, but one of his brother members reminded him of the fact that the red flag has no legal standing in Massachusetts.

Baseball on Common

Mr. Carr wanted to know about the playing of baseball on the plateau of the South common, just off Highland street. He said that residents of that street objected to a game being played so near their homes. "I was up there for a time the other day and I didn't hear much profanity," said Mr. Carr.

Judge Pickman said there are two sides to the story. During the summer months people who live nearby have their windows open a great deal and it is exceedingly distasteful to them to be forced to hear swearing and worse all of the time. He did not believe that a common was necessarily a place for ceaseless turmoil. Mr. Rountree said that he and Mr.

Greene had gone to the common and at this point found mothers and children apparently enjoying themselves until boys began to bat balls about.

Department Automobile

Judge Pickman said that a committee had been appointed to look into the matter of purchasing an automobile for the department. He had received several bids, he said. Arthur J. Cummings had submitted one to supply a machine for $1320. F. B. Emerson would supply one for $1500, and the Buick company quoted two figures, $1350 and $1500.

Mr. Hall, who had constituted the committee, said he had looked for a machine with a semi-tonneau, but had been informed that they are not being built like that now. He knew where a Studebaker, which had been used for demonstration purposes, could be bought for $1000. Judge Pickman wanted a machine, if any were to be purchased, which would carry tools, equipment, ladders, etc. Mr. Greene felt that a horse might be hired at certain times, but Mr. Hall said that if a horse were hired or purchased it would have to be hitched to a wheelbarrow, or driven alone. "I would not dare to ride in the carriage of the department again," he said, "unless I was tied into it. I nearly fell out of the seat twice today."

Mr. Carr wondered how the park could get an automobile, and Judge Pickman suggested that Mr. Carr donate one. "It would make you very popular," said Mr. Pickman, but Mr. Carr didn't make any rash promises.

Mr. Carr said that the South common needs special policing.

"It's a matter of dollars and cents," said the chairman. "You can never get away from that fact, and if we are not given enough money we cannot do what we ought to."

Mr. Carr said that leathers and bums go to the common and drink and lay about all day. They make it dangerous

Grand Opera Director Released
CHICAGO, May 2.—Cecilia Campantini, musical director of the Chicago grand opera company has been released from his engagement to conduct the orchestra at Covent Garden, London, this summer. It was announced here today. Harold McCormick, president of the opera company, said last night that Campantini would go to Europe to engage artists for next season.

Austria's Foreign Policy
VIENNA, May 2.—At the close of the council of ministers today a note was issued announcing that Count Leopold von Berchtold, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, had made an exhaustive statement on the political situation and that a discussion followed which showed that quite unanimous views prevailed with all the ministers as to the course to be adopted in regard to further action in Austria's foreign policy.

for women and children to go there. Mr. Hall said that there is a policeman on duty at city hall all of the time. He apparently has his hands full in keeping peace.

Mr. Rountree took occasion to say that he had never seen the grounds about city hall looking so well. Mr. Carr said that the appropriation for the city messenger should pay for the work done there, though.

Vote of Thanks

Mr. Carr moved that a rising vote of thanks be extended to Judge Pickman, on the eve of his retirement from the board.

Mr. Hall added that he did not know of any man who had ever accepted a public office who had lived up to his oath so well as had Judge Pickman. The rising vote was then given.

Judge Pickman said that for 10 years he had been associated with Mr. Hall on the board. "The service had been most pleasant, for Mr. Hall had given freely of his time. Both Mr. Hall and Mr. Greene—to refer to the older members of the board—and those who have retired, have always been most sympathetic in their manner. There has never

Same to Mr. Hall

Mr. Carr moved that a rising vote of thanks be tendered to Mr. Hall, and it was so voted.

The chairman spoke of Messrs. Greene and Hall informally. He said that Mr. Greene's assistance in playground work had been invaluable. And, referring to this work, he said that he felt it would grow and would eventually be taken into the educational curriculum. It is wonderfully fascinating work, and it makes better boys and girls.

Mr. Hall said he accepted the goodwill of the members of the board, and stated that he intended to still remain a private citizen, and that any time he was asked for any suggestion as to procedure during his tenure of office, he would gladly tell what he knew. Mr. Hall, referring to Judge Pickman, stated that 111 meetings of the board had been held during the past 10 years, and that the chairman had been absent from only five of these.

In closing, Mr. Greene referred to the likelihood of dispensing with the Greenhalge school playground during the coming summer. Not enough money had been voted by the municipal council, he said, to carry on the work there. This he believed to be most unfortunate and his brother members agreed with him.

Removal of Trees

Besides the approval of bills for the month, the board heard two petitions for the removal of trees. One was from Mr. Geoffrey for the removal of a tree in Willie street, and the other from Stephen Kearney for the removal of eight trees in Gorman, Congress and Center streets. Both petitions were referred to the committee on trees.

LEARN OUR LANGUAGE

The foreign races who come here unable to speak our language should learn to speak it as soon as possible as they can thus open the way to additional opportunities.

Yet strange to say we find among some nationalities a tendency to neglect this duty and to keep to their own regardless of consequences. Whatever may be their object in doing this the result is bad, both for themselves and society.

Undoubtedly it is but natural that they should show a tendency to prefer the social intercourse of their own people, and their wish to advance the business interests of their race is laudable, but they fail to see that the ignorance of our language must stand as a handicap to their progress.

America has been sometimes called the melting pot of the world. Into it have come representatives of all the races of the earth. In the beginning they have met hardship and their way has been strewn with thorns, but their perseverance and their splendid qualities have always won out in the end. Descendants of some of the most despised races are now among the leaders of the land, in politics in the arts, in the sciences. What has happened in the past will happen again. Those who now feel that they are alien and aloof, who look upon those who lead with suspicion and distrust, will live to see their children forge to the front in every phase of endeavor. It is well indeed that they should preserve a regard for the glories of their race, and a reverence for their past, but it is essential for their advancement that they strive to conform themselves to American ideas and ideals. They ought to learn our language, become naturalized citizens, and mix with our people in social and business intercourse.

To bring this about, the people of our cosmopolitan cities ought to be ready and willing to offer them a helping hand. Our forefathers back to the Mayflower were emigrants, and they had the same problems to face which now confront the many groups which preserve their distinct individuality in our large cities.

UNNECESSARY MEDDLING

In a recent address before the Illinois legislature, United States Senator James Hamilton Lewis gave a forcible address in which he pointed out the danger that is liable to come to America from the pernicious system of meddling, at the direction of stock speculators, "into the private and financial affairs of foreign lands."

As a proof of the effect of this meddling already, he quoted the many recent examples of international unrest in which America was involved, directly or indirectly, such as the threatening attitude of Japan towards us, the trouble with England over the Panama canal, the recent unrest in Mexico and Central America. He asserted that Mexico and South America are making "combinations and alliances against the United States as revenge," and he added: "All of these are hiding their time to aid Japan or any Oriental or European country in an assault upon us and in the destruction of the Panama canal."

Much of the address of Senator Lewis has a direct bearing on the often expressed assertion of President Wilson that the government of this country has too long been identified with the moneyed interests, and has served as a mantle to cloak their manipulations. It is undoubtedly that the violent animosity which is felt in Mexico and Latin America towards us is partly deserved, as the name of the United States is blended in these countries with the greed of the wealthy upper classes which keeps the lower elements of society in a turmoil. The warning of Mr. Lewis comes at a time when those who direct the policies of the country seem to have realized the truth of some of his statements.

A DENTAL CLINIC

In opening the dental clinic, which is from now on to be an established fact, Lowell is following a policy which has long been followed in some of the most progressive cities of the country, and one which will have an immediate effect for good on the children of the city, and in a larger sense on their parents. It is very gratifying, too, to find that the local dental clinic is one which will compare favorably with those of more important cities. Its establishment is more than an experiment and it is well that it bears the marks of a permanent institution. Care of the teeth has long been recognized not merely as a duty of refinement but as a necessary factor to good health. Many diseases are indirectly attributed to its neglect and those who attend to it have the immediate result of freedom from those aches which most of us remember to have experienced at some period of our childhood.

Bad teeth are very often the result of early neglect, and for such neglect there will now be little excuse, as the dental clinic of the schools will serve to call to the attention of parents the necessity of attending to this very important duty towards their children.

STUDENTS' TICKETS

The announcement that the railroad operating in this state are to issue, or more properly, re-issue, students' tickets on May 15th, will meet with general approval. Several months ago when on the readjusting of commutation rates, school tickets at reduced rates were abolished, protests were heard on all sides, and there have been several bills before the legislature seeking to restore the privilege. Any such bills which are now pending will be held up until May 15th to see that the new regulations are put in force. Under the proposed arrangement students' tickets will be sold to all school students up to the age of 21 at one-half the regular passenger fare. The return of such tickets will mean a great advantage to this city, as Lowell has always had a large body of students who travel to Boston daily to attend school or college, while a large number from neighboring cities and towns come here to the Normal, the Industrial and Textile schools.

EPOCH MAKING LAWS

It is not often in the history of nations that laws are enacted aiming at such sweeping reforms as those which are intended by the proposed tariff, income tax, and currency reform laws. Whatever the final verdict of the country will be the verdict of history will at least justify the aims and intentions of those responsible for the proposed tariff changes. It is too much to expect, however, that they will be entirely free from error, including as they do the entire structure of American national life. If they fail they will fail honestly; if they succeed and there is not much reason to expect otherwise, they will mark a new epoch in popular government.

MISSING

Of late years the number of those who have been reported to the police as missing from home has grown larger annually, and it is significant that among them are many who have had all the so-called advantages of great wealth and high social station. Some of these, when discovered, give as the reason for their disappearance the almost unbearable emptiness of a merely social existence, and the consequent craving for the excitement of the world of those who struggle. It is the old story of the Judge and Maud Muller with their mutual regrets.

GUATEMALA

Because Guatemala refuses to pay England back her loan the United States finds herself in the position of a collector who is reluctantly obliged to obtain the money for the powerful European creditor, or to accept the other alternative of allowing England to come for her money. Neither position is a pleasant one as on one side we have the possibility of the future guardianship of the little troublesome republics of the south and on the other the Monroe doctrine.

OFFICE HOLDERS

The complacency with which admiring republicans view the most unusual tolerance of President Wilson with regard to the present office holders is very evident, but the real foundation on which this admiration is based is not so apparent. Do they approve of his disregard of old time political precedent because it operates in their favor or because the democratic sweep is not so complete as was expected.

Seen and Heard

At a Princeton tea Woodrow Wilson praised the beauty of Bermuda. "And then there's Tom Moore's house," he said, "the poet's house of white coral where, in idyllic surroundings, you eat an idyllic shore dinner. The shore dinner—priced at $1.00—consists of fish chowder, scallops baked in the shell, broiled lobster, red snapper and the usual sweet and coffee."

"Good as the dinner is, the Bermudians laugh at it; for fish is so plentiful on their coral reefs that a dollar seems to them an exorbitant price for a meal of it, and furthermore, eating fish daily, they can't imagine any one making a treat, a delicacy, of it through four long courses."

"The Bermudians have a stock joke about Tom Moore's house and its shore dinner. They say: 'In passing Tom Moore's house one day we asked for a drink of water, and it tasted of fish.'"

Jerome S. McWade, the Duluth capitalist, was sneering about the new Freimann consumption surtax and the American bankers' $1,000,000 offer to its inventor if it would really cure. "It is a safe offer," said the capitalist. "Whenever I hear of these new serums I am reminded of Dr. Squilla. 'I've invented a new serum, a wonderful new serum,' cried Dr. Squilla to his wife. 'O, good,' said Mrs. Squilla. 'And what will your new serum do, dear?' 'It will cure me,' said Dr. Squilla. 'Why, it will get 12 articles about me in the leading magazine, it will put my photograph and a column story in 1100 newspapers, and it will elevate my prices 1000 per cent.'"

When you find that you are getting in the habit of worrying unnecessarily about your work; that you get cross and irritable over trifles; that you cannot get your mind off your work; that the daily grind is wearing out your nerves, it is time to bring yourself to attention. You have reached the limit of your endurance and are facing a complete nervous breakdown. Don't pride yourself that you can keep up the pace you have set yourself through will power alone. Nervousness cannot be willed away. You must get rid of the cause.

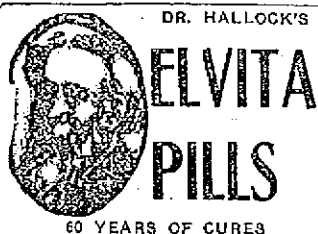

The nerves are nourished and kept in health by good, pure blood. That you are breaking down in your cases may mean that your blood has become impure. You have not noticed it until now because your nerves have been working on their reserve strength. This has been used up and the nerves, having no help from the blood and no reserve strength left, are exhausted. There is only one thing to do and that is to build up your blood.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are a valuable tonic for the blood and nerves. They are most direct help in all nervous troubles. Send for the free booklet, "Dis-eases of the Nervous System." While taking the pills avail yourself of every means to build up your general health.

SPENT $700 ON FEET

People with Sore, Peppering Feet, Read This. Vouched for by Levengood & Strickler, Druggists, of Littleton, Pa. "George and I bought two packages of E20 and in about four weeks came in and said he wanted it advertised, and pay all charges, so the package would now be good for it. He said for 7 years he hadn't stood on his feet. He spent $700 for doctor bills. He only used one package of E20, and can now walk on his feet good. He was all smiles about E20."

A refined ointment for sore, aching, weary feet. 25 cents a jar. At druggists everywhere.

let fade. The rose's blushes; to her mother trade. She saw the wrinkles furrowing her brow. Yet smiling said, "My boy grows stronger now." When pleasure called she turned away and said: "I dare not leave my babies to be fed by stranger's hands; besides they are so small I must be near to answer when they call."

She mothered five! Night after night they sat about her knee. And heard her tell of what some day would be. From her they learned that in the world outside. Are good and vice and selfishness and pride. From her they learned the wrongs they ought to shun. What she told them, what work must still be done. She led them through the labyrinth of youth. And showed them how men and women up to truth.

She mothered five! Her name may be unknown save to the few. But her outside world but little knew. Of her the outside world but little knew. But her outside world but little knew. Of her the outside world but little knew. But her outside world but little knew. Of her the outside world but little knew.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Coal Mining. Brockton Times: With all the federal laws, safety devices and personal precautions, coal mining is still unsafe. The killing of a hundred or more men in a Pennsylvania mine Wednesday is only one of many such incidents in the history of a perilous industry. Probably the most serious danger to the miners as long as mining continues, blighting coal is one of the occupations that cannot escape the danger element.

Fortunately Indeed. Fall River Globe: The expected has happened. William H. Hearst has turned his mod batteries on President Wilson. The war sure to come. No man in his opinion will ever fill the executive office who will be satisfactory or can be trusted to discharge his duty faithfully. He will be. Hearst himself is chosen for the job. And that day, fortunately, will never dawn.

A Difference. Manchester Mirror: A typical American incident occurred a few days ago at the Washington ball grounds when some unconventional fan, noting that President Wilson did not sit in the rest of the crowd at the seventh inning, shouted, "Stand up, Woods." The president laughed and rose, while the crowd cheered.

Now if some cockney Londoner shouted, "Stand up, General," to the king, he would likely find himself provided with a time sufficient to give him ample chance for reflection.

A Time of Wars. Portland Express: Headlines in morning papers: Warfare going on in Mexico. Peace of Europe in the scales. Day of Peace for China. Sunday Suffrage Rioting. No wonder the dream of peace is depicted with scant plumage and the Hague Peace Palace bristles with bayonets.

To the Point. Brockton Enterprise: The health board advises against the store owner who keeps a dirty place. It would seem as though the consumer would also be in a crusade against such places himself. Why buy in a place that is manifestly unclean, where clean and well-kept stores in plenty in the city?

Mitchell's Election. Banker and Tradesman: The sweeping election of a democrat in the thirteenth congressional district may present varying points to the various political parties. To mere outsiders, certainly looks like a clear indication that the voters of this section are not half so bigoted as the republicans are. If reductions as they were thought to be. In fact it looks like a pretty fair endorsement of the tariff bill as a whole.

Montreal or Lowell? Montreal Witness: This street, all swart yesterday and many of the fronts tidied, is this morning decorated with every form of paper scraps and other untidiness that the breeze can spread. How is it possible to secure the co-operation of the residents and of the delivery men in keeping up the like.

Have Color In Your Cheeks—Be Better Looking—Try Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—a bad taste in your mouth—a lax, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study with his patients.

These Olive Tablets all the bowels—yet have no oily taste. They are a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil.

If you want a clear pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days, you must get at the cause. Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after-effects. They start the bile and overcome constipation. That's why millions of boxes are sold annually at 10¢ and 25¢ per box.

Every little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results.

common illness? It is to be feared that, until the notion is implanted in some forceful way that the street is not the place for the unengaged passer-by, that the streets will be a place for cigarette boxes, we shall go on having our surroundings more like those of barbarians than of civilized beings about a change, for it has been done in most Old World cities."

Premature. Newport News: Oscar W. Underwood, the democratic leader in the house of representatives, is gaining popularity by his management of the tariff bill and is already named for president to succeed Woodrow Wilson. In the House Friday Congressman John W. Langley of Kentucky, although criticizing the Underwood bill, predicted that if that measure were successful nothing—not even President Wilson, William J. Bryan, Speaker Clark, Theodore Roosevelt and Robert L. La Follette combined—could keep Mr. Underwood out of the White House four years hence. It is reported that cheers greeted this remark on the democratic side and many republicans joined in the applause. Nevertheless, it is a little early yet to nominate the next president.

Peace. Brockton Times: Secretary Bryan's plans for international peace are generally praised abroad. But other such plans have been praised, too. It was in favor of peace, but well known for a long time ago that the world was in favor of peace. The only remaining necessity is for two or three of the greater nations to come forward with something stronger than doctrines.

Home. Lawrence Eagle: There is something a little pathetic in the statement of 17-year-old Ramona Borden. "People say I am rich, that my parents are rich," she said in explanation of her plight. "I guess that is true, but that does not mean that I can be happy. Daughters of rich people are not always happy. The trouble is I haven't had a home for many, many years. I have been sent from one school to another school, and then another one, but I never had a home. What I have wanted so badly was a home—I have not had it."

Inconsistent. Worcester Call: Gov. Johnson, who is a big Bull Moose and therefore, by requirement a Bull Moose in federal as opposed to state rights, is playing an inconsistent part in strenuously advocating for California a course contrary to the interest of every other state. Consistency is a jewel.

Tariffs. Fall River Globe: We have had tariffs for protection, tariffs for revenue and tariffs for special interests, and now as the Tacoma Tribune remarks, it would seem to be about time to have a tariff for the people.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

Lowell Opera House. Tonight at the Opera House, P. Paul Marcel and his clever company of French artists will be seen in the play comedy, "Bonne de Dames," a play in which P. Paul Marcel is seen to excellent advantage as well as the supporting company. All the former and actual stars of the company will be seen. This is the last of the farwell performance here this season of this company.

KINEMACOLOR PICTURES. The wonderful Kinemacolor process which gives so many thousands of Americans the opportunity to see all the splendor of the coronation of George and the gorgeousness which marked the great Durbar at Delhi when George was crowned as emperor of India, as well as the natural color motion pictures of "The Making of the Panama Canal" and "Actual Scenes of the Balkan War," will be seen at the Opera House for eight days beginning Sunday, May 4.

The taking of such pictures as these represents a very large amount of vested capital and a very large amount of thought. The aim of Kinemacolor was not only to provide an entertainment which would also be a historical document worthy of the great things they preserved to posterity.

By a special arrangement with the United States government it was made possible to secure Rear Admiral Clegg, U. S. N., to direct the taking of Kinemacolor of all the great engineering problem which any race of any time has ever attempted. Two experts in the Kinemacolor camera were assigned to the work, and for many months they were occupied in the taking of the thousands of pictures which make up the Balkan war, Kinemacolor exercised the same care. This is the first of wars to be reported by the moving picture and it has been covered by Kinemacolor from the first mobilization of troops through every step of the campaign.

Frederic E. Sawyer, one of the most famous war correspondents in the world, who has seen every big fight since 1871, was secured to direct operations and the men who were assigned to him. Through a personal acquaintance with King Ferdinand of Bulgaria, Mr. Sawyer enjoyed many advantages enjoyed by no one else, and as a result, the Kinemacolor camera man was present and active in many a place where the war correspondent was forbidden to go.

Merrimack Square Theatre. Like a crisp and refreshing breeze from the hills of New England, bringing with it the sweet aroma of the woods, and the homely music of the farmyard, "Quincy Adams Sawyer" will be the attraction of next week. It will be produced on an elaborate scale, capably handled by a cast, three of which were in the respective roles when the play was first produced and will no doubt be greeted by capacity audiences. The play that has taken Lowell by storm, "Madame X," will be given for today and tomorrow, and patrons wishing to witness it had best secure their seats now. No telephone orders taken. Box office open from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m.

The Casino. With the approach of warm weather Casino dancing will be even more enjoyable than it is at the present time, for in all the country hereabouts there is no place equal to it as an ideal dancing resort. Situated on the top of Kaslo hill, the big dance hall is exposed to all breezes that bring comfort and exhilaration to the dancers. Directly in front is the spacious South common, now known as the Casino lawn, where the Casino band will play every night and on Saturday afternoon at the Casino.

Kelley's Theatre. The children of this city who like to see bright, snappy youngsters in action will enjoy greatly the Metropolitan Minstrels, who are at the Kelley Theatre this week. With Miss Ray Dooler as the special feature of the act, it is a fact that no better children's act has been underlined at the theatre in Lowell since the Metropolitan after the theatre should be crowded with pleased kiddies, who will laugh at the odd antics of the five girls and the two boys and see their fun is spontaneous and always clean. "The Honey Girls" ten in number, with Ben Small and Harry Brown as comedians, will be the leaders in the big show next week. Contracts for this show yet have been forthcoming for some time, but until the first of the week there was no certainty of the pretty singers and dancers would appear. The act is in three scenes, and the scenic effects are remarkable. Seven other acts of note will also be on the bill. Next & Friday, the colored comedians, this present week, have proved top-notch comedians. One unhesitatingly places them as the best negro comedians this city has known in a long time. "The Punch," an odd little sketch, is very well acted by Marietta Craig & Co., and Navarro & Heston Marengo are nowly acrobats of wonderful ability. Klifford & Karleton paint well, marines, Dutch scenes, snow storms, etc., and Laura Buckley is a first rate impersonator of various characters we all have met. The Bradleys, Ned and Una, and Simmons and Heston entertainers, complete the bill. Good seats may be obtained for all performances. Phone 28.

A Splendid Suit Business

Is convincing proof that our styles, qualities and prices are right. Our early purchases have been tremendously in our favor, enabling us to name prices from three to five dollars less on a suit than would otherwise have been possible.

STRICTLY GOOD CLOTHES, MADE BY ROGERS, PEET CO.

Suits that "make good" through the careful attention that has been given to detail. Every fabric is pure wool; every pattern is exclusive; every garment is hand finished; the models are those recognized by the best authorities as "good form." In fit and finish, in inward merit and styling qualities, it is a fact undisputed that Rogers, Peet's clothes are the best in America ready-to-wear. Every day our field for Rogers, Peet's clothing broadens. More men are buying it today than ever before. Twice as many men are wearing it as we sold three years ago.

Our stock of handsome Spring and Summer suits from Rogers, Peet Co. is the broadest we've ever shown—embracing all of the new colors of the season—fine serges and black and blue unfinished worsteds,

in the Evening

Will some student of psychology please rise and tell the ladies and gentlemen why ball players, who, as a class, have more spare time on their hands than any other body of men actually engaged in any sort of occupation, are always in a hurry?

It is a source of never ending wonder to the layman that the athletes should do everything at such break-neck speed that one might think they had only a few minutes longer to live and wanted to improve the time. They hurry their dressing in the morning, take their meals on the "high," walk fast, read fast and undress rapidly when retiring. Not a moment is lost, though nobody ever has been able to discover what becomes of all the time saved by this bustle and confusion.

Coming back from the ball game in a foreign city, for instance, the players will exhort the driver of their bus or taxicab to make all possible speed. Thirty miles an hour they consider the proper rate for a taxi through crowded streets, while with a horse drawn vehicle the steeds must constantly be kept on the gallop.

On arrival at the hotel the players take a rapid bath, dress in four minutes and then are ready for dinner. Fifteen minutes is the time allotted to this meal, and the waiter who prompts it beyond that limit is not likely to get a tip. The major leaguer likes course dinners, but he wants courses to overlap. His soup must be on the table when his oysters are finished, and his fish must be ready when the last mouthful of soup is gone.

Having saved five minutes on the trip from the ball park by forcing some reckless driving, another five minutes by rushing his toilet and at least half an hour by bullying the waiter at dinner, what does the feverish athlete do? Does he attend some theatrical performance, lecture or sermon, no fragment of which he can afford to miss by being late? Does he meet a pretty girl and take her for a walk, or to the show? Not much he does! In seven cases out of every ten he spends the entire evening loafing around the lobby of the hotel, writing letters or perhaps playing a game of two of pool. Any one of these might just as well start at 8.30 o'clock, as at 6.30, but you never could convince a ball player of that fact.

PITCHER HAS AN EDGE

On His Rival Batter,
Says Player

Do batters do much outguessing in these days of splendid pitchers, armed with a host of new fangled curves? Many players believe they do; others think the contrary is true.

Fred Blending of the Cleveland Americans is one of these. Fred doesn't see how a hitter can outguess the pitcher very much when the odds are so decidedly against him.

"Of course," says Fred, "there are some men like Cobb or Lajoie, for instance, that are enabled by some special sort of intuition to do out what the pitcher is going to throw, but even they are wrong sometimes and made to look foolish in consequence. The other batters don't try it at all and only succeed when the pitcher has once in a great while forgotten to hide his ball."

Taken all in all one would think it a mighty hard job to guess a pitcher's next delivery. In the first place, the batter doesn't know who is giving the signals and is stopped right there from trying to outguess the pitcher. Not knowing who is giving the signals, he is naturally unable to see what is going to be thrown.

In the second place, all the best pitchers, and most of the youngsters, even, have just one way of holding the ball, he it for a curve, spitter or fast one. In these cases, too, the ball is thrown the same way, with the same delivery. When all these odds are arrayed against the batsman it can be seen it is no cinch for him to solve the next ball served up to him.

Trying to dope out the various balls pitched has put many hitters in wrong. Sometimes they expect a fast one and are made to look foolish because it was a curve. Again they may wish to step into what they think is going to bend and nearly have their heads knocked off with a fast one. The best way to do seems to be to stand up there, not giving an inch, look them over well, pick out the best ones—speed, curve or spitter—and try to meet it squarely.

It would seem that those who follow this method of procedure are more certain of amassing a fat average than those pursuing other tactics.

Development of Alaska
WASHINGTON, May 2.—As a result of testimony before the senate territories commission today, representatives of the Morgan and Guggenheim interests in Alaska will be asked what they know of alleged threats to retard the development of the territory.

J. E. Ballaine of Seattle before the committee today declared George W. Perkins had told him several years ago that the Morgan interests never would permit the development of Alaskan railroads until coal claims there were obtained under government patent.

Members of the committee were greatly interested in Ballaine's testimony and declared Mr. Perkins and others in the Morgan or Guggenheim companies would be asked to appear.

MAYOR JAS. O'DONNELL

Favors Park Improvement and Extension

Some time ago Mayor O'Donnell made the statement that the park department had not asked for any money for parks during his time as mayor and that he stood ready to vote for a reasonable amount at any time. The mayor believes in the improvement and extension of the park system, and says the city council should vote a certain amount each year for such extension and improvement. In order to set his views fairly before the park commission, the mayor has addressed the following letter to that body:

To the Park Commission:
Gentlemen—Permit me to suggest that your honorable body, at its earliest convenience, submit to the municipal council an estimate of the cost of constructing and improving the park system. In my judgment they are needed on the North and South commons, the two most numerously patronized parks in Lowell. Many of the walks on both commons are practically beyond repair and must be reconstructed. I desire to reiterate that I am and always have been heartily in favor of the extension and improvement of our park system and believe that the city annually should vote an amount of money within its means for such extension and improvement. It is most needed for the comfort and convenience of the greatest number. In my judgment, the two commons require immediate attention, and hence the above request.
Respectfully yours,
James P. O'Donnell,
Mayor of Lowell.

MANAGER MUST BE GAME

In Order to Land a Pen-
nant Winner

"To win ball games," said Joe Tinker, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, "a manager must be a dead game fighter."

"If a bit of yellow shows above his collar button it's all over—his chance has gone a-glimmering. McGraw and Chance are game men, always have been, always will be, and their men will follow them through to flags. Understand, when I say a fighter I don't mean a man who nags and barks at umpires. I mean a leader who isn't afraid of the other team, who isn't afraid of the percentage that may be against him and who isn't afraid of his own men either."

"A game pitcher is a man who can see the big slugger coming up with the bases jammed and say, 'May be this guy is a hitter, but he isn't hot yet, and he isn't going to hit this one.' A game batter is the boy who sees the fast one coming through and grins as he steps forward instead of pulling back, and a game manager is one who doesn't curl up and play dead when they are hitting his pitcher or when his infield is throwing crazy. His men can't seem to bat a half size single. That the McGraw and Chance pattern, and that pattern is the one that wins."

And, Joe might have added, the successful leader is the man who is not only game, but whose players are ready to follow him clear through because they are with him heart and hand. Hank O'Day was a game man. He had shown that in all the years of his umpiring. Henry was a brave man and a man whom not a soul could bluff, but Henry couldn't win his players.

It's all in the fibre and the bone—just a little bit. Just a little flash to tell a thing or two, something that will flash the bright light for half a moment on the makeups of two men. Said they to Hank O'Day one morning: "There's a big statesman coming into town. Mr. O'Day, will you go and help reverend him?" And from the sphinx face of O'Day came slowly forth the sullen words: "Him? Who's he? If he wants to see me let him come to the hotel!"

And just the other day they told Joe Tinker that a noted man was coming to Mobile. "Will you go to the hotel and see him?" "You bet I will," came the smiling answer. "What time does his train get in?"

A good man and a game man, too, was Hank O'Day, but the iron mask of the umpire had clamped its hands on many seasons on his square, hard-chiseled face and held back the speech of human courtesy. Too many reasons Hank O'Day had stood out there in the open casting the grim scowl upon the players, turning them back with sullen glare and sharp, short, stinging words. He couldn't soften, he couldn't win his players if he strove for years.

And now comes Joe Tinker with the ready tact and cheery smile, with the courtesy that moderates the keenest sting, with the diplomatic speech that cheers them on and leads them up and upward. He knows baseball from the practiced years of his experience. So perchance did Hank O'Day, but Tinker knows how to say a thing, and O'Day could never say it without a grating on the ear and a rasping on the soul.

ALL IN THE NAME.

Guest—By the way, what kind of a sandwich is this? I enjoy it, but I can't figure out what it is made of. Hostess—That is what we call a magazine poem sandwich. You like it, but you don't understand it.

PORTLAND TAKES TWO IN A ROW

Duffy's Team Won From Lowell
in One-Sided Game by the
Score of 12 to 4

Yesterday at Spaulding park the Lowell baseball team once more lined up against the boys from Portland with the determination to make up for the humiliation which they received at the hands of the Maine delegation in the opening game of the league season here yesterday. The attendance at the game was very near to the 100 mark, it being an ideal day for the national sport. Harrison appeared on the mound for Lowell and Monahan behind the catcher while the visitors Sullivan was in the box and the catcher was Hayden. The remainder of the lineup was unchanged.

Promptly at three o'clock, Umpire O'Brien called the home team to their positions for the start of the game.

First Inning

The first inning netted the Portland warriors five runs. Merrill opened the game with a three bagger to deep left and Bowcock followed with a single to center field, bringing home Merrill. Jacobson hit safely to right field and Hickman who grounded to Barron was safe on the latter's error. The Lowell pitcher juggling the ball. Then Rose hit to Smoyer who threw to the plate, nailing Bowcock and Rose was safe on the fielder's choice. Yelle drove a safe to left field and Jacobson trotted home. Hickman scored when Gangel sent up a long sacrifice fly to Clemens. Hayden then hit to left and Rose and Yelle crossed the plate to add one more to the Portland tally. Sullivan was thrown out by Barron to Halstein, retiring the side.

Clemens, the first Lowell batter was passed and he scored when Magee slammed out a three-bagger over Rose's head. De Groff got in three healthy swings without connecting and Magee scored on a sacrifice, hit by Halstein to Gangel. The latter making the put out unassisted. Starr came in for a free ticket to the first station and De Groff hit safely to the left garden. Smoyer ended the inning by hitting out in Jacobson.

Score: Portland 5, Lowell 2.

Second Inning

Merrill fled out to Magee and Bowcock died on a grounder which De Groff fielded to Halstein. Jacobson fanned.

Monahan hit an easy one to the pitcher which the latter threw to first for a put out. Barron received a pass but was forced out. Bowcock to Hickman when Clemens drove one to the second baseman. Magee out, Sullivan to Gangel.

Score: Portland 5, Lowell 2.

Third Inning

Hickman was safe when Starr muffed the fly in short right field and Rose was safe on Smoyer's field having time of a half. Halstein pulled down a high one of Barron's and with a pretty throw, caught Hickman off the second base. Yelle fled out to Magee on the foul line and Gangel hit to center field just out of reach of Clemens who made a noble try for Rose. Rose tried to come home on the play but was nailed at the plate by snappy fielding. Clemens to Smoyer to Monahan.

De Groff got a base on balls. Halstein hit a fast grounder to Gangel and the ball bounced from the latter's glove. The second baseman ran to cover first but Gangel made a nice throw and the ball rolled twenty feet from the sack. De Groff went to third and Halstein to second on the play. Starr received an easy one to Hickman and De Groff scored when De went out. Sullivan to Gangel. Smoyer struck out.

Score: Portland 5, Lowell 2.

GOV. FELKER VETOES BILL

To Appropriates Million Dollars for Railroads

CONCORD, N. H., May 2.—Gov. Felker today sent to the house of representatives his veto of the bill passed last week appropriating one million dollars for three trunk line state highways across the state from Walpole to Portsmouth, Claremont to Dover, and Lebanon to Ossipee. The governor says: "While I am in favor of good roads I also firmly believe the people demand a decrease in the state's expenditures and it is also my opinion that the people were not given an opportunity to be heard on this large expenditure prior to its passage."

Belvidere Won
At Sullivan's field yesterday an exciting game was played between the Phillips and the Belvidere A. C. The features of the game were the fielding and the pitching of Paul Sullivan and Hugh Downey of the Belvidere team. The Belvidere won by a score of 7 to 4.

PHILADELPHIA'S D. TRIO—DOLAN TO DOOLAN TO DOOLIN; SAY IT QUICK

PHILADELPHIA, May 2.—For many seasons the phrase "Tinker to Evers to Chance" appeared almost daily in connection with a story of a Chicago game. Much was written about it, and it became a baseball classic. But now, that the once great three have been parted there is another trio which promises to help make history, though in another light. It is the Philadelphia trio Dolan, Doolan and Doolin. When the writers or fans refer to this trio they generally experience a slight impediment in speech. Several times this season out of town telegraphic reports about the Phillies have been misleading to the ardent followers of our national game. Recently a story about a Philadelphia Brooklyn game was confusing to fans. It appears in the story that Mike Doolan was nearly the whole show. Here's how part of it read: "Doolan caught Stengel trying to pilfer second. Doolan gobbled Wheat's fly to right. A pretty stop by Doolan of Cuthaw's hot liner retired the side. In another part it read: Doolan singled, but was caught in an attempt to grab second. Magee fanned. Lunders fled to Wheat. Doolan got four wide ones and went to third on Doolan's single." The mistake was due to the unfamiliarity of the operator at the other end with the sport. He got Dolan mixed up with Doolan and the latter with Doolin. Dolan is the right fielder, Doolan the captain and shortstop and Doolin catcher and manager of the team. When the trio figures in a double play it is better to write the names of the men on a slip of paper and hand it to your friend than to repeat it in a line of talk.

BOWLERS AT FESTIVE BOARD

Members of Saco-Lowell Bowling League Enjoyed Banquet—
Prizes Were Awarded

The Richardson hotel was last night the scene of much merriment, the occasion being the closing of the Saco-Lowell shops bowling league season. The affair consisted of a banquet followed by speeches and the presentation of the prizes to the winners, which were donated by Superintendent Albert W. Thompson of the Lowell plant. The affair was attended by some 50 men, and all spent a very pleasant evening. A delightful entertainment program was carried out, and a report of the doings of the league since it was organized last December was read by Secretary Kimball.

The guests gathered at the hotel shortly before 8 o'clock, and a brief reception was held. Of course the meeting was not one of the same kind as is generally in bowling alleys, but nevertheless there was considerable enjoyment, and the winners of the various prizes were warmly congratulated, while those fortunate were the object of considerable teasing.

At 8 o'clock all repaired to the banquet room, where a dainty dinner was discussed. The menu was excellent and proved one of the numbers of the evening. At the close of the repast Arthur E. Silcox, toastmaster, stepped to order. He introduced Albert N. Morton, who in the absence of Superintendent Thompson, who could not attend on account of pressing engagements, in brief remarks complimented the winners of the various prizes, especially the Foundry team, Capt. Joseph Proulx, who won the fine silver cup. This cup was given by Mr. Thompson with the understanding that the winner keep it until won by another team, or until one team wins it three consecutive years. The individual winners of prizes were also congratulated for their fine work on the alleys, and the members of the league were urged to encourage this next sport.

His remarks were followed by Irving D. Kimball, secretary and treasurer of the league, who gave interesting figures and statistics, reviewing the work of the various teams and individuals. He also paid a compliment to the winners. Others who spoke were Joseph Marshall, Emory Soule, Harry Blanchard, Edward O'Neill, George Clark, Ashley Welcome, Frank Sterling, Matthew Bradford, and Percy A. McKittrick. The latter outlined some of the points in the new efficiency system introduced in the shop, and answered several questions relative thereto, to the satisfaction of his listeners.

Singing was then in order and the happy gathering broke up at a seasonable hour, wishing to meet again at the same time next year. Before the guests parted, however, Mr. J. Edward O'Neill read a very interesting poem on the Saco-Lowell shops league, and from which the following stanza was taken:

"Of course we all know that the Foundry was high.
In a hundred more games I think Kimball would be high.
But then the poor Shippers where would they come in?
Some say with the rest of the coal in the bin.
Now the Office can boast about pencils to push.
But that's not all for they're hid in the bush."

Individual average: First, George Clark, $5; second, George F. Grant, $3; third, John R. Sharpe, $3; fourth, Felix D. Langevin, $2.
Three strings: First, William N. Bibeault, $3; second, John J. Conley, $2; third, Harry L. Woodman, $1.
High single: First, Edward J. O'Neill, Jr., $2; second, Joseph A. McNulty, $1.

Office—Pilkington, captain; Baker, Farrell, Hammond and Morton.
Braden—Silcox, captain; Judd, Goodchild, Dana, Woodman, Barles and McKittrick.
Shippers—Welcome, captain; Boardman, O'Neill, Bibeault, McNabb and Wilson.
Shop—Blanchard, captain; Grant, Sharpe, Soule, Sterling, Strong and Weston.
Foundry—Proulx, captain; Langevin, Conley, Boyd, Cronin, McNulty and Kelley.

Yelle and Hickman both showed better in the field yesterday than they did in the opening game, but Bowcock is the best man in the Portland infield. He can field on either side with equal ease and is the dream man on ground balls that Duffy has got.

If DeGroff continues to run bases the way he did yesterday on his two bagger to the left field fence his hitting will be of much use to Lowell this season. The hit was good for three bases under the ordinary conditions but Merrill was playing DeGroff as he knows him of old. This same Merrill is some ball player as has been demonstrated by his work of the past two days.

Manager Gray today sold Outfielder Joe Burns to Manager Duffy of the Portland team. Burns is a fast man and in all probability will replace Rose of "homebase" fame in centre field. Rose is the man who last year attempted to steal second with the base occupied. He played first base on the Fall River outfit. Burns joined Duffy's team in Lawrence today.

club, which was transferred from Haverhill. Terry is going to play first and direct the team from that position. He left Lynn for the opening game with New Bedford at Fall River, and looked rather lousy as he put on much flesh during the past winter. For the past three weeks he and Bert Weeden have been taking daily practice at Ocean park. Many thought that Terry was simply getting into shape in the hope of landing a job but he was secretly getting in form so as to be ready to start with the Fall River club. He will not make his first appearance in Lynn until May 22, when that club comes here for the first time this season. McGovern's past career is well known to the fans. Fred Lake made him show class with Lowell some years ago, so Terry went to the Red Sox. Later he went to Brockton, where he arose from player to captain, then to playing manager. He came here as captain and last year was playing manager.

CONTEST FLETCHER WILL
Claimants Enter Appearance at Court

Appearance for 41 claimants who intend to contest the will of John William Fletcher, the politician who committed suicide on April 22 by taking poison as he was about to be placed under arrest by police inspectors at his establishment in the Hotel Felham, was filed in the Middlesex probate court yesterday by Leveroni & Ballen, attorneys. A hearing on the will has been assigned for May 6.

"We have received information from parties in Providence and New York which indicates to us that the will should not be allowed," said Atty. Leveroni, "but as yet it has not been sufficiently examined to enable us to discuss it."

The person claiming to be heirs of Fletcher whose names appear on the document are Mrs. M. E. Sawyer, address not given; Fred Fletcher Mason, Alexander Mason, Mrs. Battle Umberlin, Mrs. Nellie Klippel, Ira Mason, Jr., and Alphonse Mason, all of Bath, Me.; Edward W. Mason, no residence stated; Charles Mason of New York; Mrs. Dora Starr, no residence stated; and Edward Fletcher, no residence stated. Four other claimants who enter the case, Mr. Leveroni said, those whose names appear claim to be co-heirs of Fletcher. Of the other four, one says that he is a nephew.

OUR COAL EXPORTS

From United States Amounted to $30,000,000 in 1912, One-third More Than in 1909

Coal exports from the United States in the current fiscal year will approximate 50 million dollars value against 60 million in 1909. These figures include the coal and coke exported to foreign countries and the coal supplied to vessels engaged in the foreign trade. Figures for the nine months ended with March, just compiled by the statistical division of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, department of commerce, show anthracite coal exported to foreign countries, 3,353,126 tons, valued at $18,631,023; bituminous coal, 11,013,569 tons, valued at $27,908,398; coke, 449,541 tons, valued at $2,354,439; and the coal exported to vessels in the foreign trade, 5,770,441 tons, valued at $17,362,160, making a total for the nine months of 20 million tons, valued at 65 million dollars, and suggesting that the figures for the full fiscal year will approximate 90 million dollars worth of coal and coke passing out of the United States, against 60 million in 1909.

Canada is by far the largest purchaser of the coal exported from the United States; practically all of the anthracite coal passing out of the country goes to Canada, while over 20 million dollars' worth of the 27 million dollars' value of bituminous coal exported during the current fiscal year also went to Canada. Cuba, other West Indies, Panama, and Mexico are, in the order named, the next largest takers of bituminous coal.

The United States stands third in the list of coal exporting nations, though clearly at the head of the list of the world's coal producers. The coal production of the world now averages about 1,200 million long tons per annum, of which the United States produces about 35%; the United Kingdom, 21%; Germany, 20%; Austria-Hungary, 16%; and France, 3%. The amount of coal exported by the various coal producing countries is about 110 million tons per annum, valued at approximately 500 million dollars, and of this 90 million tons is exported from the United Kingdom; 49 million from Germany; 27 million from the United States; 5 million from Japan; and 3 million from Australia. These figures include the bunker coal supplied to vessels engaged in foreign trade.

The quantity of coal consumed by vessels engaged in international commerce is about 55 million tons per annum, valued at approximately 150 million dollars. About three-fourths of this is British coal, 29 million tons taken on board at ports of the United Kingdom and approximately 25 million tons at coaling stations in other parts of the world; 7 1/2 million tons taken from the United States; 3 million from Japan; and 1 1/2 million from Australia. It is to this 150 million dollars' worth of coal consumed by vessels engaged in international commerce were added that utilized by vessels engaged in coast-wise trade and by the consumption of the war vessels of the world, the total value of the coal consumed on the ocean would approximate 250 million dollars per annum, of which the United States now supplies but about 12%.

The number of persons engaged in the coal mining industries of the world is about 3 million, of which number about 1 million are employed in the United Kingdom; three-fourths of a million in the United States; and over one-half million in Germany. The average output of coal per person employed in the United States is a little over 800 tons; in the United Kingdom 280 tons; Germany, 240 tons; France, 185 tons; and Belgium, 161 tons per person.

Expense of Abolition is Finally Apportioned

By an agreement of all parties in the case, Judge Morton in equity motion session of the superior court yesterday allowed the third report of Arthur W. De Gosh, auditor in the petition of the city of Lowell, for an abolition of the grade crossings at School, Walker, Plain and Lincoln streets, in that city. The case has been in the courts since 1907, and by the agreement yesterday it was that the Boston & Maine railroad as a lessee of the old Nashua, Lowell railroad, in carrying out the terms of the decree in the case and for the compensation of the auditor, has expended $17,339.61.

When the presentation of a certified copy of the decree to the auditor of the commonwealth, the commonwealth should pay back to the Boston & Maine railroad $15,745.84, which is 35 per cent of the total amount, and $4,753.56 or 10 per cent of the whole amount the city of Lowell shall repay to the commonwealth.

The original petition was brought in last November and the board of aldermen of Lowell to have the grade crossing at Walker, School, Lincoln and Plain streets abolished.

WHIST CONTEST

Branch St. Louis, A. C. F. and Centralville Social Club met last night in Card Game.

The regular meeting of Branch St. Louis, A. C. F. was held last night in the rooms of the Centralville Social club in Lakeview avenue. President Alphonse Dalpand occupied the chair and considerable business was transacted. Two new members were initiated and four applications for membership were received.

At the close of the business meeting a whist contest was held between teams composed of members of the branch and of the Centralville Social club. The prizes, which were valuable, were awarded the following: Donald Paquette, Ferdinand Lussier, Napoleon Malo, A. Paquette, A. Champagne, D. Emond, Messrs. A. Lahaine and J. Aubclair received the trophies. Piano and vocal selections were rendered, those taking part in the program being: Ferdinand Lussier, D.

Be Sure Your Kidneys Are Working Rightly

If you have the backache frequently, if you have twinges of pain that hint at rheumatism or neuritis, you may know that your kidneys are not getting rid of the uric acid as Nature intended. Weakened kidneys need just the help that gives them because Gyarcol drives out uric acid poison and when your system is free from uric acid poison, your backache and your stiff, lame joints have disappeared. Get a fifty cent bottle from your druggist and prove for yourself how quickly your backache can be relieved.

Cleveland's SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER

It is a fact that Teachers of Cookery use and recommend Cleveland's Baking Powder.

This is not an accident.

These experts in their work must have the best; and when they choose Cleveland's it means that by experience and test they have found it the purest, strongest and most satisfactory made.

The housewife will find the method of these Teachers a safe guide to good, wholesome home baking.

ONE SUSPECT DETAINED

BOSTON, May 2.—After an all-day search in quest of the highwayman who attacked and robbed Miss Margaret Leedham, of 5 Fellows East, in the exclusive West End section of Malden late Wednesday night, only one suspect was rounded up.

A youth who tallies with the description given by Miss Leedham to the police, was pulled out of bed at an early hour yesterday morning and taken to the police station where Miss Leedham was called to identify him. She failed to identify the suspect.

The description of the robber, according to Miss Leedham, was of a man 28 years old, 5 feet 7 inches high, stockily built, but rather tall and smooth shaven.

DUTIES ON CITRUS FRUITS

Fight Over Reduction is Feature of Debate

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The fight over the proposed reduction in duties on citrus fruits opened today's debate on the tariff bill in the house. Despite the pressing of the bill as rapidly as possible by the democratic leaders, the agricultural schedule, perhaps the vehicle of the last vigorous opposition by the minority had not been finished at last night's session. The schedules relating to wine, spirits and beverages and cotton, wool, silks, paper and sundries were on in sight early today as likely to be acted upon before the close of tonight's session, except in the contingency of an unexpected protracted struggle against free raw wool. The California delegation in the house opposes the proposed cutting of the rates on fruits. The main opposition is to the provision that lemons in packages exceeding five cubic feet or in bulk shall be taxed one-half of one cent a pound. This is a cut of 50 per cent in the present tariff.

N. Y. Police Inspectors' Trial Continues

NEW YORK, May 2.—District Attorney Whitman expected to finish the presentation of evidence in the trial of former Police Inspectors Sweeney, Thompson, Murtha and Hussey, charged with conspiracy to obstruct justice with the examination of Jacob Rouse, a lawyer who did not finish his testimony yesterday and Edward J. Newell, also a lawyer, both involved in the transactions by which the four inspectors are alleged to have bribed two graft witnesses not to testify against them, the state expected to rest its case.

What the defense will be has not been made known but it was hinted today that the attorneys for the defendants will seek first to prove alibis and then to prove that George A. Sipp, the disorderly housekeeper and the chief witness in the graft revelations which involved the inspectors was impelled to testify in revenge for having his place raided.

WOMAN MURDERS BOY BIG SUFFRAGETTE PARADE

Says She Tried to Kill His Father

CHICAGO, May 2.—Clarence Murphy, 22 years of age, son of a saloon keeper at Gary, Ind., was shot and instantly killed early yesterday in his father's place of business when he attempted to eject Mrs. Grace Smith, 35 years old.

Mrs. Smith fled in an automobile to the home of a sister in Chicago, where later she was arrested.

Arthur Grayson 37 years of age, was with the woman when she was taken into custody. They were taken back to Gary to be held until the inquest has been concluded.

Pageant Planned for Tomorrow

NEW YORK, May 2.—With parade, pageant and appeal from the public platform, the women of New York city who believe in woman suffrage will hold a demonstration tonight and tomorrow in favor of their cause. Theodore Roosevelt and Dr. Anna Howard Shaw will deliver addresses tonight at the pageant depicting "Women's Dream of Freedom" to be given at the Metropolitan opera house.

Tomorrow afternoon what is expected to be the greatest woman suffrage parade ever held—thirty thousand strong—will move up Fifth avenue. When it is over men and women orators
